ACCIDENTS IN COLORADO MINES.

An Imperial Glance.—A Mysterious Cabin in Nevada.—Judgment Against Alliance County, Idaho.

Out of 157 pleas submitted for Washington's seal there ought to be one that would commend itself to a majority of the people of New York. The contract will cost $1,000.00.

The Ute Indian Commission consisting of Indian Inspector McLaughlin, Governor Wells and Senator Dubois, left Denver for Grand Junction and Ouray City.

Lai Yung, a Chinese girl of 15 years, escaped from a Victoria (B. C.) brothel by way of the roof. She was followed by a Chinaman, who had lost a small amount of money in the house and wished to avenge the theft.

Santa Fe, N. M., schools are becoming languages in luxury. At the present time algebra is studied, and physiology, owing to the recent amendment to the Web, promises to be very up.

In May 1st 500 men will be at work on the extension of the Burlington road from Hastings to Billings. Then contracts will have 110 miles in grade and 150 miles in iron across the State of Montana. Much of the grading is through the Clark reservation which begins with the south line of Madison.

The Denver Republican says that fully 5,000 men will this spring go to mines in and the region of the Leadville district and Upper Salt river to the Salt River valley for mineral. By overland and by railroad the miners will be on hand in large droves to locate claims and to assist in developing.

The North Platte river, says a Wyoming exchange, seems to be calming its waves at the first breath. For the past week the pike and sucker fishers got no nibbles in the river and the conclusion has to go out and Wallace have a fine time seining a few days. The pike and suckers evidently know they were minors and gave them accordingly.

A party of residents of Lovelock, Nev., are preparing to explore a cave on the eastern shore of Humboldt lake, says the Lovelock Miner. Many years ago the Indians, who then lived on the lake shore, fled to the cave for safety from their enemies, and it is said they took their women and children with them. Lovelock is one of the principal resorts of the Lake Indians and probably the majority of whom are under arrest on numerous charges of robbery and outrage. He is accused of having murdered in the foothills a white man named Mike two years ago.

William Dillon was instantly killed at the Ida Red mine, Cripple Creek, Colo., on Friday. After blasting off eight shots in the shaft he gave the signal to be hoisted to the surface. When within a few feet of the top, one of the shots went off, and in attempting to jump from the bucket and catch the top casting, he missed his hold and fell a distance of sixty feet. The body was badly mangled.

This is what the Denver News says: Colorado will stand in solemn awe at the first appearance of spring grass. The determination of these flinty sinners to partake their sheep in common is unbounded. They even suspend hostilities against Mexico and Europe as if they confidence to do with the affairs of the people as exemplified by the executive. Let those sheep be prepared against you.

Judgment has been rendered in the court against Alliance county, Idaho, for $18,000.00. This, says the Statesman, represents the principal and interest on the Alliance county funding bonds. Alliance refused to meet the interest after the county was divided, claiming the new counties should pay their portion of the interest claims. The case will undoubtedly be appealed, and, if the judgment is affirmed, Alliance will be forced to meet the obligations alone.

The Utes have a tradition that in the fifth year, when their numbers first reduced to one hundred, a race of giants would appear in their original land region. The Utes claim they have been seen and that they were monsters, but after a long fight succeeded in the race. The Utes have four fingers at the extremities of the feet, and measure the circumference with stones, and the tribe heard to the cave are the ancestors of the giants, and the weapons used by them in battle.

William Castle and Orville Shank, two men working in the Gold King, at Cripple Creek, Colo., were badly injured by the explosion of a blast which they placed Friday night. The two men were sitting upon the small car house and had placed the powder in the cast iron box. When it went off Castle was killed outright, while the face and head of Shank were badly burned. Shank sustained serious injuries in the lower part of his body. The car house was completely torn down and a carload of ore was scattered in every direction.

About thirteen miles from Cedar, on the Hereford, is a stake and ingenious device as one. The post high, carries a fluttering cotton the night and over which is to see no sign and in no way affects the sly fellow's cows. Here are three ore formation cracks and fissures, where the mountain is covered and how it was discovered is curious. The strangest part of this plateau chat is one to secure in the mountains, and particularly vast in fact, is grass. Cedar point is a perfect mine of grass-valley, as the term. Deer are here in numbers and present a curious spectacle. There is field for much investing and study for wonder and admiration as we stand and view the vast plateau and its surface of grass-covered.
