

THE THIRD WEEK IN APRIL IS NOT DEEMED AS A CONSPICUOUSLY LONELY PERIOD IN THE HISTORY OF THEATRE.

The third week in April is not deemed as a conspicuously lonely period in the history of the theatre. It is indeed an auspicious anniversary in the revival of the Young Mr. Wright playing the comedy of the day. He goes on year after year producing plays that once more breathe a thought upon after some time, playing to mediocre houses, often to very bad houses, yet playing his full seasons out and knowing up with salaries as regular and prompt as the highest class organizations in the land.

As for Mr. Perkins, he suffers criticism. He will probably make no money in Salt Lake, but that should have been something of a remark to this critic of culture and discernment. Mr. Perkins' season was practically ended before he started, and it is rather a pity that it should have been so. One does not think back on the past prosperous season at the Grand with pleasure, and the retrospect is but a little cheered by the introduction of this handsome girl.

The play at the Theatre last night was the Father's sin, and though it is regarded and withly regarded as a play, it is not a play. It is rather a play that it should have been so. One does not think back on the past prosperous season at the Grand with pleasure, and the retrospect is but a little cheered by the introduction of this handsome girl.

HON. FERNANDO LITTLE'S OLD HOME.

The handsome owner on First South street, now occupied by the Grand Hotel, was for years the home of Hon. Fernando Little and his family, which preceded the hotel building, is shown in the accompanying cut. In the photograph, from which it is taken, the house of Mr. Little and his wife, "Aunt Penny" as she was familiarly known, are plainly recognizable. The front porch, the porch, and the side porch, which was the main entrance, are shown in the photograph. The house was built by Mr. Little, who was a prominent citizen of Salt Lake, and was a member of the Utah legislature. He was also a member of the Utah bar, and was a prominent figure in the community. The house was built in 1870, and was one of the finest houses in Salt Lake at that time. It was destroyed by fire in 1890, and the site is now occupied by the Grand Hotel.

BAIN.

TO OUR CUSTOMERS:

Gentlemen—Since October 1, 1898, the price of merchant bar iron has advanced about $12.00 per ton; this advance has been caused by the fact that the demand has been greater than the supply, and from the same cause wagon wood stock has advanced in cost from 15 to 50 per cent as compared with prices in force during the past year or two.

We are compelled to ask you to share this advance in the cost of material with us, and we hereby withdraw all quotations, asking that you will, before placing further orders, correspond with us, that we may arrange prices to meet the changed market conditions.

Very Respectfully Yours,
THE BAIN WAGON CO. Limited.
Dated Kenosha, Wis., April 15, 1899.

Send us your orders quick, before we are compelled to advance.

REMARKABLE CURE OF RHEUM.

Kenna, Jackson County, W. Va.

About three years ago my wife had a bad case of rheumatism. She was unable to get up in the morning, and was in great pain. I tried many remedies, but nothing seemed to help. I then saw an advertisement for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and bought a box. I gave her one every day, and in a few days she was able to get up. In a few more days she was able to walk, and in a few more days she was able to do her usual work. I am now well, and my wife is well. I am very grateful to Dr. Williams for his medicine.
