BREVITIES.

The love that always lasts—Self-love.
To remove stains from your character.
Get rich.
The best of friends fall out. Our teeth are no exception.
Many who think themselves the pillars of the church are only its sleepers.
"What's your occupation?" asked a lawyer of a witness. "Miller." "What sort of a mill do you run?" "A gin mill," was the reply.
An apothecary asserted in a large company "that all bitter things were hot." "No," replied a physician, "a bitter cold is an exception." Punch gives these scientific terms:
Absorption—iced brandy and soda.
Radiation—On the countenance after a certain number of glasses. Reflection —As to taking one more or not.
"Who is that pretty girl?" asked a well known Boston divine the other evening at a wedding.
"That is Miss Glass," answered a friend.
"Let the young men beware of such an intoxicating glass," was the quick response.
The wit deservedly won his bet, who, in company, when every one was brag-ing of his tall relations, wagged that he had himself a brother twelve feet high. He had, he said, "two half brothers, each measuring six feet." A lady who did not know whether her plantation was in Virginia or North Carolina, found, when the line was run, that she was a resident of Virginia.
"Well," said she, "I am glad I don't live in North Carolina, it was always such a sickly State."
One of the best presentation speeches ever made is said to be the following, addressed in a railroad shop in Illinois, on presenting a watch to the time-keeper.
"Be glad, good time, we trust the watch will keep as good time for years as years have kept for us this many a year."
A sharp old gentleman, traveling out West, got a seat beside his wife in a crowded car by requesting the young man who sat by her to "please watch that woman while he went in another car, as she had fits."
A married man in New Hampshire recently adopted an original way of reducing household expenses. One morning, when he knew his wife would be late, he kissed the servant girl. The household expenses were instantly reduced $20 per year.
An old woman who went into the poultry business some time since, under the expectation that she could make a fortune selling eggs, has quit it in disgust, because, as she says, "the hens never lay when eggs are dear, but always begin as soon as they get cheap."
"Where did you get that turkey?" said a Colonel to one of his amiable recruits, who came in one day with a fine bird.
"Stole it," was the laconic reply.
"Ah," said the Colonel, triumphantly, to a bystander, "you see my boys may steal, but they won't lie." There are said to be 50,000 "commencial travelers" in the United States, divided as follows: Belonging to Boston and the New England States, 10,000; New York, 20,000; Chicago, Cincinnati and St. Louis, 10,000; Pennsylvania and Maryland, including Philadelphia, Pittsburg and Baltimore, 10,000.
On the day of his jubilee, the Pope received a telegram from the frozen regions of Lapland, the bearer of which had to traverse six hundred miles in order to reach Helmsingfors, the extreme telegraph office in North Europe.
"As to being conflicted with the gout," said Mrs. Partington, "high living doesn't bring it on. It is incoherent in some families, and handed down from father to son. Mr. Hamper, poor soul, who has been so long ill with it, disinherits it from his wife's grandmother."
A sailor's wife at Portpatrick had just received intelligence that her husband had perished at sea. She was visited by a neighbor who sympathized with her in her loss, and expressed a fear that she would be poorly off. "Deed I will," said the widow; "but he did all he could for me—he saved me the expense of his buryin'."
An American minister of fine descriptive power was on one occasion preaching about heaven; and to show the absurdity of Emanuel Swedenborg on the subject, drew a graphic picture of the Swedish heaven, with its beautiful fields, fine horses, cows, and pretty women; and, in the midst of his carried away with the scene, went into raptures, and exclaimed: "Glory! glory! glory!" The preacher was so disconcerted that he paused, seeming hardly to know what to do, till the presiding elder in the stand behind him cried out to the shoener "Hold on, there, sister; you are shouting over the wrong heaven!"
Celery, now a common dessert of every table, it is said, came into the garden-plants from the following circumstance: An Italian nobleman, in a paroxysm of passion, slew his only brother. The church condemned him for three years to a monastery, prayer and penitence, his food to be of the weeds which grew in the enclosure about the prison. Celery, bleached in the shade of the cloister, then became a favorite food; and, when released from his confinement, he transplanted the weed, but then little better than a nightshade, to his garden: it was set in trenches to bleach it, and to make it crisp and tender for his palate. He was a leader in fashionable life; and his example was imitated throughout Europe, and celery became at first a garnishment for the table, then a luxury, and now a necessary for every palate.
