CITY COUNCIL SESSION.

The City Council met in regular session last evening and transacted the following business:

The bill of Miss Peebles for typewriter, $13.34, laid over for one week.

The bill of J. Sander, $251, for painting and renovating the city jail, was allowed.

When the bill of Miss Peebles was presented to the council for allowance, Councilman Abbott arose and objected to it being allowed and gave his reasons. After Mr. Abbott set down Councilman Jones arose and moved that the bill be allowed, and threw out some insinuating language as to the character of the "orator from the Fifth" and "the Get A Love Man." These remarks were received by Mr. Abbott in not the most pleasant terms of expression. At the point Mr. Jones again got the floor and invited Mr. Abbott into the hall where he said he would whittle him down to about his right size and that Mr. Abbott had better call the chief of police as a protection. He also used some more severe language, but was called to a point of order and the council proceeded.

On notice of intention to pave Washington avenue between 23rd and 24th streets, was laid over for another week. It was also the report of the city engineer as to the approximate cost.

The mayor vetoed the appointment of John H. Hines and D. O. Sullivan as policemen, the ground the city could not afford the present time bear the expense of additional policemen.

The finance committee reported that the treasurer had charged the brass band for the festival of Decoration day.

The committee on streets recommended that the water company be required to move to the curb line all hydrants that are now occupying the sidewalk.

The finance committee also recommended that the grade on Madison street be lowered three feet. Both the resolutions were adopted.

James M. Brown and the Ogden State bank asked for the privilege of retaining certain properties from tax and for the payment of a original taxes and costs. Referred to the tax committee.

The ordinance creating sewer district and levying taxes for the construction of sewers therein passed its first reading.

The Council decided to take the canal road from rocks and to let it during the summer season, after which an adjournment was taken for one week.

ONE VICTIM OF BANDITS AN OG-DEN MAN.

The killing of Sheriff Tyler and Deputy Charles Jenkins on Saturday last by bandits near to the homes of Ogden City, Deputy Jenkins was an Ogden man, born and bred, and had made this city his home until about ten years ago, when he went to Park City. It is well known here, was an engineer for the Union Pacific for several years, running a locomotive. His other name was Thomas Jenkins. He was up to his death lived on Twenty-second street and Wall avenue, with his family. Jenkins has six brothers living here in Ogden now, Ex-Councilman Jenkins, Thomas, Joseph, Hyrum,

David and Charles Jenkins. Just what will be done with the remains has not been fully decided, but they may be brought here to Ogden for burial.

WORKING FOR A PARDON.

Attorney James H. Wallis, editor of the Paris, Idaho Post, was in the city today on his return from Boise City, where he went last Friday to appear before the courts of that city to ask for the pardon of one Bob Meeks, of Robertson, Wyoming, who was convicted in September, 1897, at Paris, Idaho, of having robbed the Montpelier bank in July, 1896, of some $10,000, and was sentenced to 3½ years' imprisonment in the State prison. It has since been proven beyond a doubt that Meeks was not the guilty party, but that the robbery was committed by "Butch Cassidy's gang." Mr. Wallis appeared before the courts at Boise and took the preliminary steps to getting Meeks his freedom. Mr. Wallis is confident that he will have no trouble in doing so when the State board of pardons meets, which will be on the first Monday in July.

Mr. Wallis was also admitted to the bar of the supreme court while at Boise.

A live and broken wire caused considerable excitement last evening on the corner of 31st street and Adams avenue. A house was being moved along the street on wagons. The roof of the house struck an electric light wire and broke it; the live wire struck one of the horses and killed it instantly.

BOY HURT.

Yesterday a boy 15 years of age, son of Dan Drake of Wilson ward, fell from a wagon load of sugar and was severely injured. The boy was hauling sugar from the factory and by some means he slipped with a sack of sugar from the wagon and fell from it. He was not hurt, but his legs were considerably bruised, but the doctor does not think that his injuries are dangerous.

BEAVER.

Closing Exercises of the Beaver Branch of the B. Y. Academy.

Beaver, Beaver County, May 28.—The Beaver branch of the Brigham Young Academy has just closed the second year of its work, and the result must be exceedingly gratifying to all parties concerned.

The commencement exercises which terminated yesterday have been of an unusually high character, and the classes seemed to vie with each other in the rendition of the various numbers assigned them. Not one discordant element intruded itself to mar the harmony of the whole.

The report of the principal, Prof. E. D. Partridge, was read at the final session of the exercises, showing that there had been a gratifying increase in the roll of attendance. The last report being 121. This year the enrollment was 230, which, taking into consideration the infancy of the institution, is a very good showing.

Seventeen promotions were made from the preparatory to the high school, and one student graduated with honor, Miss Nora Cox, who has successfully completed the two years' course provided for in the school. Fourteen others might have also received their diplomas, but they preferred to continue in their work and complete the entire course of three years and graduate altogether.

The counties of Beaver, Millard, Iron, Garfield, Kane, Piute and Sevier are all well represented at the school and it is a foregone conclusion that the patronage will be largely increased, as the theological training, which is a marked feature of the curriculum, is having its effect upon the students, and is being felt in the communities and the homes of the patrons. Our little city of Beaver has cause to bless the day the academy was established in its environs.

As an adjunct to the religious training of the youth of the Latter-day Saints this school in common with all church schools merits the moral and financial support of all members of the church, and were this given the beneficial results would be incalculable.

A complete branch organization has been maintained during the school year, with Principal Partridge as presiding elder and the results of the discipline are very manifest.

Fuel or Force

Your body must have force, nervous force, muscular force, digestive force. Fat is the fuel used to supply this force. If you are weak in any of these forces, use more fuel.

The cod-liver oil in Scott's Emulsion is the best fuel for this work. Your nerves grow stronger, your muscular power increases, and your digestion improves.

Scott & Bowne, Chemists, New York.

At the closing exercises yesterday Dr. J. H. Brimhall was the orator, and his remarks were much appreciated, and scientific studies to the curriculum in the near future.

SPANISH FORK.

Change in Co-op. Store—Ball for Scofield Fund Benefit.

Spanish Fork, Utah Co., May 28.—Owing to long continued illness, Hon. Wm. Creer resigned his position as president of the co-operative store, a position he has held for many years, with credit to himself and with complete satisfaction to the other officers. He was succeeded by Mr. Peter Nelson, a well known and highly respected citizen, a successful farmer and stock raiser, and for many years one of the chief directors of the institution. During the last fiscal year the purchases in goods alone of the Spanish Fork Co-operative store exceeded $100,000. This stalwart and progressive institution, piloted by the president mind of one of Utah's foremost well known men—Mr. John Jones—is forcing ahead in several productive industries, notably a roller mill, a shoe shop and a harness shop, which give regular employment to many, and whose products are of the best.

COALVILLE.

Memorial Day Will be Duly Observed Nichols-Parker Nuptials.

Memorial Day will be appropriately observed in Coalville, where the Nichols-Parker nuptials will be held.

Mr. Abraham Parker and Mrs. Ellen Nichols will be united in marriage tomorrow in the Salt Lake Temple. The bridegroom-elect is a prominent citizen of Provo, a progressive farmer, and has only recently celebrated his 75th birthday. THE DIFFERENCE IN PERFUMES.

There's a vast difference in perfumes. One perfumer makes some odors good—others just passable. Another perfumer will have his specialty. And so you go through the entire list of perfume makers. We pick out the best from each maker and gather them here for you. That's one reason why all our perfumes are good. And it's just a matter of preference with you, which one it shall be. And one thing about our perfumes you've probably noticed. Their lasting qualities. See the ounce up.
