FIFTY-FIVE YEARS Suffered Torments from Birth -Boils Formed as Big as Walnuts -In Frightful Condition and Could

Hardly Work-Tried All Kinds of Remedies to No Avail-At Last

WHOLLY CURED IN 8 MONTHS BY CUTICURA

"I had an itching, tormenting eczema wer since I came into the world, and I am now a man fifty-five years old. I tried all kinds of roodleines I heard of, but found no relied. I was truly in a frightful condition. At last my blood was so bad that I broke out all over with red and white boils, which lept growing until they were as big as wal-nuts, causing great pain and misery. I thought they would take the skin off my whole body, but I kept from scratch-ing as well as I could. I was so run down that I could hardly do my work. Mr. Nelson R. Burnett recommended the use of Cuticura Remedles, telling me he was confident they would benefit and, in time, cure me. I used the Cuti-cura Soap. Ointment, Resolvent, and Pills for about eight months, and I can truthfully say I am cured. I cordially recommend Cuticura Remedies to all who are afflicted the same as I was, be-lieving that, if they will use them according to directions, they will find them all they are represented to be. Any one doubting the truth of the blove can write to Mr. Burnett, who will cheer-ulty vouch for my statements. "Hale Bordwell, R. F. D. 3. Codar Corners, Tipton, Ia, Aug. 17, 1907."

"I cheerfully endorse the above tea-timonial. It is the truth. I know Mr. Bordwell and know the condition he was in. He never tires of praising the Cuticura Remedies. "Nelson R. Burnett, Tipton, Ia."

offender. Above all, they have been enforced against the very wrongdoers and agents of wrongdoers who have for so many years gone scot free and flouted the laws with impunity, against noted the laws deriving corporations of im-mense wealth, which, until within the last half dozen years, have treated themselves and have expected others to treat them as being beyond and above all possible check from law.

MUST FACE DIFFICULTIES.

It is especially necessary to secure to the representatives of the national government full power to deal with the great corporations engaged in interstate commerce, and above all, with the great interstate common carriers. Our people should clearly recognize the great interstate common carriers. Our people should clearly recognize while there are difficulties in any course of conduct to be followed in dealing with these great corporations, these difficulties must be faced, and one of three course followed. The first course is to abandon all ef-fort to oversee and control their ac-tions in the interest of the general pub-lic and to permit a return to the utter lack of control which would obtain if they were left to the common law, 1 do not for one moment believe that our people would tolerate this position. The extraordinary growth of modern indus-trialism has rendered the common law, which grew up under and was adapted to deal with totally different condi-tions, in many respects inadequate to deal with the new conditions. These new conditions make it necessary to new conditions make it necessary to shackle cumping as in the past we have shackled force. The vast individual settled fact that the ballonal government has omitted to exercise the authority con-forred upon it by the interstate com-merce clause of the Constitution has made the states restive under what they deem corporate abuses, and it correct these dutes, with the result that all measures which they passed, good or bad have been held up by the federal courts. The equilable and uniform regulation cannot be obtain-ed by the soparate action of the states, but only by the affirmative action of the minoral give innert." fact that ed by the separate action of the status, but only by the affirmative action of the national give innert." This is an appeal by a high shife judge, alurned, as good ditizens should be alarmed, by conflict over the matter of juriscliction and by the radical action advocated by honest people smartice from a sense of bijury received from corporations; which in-jury the federal courts forbid the states to try to remedy, while the federal government incretheless re-frains from itself taking adequate measures to pryide a remedy. If can-not too strongly be insisted that the defenders and apologists of the great corporations, who have sought in the past and still seek to prevent adequate action by the federal government to control these great corporations, are not only proving false to the people, but are helding up a day of wrath for the great corporations, are nation will not tolerate an utter lack of control over very wealthy men of enormous power in the industrial, and therefore in the social. Here of all our people, some of whom have shown themselves cynically and brutally in-different to the interests of the peo-ple- and if the Congress does not art, with good tempered and sensible but different to the interests of the peo-ple- and if the Compress does not act, with good tempered and sensible but resolute thoroughness, in outling out the avils and in providing an effective supervision, the result is certain to be setion on the part of the senarate states, sometimes wise, sometimes all judged and extreme, cornetimes unfast and damaging to the ralizoads or oth-er corporations, more often ineffective from every standpoint, because the federal courts declare it unconstitu-tional.

icel the keenest sympathy tor the mige body of honest business men, of honest sympathy for the large body of investors, of honest wage-workers, who suffer because involved in a crash for which they are in no way responsible. At such a time there is a natural ten-dency on the part of many men to feel gloomy and frightened at the outlook; but there is no justification for this feeling. There is no nation we abso-lutely sure of ultimate success as ours. Of course, we shall succeed. Ours is a nation of masterful energy, with a continent for its domain, and it feels within its veins the thrill which comes to those who know that they possess the future. We are not cast down by the fear of failure. We are upheld by the confident hope of ultimate triumph. The wrongs that exist are to be cor-rected; but they in no way justify doubt as to the final outcome doubt as to the great material prosperity of the output and the last of the bottom. doubt as to the final outcome doubt as to the great material prosperity of the future, or of the lofty spiritual line which is to be built upon that pros-perity as a foundation. No miscleeds done in the present must be permitted to shroud from our eyes the glorious future of the nation; but because of this very fact it behooves us never to swarze from our resolute purpose to from our resolute purpose it out wrongdoing and uphold what is right.

JUSTICE SAME FOR ALL. The laws must in the future be ad-ministered as they are now being ad-ministered, so that the department of justice may continue to be, what it is now, in very lact the department of justice, where so far as our ability permits, justice is meted out with an even hand to great and small, rich and your, weak and strong. Moreover, there should be no delay in supple-mention the laws now on the statute books by the enactment of further leg-lation is outlined in the message I ere to Coogress on its assembling. and corporate fortunes, the vast com-binations of capital, which have mark-ed the development of our industrial system, create new conditions, and necessitate a change from the old attr-tude of the state and the nation to-ward the rules regulating the acquisiward the rules regulating the acquisi-tion and untrammeled business use of property, in order both that property may be accquately protected, and that at the same time those who hold it may be prevented from wrongdoing. The second and third courses are to have the regulation undertaken either by the nation or by the states. Of course, in any event both the national government and the several state gov-criments must do each its part, and each can do a certain amount that the other cannot do, while the only really satisfactory results must be obtained by the representatives of the national and state governments working heartily satisfactory results must be obtained by the representatives of the national and state governments working heartily together within their respective spheres. But in my judgment thoroughgoing and satisfactory control can in the end only be obtained by the action of the national government, for almost all the corporations of enormous wealth—that is, the corporations which it is espec-hally desirable to control—are engaged in interstate commerce, and derive their power and their importance not from that portion of their business which is intrastate, but from the inter-state business. It is not easy always to decide just where the line of de-outering the effort to secure adequate post of the effort is made to accom-blish by the action of the state what can only be accomplished by the action by the action, heresult can only be dis-sponding, and in the end the law with probably be declared unconstitutional, so likewise in the national arena, we who believe in the mational arena, we who believe in the mational arena, we who believe in the mational arena, we hy the extremists who advocate action so the effort is made to accom-pondenting, and in the end the law with probably be declared unconstitutional, so likewise in the national arena, we who believe in the mational arena, we hy the extremists who advocate action so the effort is made to accom-spondent, and in the end the law with probably be declared unconstitutional. So likewise in the mational arena, we hy the extremists who advocate action so the extremists who advocate action so the extremists who advocate action so the the the maty and the the law is and in the out remedy.

FEDERAL AUTHORITY.

In a recent letter from a learned judge of the suprame court of one of the gulf states, the writer speaks as follows:

the gulf states, the writer speaks as follows: "In all matters pertaining to inter-state commerce the authority of the automal government already exists and doos not have to be acquired, and the exercise of this existing authority on be in no sense a neurpation of, the states. On the contrary, had the federal government given this question a vigorous check to corporate abuses, conditions would now be better, be-conditions would now be better, be-real or lmaginary griovance and have had less cause het only to attempt the exercise of the authority reserved to the states. On the corporate abuses, conditions would now be better, be-real or lmaginary griovance and have had less cause het only to attempt the exercise of the authority reserved to the mational government, but to act without proper moderation in matters by the an solve this problem, and the somer the hational authority is ex-ercised the less apt are the stares to tak action which will represent en-croachment upon the national domain. There is a Arif of operations for both powers, and plenty atike for national and state governments to do in order public utilities.
