Blanche Douglas Says They're Hers, Adolph Ramish Says They're Not. Willard Burbank, volintary weather

bserver at Black Rock, is in town en According to the following dispatch route home from a trip to Seattle, where he expects to locate in the spring, Mr. Burbank reports hard trials Mrs. Ralph E. Cummings, leading lady with the Cummings stock company at the Grand last year, is having an interesting time in Los Angeles. Here is the story:

Blanche Douglas, a pretty actress rights which have been tried and found and a married woman, whose husband all right in the courts, but somehow the is now in San Francisco, has jewels worth $550, which she says were given people higher up the stream manage to scoop up the water all the same, courts or no courts. Mr. Burbank says Sevier lake has shrunk from a body of her by Adolph Ramish, the Los An-geles contractor and Democratic politician. Ramish says he loaned the gems to her and has started a suit to regain water 45 miles long to one of 15 miles in length, and seems to be still shrinkwhat he declares is his property. resultant gossip has disrupted The ing. It is an alkali lake in which nothth peace of the Harrington Reynolds com-

Enjoyable Banquet.

The Old Time Telegraphers concluded yesterday, with a most enjoyable banquet at the Commercial club last night. Steward Childs and Chef Barnes had three long tables covered with the finest of cloths stretched the length of the dining room, and decorated with flegant. silverware and choice boquets of flowers, while potted plants of various sizes added attractiveness to the scene. H. Corse of Ogden presided, and W. C. Burton said grace. The banquet was served in nine courses, and the style of served in nine courses, and the style of serving and the quality of the vlands were the subject of highly complimen-tary comment. Handsome menu cards were provided, with the names of the members of the Telegrafibers' associa-tion printed thereon, and the general conduct of the affair redounded greatly to the order of the Commenced with to the credit of the Commercial club At the close of the feasting, President Corse called to order, and Judge Powers was introduced as the toastmaster of the evening. The judge spoke in his happiest vein, and was frequently ap-plauded. The replies to the toasts were all interesting, and the speakers in-cluded Fisher Harris, secretary of the G. 1 Commercial club; James Cockrane, mayor of Montreal, Canada; W. C. Burton, Brooklyn; Henry W. Pope, Buffalo; James K. Beard, New York; Joseph Uhrig, Chicago, and M. J. O'Leary, New York; Mrs. J. Costelloe, Brooklyn; MRS Mrs. William L. Ives, New York; and Mrs. J. McMichael, Minneapoils. The visitors enjoyed a fine organ recital in the Tabernacle today, and later made a pilgrimage to Ogden. This ends the program, and it is now homeward bound, go-as-you-please.

FOREST RESERVES.

The extreme drouth that has affected our state for several seasons past, has awakened a desire in many of her people to discover some means by which to successfully solve the question of a sufficient supply of water for irrigation and domestic purposes. Some have con-cluded that if all kinds of animals were excluded from grazing on the mountain ranges the water would be ample for

If this rule were established it would compel the keeping of all domestic ani-mals upon the farm during the summer months, there being practically no sum-mer range in the state excepting upon the mountains. I will venture that there is not in Utah more than one in very 50 of our farmers who can keep nore than 20 head of cattle upon his farm. Others can keep no more than one or two milch cows. Reduce this livestock industry of the state upon which the farmer largely depends, to these limits and you will pauperize very many of Utah's people. No farmer in the state excepting market gardeners. if confined strictly to what he can produce from the soll of what he can produce from the soft of a small farm with plenty of water at his disposal, can in these times of high prices support and educate a small family respectably. Think of a man with a family of five persons support-ing them from the products of 20 acres of load (and the in called a form in of land (and this is called a farm in Utah), with an average yield of 20 bushels of wheat per acre, of the value, of 40 or 50 cents per bushel, or other products proportionate to this in value, and you will find a problem difficult to solve. It cannot be done. He must have a few head of cattle or sheep upon the range or draw from some other source. Yet there are those who are clamoring to have the livestock indus-try relegated to the past, saying: "Give to us who live in the towns and cities the control of the watersheds that we may prevent the grazing of stock upon them, thinking this would give an abundance of water. Water must first come from above or no matter what more than four missionaries, and it is Romantic Story of Young Couple Who Kearns' secretary, J. V. Coughlin, to take the final examination. All of the candidates made splendid showings in the examinations and the papers of the two successful ones were particularly good. Mr. Barker was formerly a pupil at the Lincoin school, but completed his education at the Ogden High school and then returned to this city. Mr. Sherman graduated from the Lowell eighth grade and is now a member of the senior class at the High school. Both young men are 18 years of age. 8 years of age.

Fifteen representative young men of the state of Utah appeared yesterday morning at the office of State Supt. of Schools Nelson to take the examinatons. They were all subjected to a rigid physical examination conducted by Dr. E. W. Whitney and only seven succeeded in passing the same. Those who passed are Joseph A. Barlow, A. F. Sherman, J. C. Johnson, Max Schick, Sanford Wixson and William C. Barker, all of this city, and Herbert Barnes of Kaye-ville In the afternoon the above named young men were examined by Dr. Kingsbury, City Supt. Christensen and State Supt. Nelson on reading, spell-ing, grammar, geography, United States history, general history, arithmetic, al-gebra and geometry.

SCHOOL BOUNDARIES.

Students Will be Confined to District In Which They Live.

In regard to the boundaries of the various school districts of the city as established by the board of education last week and about which there have been so many complaints from parents because of having to change their children from one school to another, City

Supt. Christensen stated today that very few of the boundaries had been changed, but most of them remained he same as they have been for the past 10 years.

"Heretofore," said Supt. Christensen today, "the board has not required these boundaries to be observed, as a strict observance of them was not necstrict observance of them was not nec-essary because the schools were not overcrowded to any great extent and parents could send their children to whatever neighboring school they desired. This year the school population has increased and no new buildings

John B. Dunn and Mr. and Mrs. David Hill desire to express their thanks to their many friends who so kindly extended their sympathy during the ill-ness and death of their wife and daughonditions there will not be sufficient moisture. The government being asked by the would-be representatives of the people has withdrawn from entry about 6,000, has withdrawn from entry about 6,009, 000 of acres of land in Utah with a view of setting off forest reserves. No one but those living adjacent to them knows what a calamity to the people the forest reserves are. In order to procure a load of wood from reserve where thousands of cords are rotting one must first obtain a permit from the supervisor defining the local-ity where he wants to get the wood. If ike the God of Baal the supervisor happens to be on a visit or has gone : journey you must wait his return. Hav ing the permit you pile the wood and tops and apply to the supervisor, or some one of his subordinantes, who measures the wood. You may then remove it and not become trespasser. A farmer desiring to procure a load of poles, a set of stable logs or a little lumber, must go through the same routine, but in the latter case he must find the timber where it is not controlled by a sweeping permit. I say sweeping, because under the present system of granting permits adopted by the department of the interior, nearly all of the timber nearest the settlements, including the terminus of the wagon roads made by the people, is being monopolized and made merchan-han at any time in the past. Native lumber because of these mon opolies has advanced in price $7 per thousand feet. The government requires all of the lops and tops to be piled ready for burning and rumor says all the refuse down timber is to be burned. Thus all of the obstructions to the free and easy flow of the water in the reserves are to be removed so that the water produced by rainfall and the melting of show may find its way rap-illy to the valleys before they are needed for irrigation. Would it not be more wise for us to look to some other source for relief from drouth, than to the establishment of timber reserves, that are a menad to our prosperity and must be kept a an chormous espense? Why not utilize the natural reservoirs in the moun tains? (The lakes situated at source of our larger streams.) Many of them can be drained to the bottom where pipes and gates would be placed in position to draw off or to retain the water as desired. At the natural outlets levies could be constructed to increase the water in the lakes. Spills could also be arranged to convey the water from them upon adjoining bench lands there to form glaciers that would melt slowly and add to the volume of water during the irrigating season. There would be no danger of breakage or floods, neither would they fill with debris but would prove an effectual relief in times of drouth and would add much to the wealth of the state and would have a cooling effect upon many who cherish OBSERVER. litigation.
