William was asked if she had threatened Mr. O'Dell to marry if he did not pay her. She said she had been offered money for Billie's witness, but she was asked if she would tell O'Brien that she was going to marry him. She said she was going to tell O'Brien that she was going to marry him. She denied all the other allegations. The other witnesses of the case were unimportant.

HAWAIIAN CABLE QUESTION.

Billboard Opinions Among the Congressmen of the Senate and House.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 10.

The House of Representatives today took to the floor the House of Congress over the Hawaiian cable question. The debate was continued to the night and closed next morning. The bill, which would authorize the President to acquire the Hawaiian Islands, was passed by a vote of 219 to 154. The bill was passed by a vote of 219 to 154. The bill was passed by a vote of 219 to 154.

A new law which has come into the public possession is the subject of a pamphlet headed by Assistant Secretary of the Interior, Mr. J. C. Hemmick, known as the "California and the Hawaiian Islands, as seen from Washington and of importance to the United States," and contains a Pacific note, mentioning California and the Hawaiian Islands, New Zealand, Japan, etc. It was written by a staff officer of the Interior Department, and is a valuable and well-illustrated work, and is a very important work for the government to have. It is a very important work for the government to have. It is a very important work for the government to have.

Right Arm Paralyzed

Saved from St. Vitus Dance.

"Our daughter, Blanche, was 5 years young of age, had been afflicted with pertussis, and was not eating one of her right arm and the finger by St. Vitus Dance. The two physicians, with no doubt the two latter, three bottles of St. Vitus Nervine and the patient recovered. Her pertussis and St. Vitus Dance are entirely gone, she attends school regularly, and attends social regularity."
