EDITORIAL NOTES.

It was reported that the carcass of a mammoth, complete, had been discovered at Siberia. But on investigation it turns out that only a portion of the flesh, with the skin and hair adhering, was found.

Nice has tried the eucalyptus tree and proven it to have anti-fertile virtues. The malarial fevers usual in that city have been thereby prevented. Pity our Utah climate is too severe for the "blue gum."

Sudden death from grief is not very common, but from joy it is much rarer. Yet an Irishwoman who arrived last week at Fall River to spend her last days with her daughters, who had sent the money for her passage, on seeing her daughters and their children, was so overjoyed that she sank in a chair and died before any aid could be rendered.

Although the Russian wheat harvest is a comparative failure in the middle and southern districts of Russia, Siberia, in the north, has raised an immense grain crop. Trade has been opened from the mouth of the Yenesei to the port of London. But the immense distance from the Arctic Ocean to the Black Sea, renders the transportation of grain to the site of the war impracticable.

A compass has lately been invented, which is insensitive to local magnetism. Errors arising from variations induced by local attraction, have misled mariners on many occasions, and sometimes caused disasters of a serious character. This compass can be used without deviation on a vessel loaded with iron, and even a six pound magnet placed in near proximity to it fails to deflect the needle. It is the invention of Mr. Stephen Longfellow of Cambridge, Massachusetts, and is of great value to navigation.

In Holland, the paper of all the banks is equal to gold, and there has been a bank failure during the last forty years. Neither has there been a collapse of a fire insurance company during that time. Insurance, rates at only half of one per cent., but the companies pay good regular dividends. America is a country away ahead of all others—in talk, but the "smartest people on earth" might take a lesson from the Dutch in honesty, industry, and economy; and this "broad land" would not be hurt by a best cut of the book of four millions of souls who live well on 20,000 square miles, much of which is below the level of the ocean.

AMEN!

THE response of Amen to a prayer or a discourse is an ancient custom, and has the sanction of divine instruction as well as long usage. "And all the people shall say, Amen," was the word of the Lord to Ancient Israel, when the law was read and when certain blessings and curses were pronounced. It is a sign of assent. It is vox populi in harmony with vox Dei. It expresses in one word the sentence, "So may it be."

In the early days of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, it was in frequent use both in the public congregation and in the family circle. When the truths of the gospel were portrayed under the influence of the Spirit of Inspiration, the people's united voice said, Amen, at the close. And when the opening prayer was offered in the congregation, or the benediction was pronounced at the close of the services, when the sacramental emblems were blessed or a sick person received the administration of the ordinance of the Church, a hearty Amen, endorsed the prayer and confirmed the blessing, and speaker and hearer united in spirit and in faith by the enunciation of the word. When the head of the household bowed in the family circle, in worship of the Giver of all Good, or invoked the divine benison on the family meal, all present reverently and audibly uttered, Amen!

The custom is not abolished, by any means. But still the response is now usually given so silently as scarcely to be heard. Why should this be so? No one should be ashamed of speaking aloud a sacred word which expresses the genuine feelings of the heart, even if others are near by who may not unite in the sentiment. There is power in the word, uttered by a congregation in unison with the preacher or the person acting as the mouth-piece in prayer for the multitude. It is encouraging also to a speaker to hear that his utterances are endorsed by his auditors. It is in accordance with the genius of the Gospel, and ought not to be allowed to drop into desuetude.

Let it be spoken freely, reverently, unfeignedly, without shame and without fear of ridicule. But it should be used in wisdom, not to cause interruption or confusion, nor in a boisterous or declamatory manner. The interjectional exclamations of the camp meeting and revival excitement are unseemly and foreign to the order, peace and decorum that should prevail in all the churches of the Saints. But at the proper time, and in the proper place, at the close of sermon, prayer, blessing or administration, if the words of the speaker find an echo in the souls of the hearers, then "let all the people say Amen," and may it be heartily and freely, with the voice and lips as well as the spirit and the understanding.

SENATOR MORTON'S DEATH—FUNERAL PROGRAMME—LETTERS OF CONDOLENCE.
INDIANAPOLIS, 2.—The committee of arrangements have fully agreed upon the programme of ceremonies for Sunday and Monday, and have assigned to several sub-committees their respective duties.

Gen. Lew Wallace, who has been selected as chief of the staff, is here to-night, selecting his staff of assistants and arranging the line of march.

The order of service at the church on Monday is announced as follows: Chants by the choir; Scripture reading, Rev. Myron W. Reed; opening prayer, Rev. Hy. Day, D.D.; hymn, Joseph B. Bradford; anthem, choir, eulogy, Rev. J. H. Bayless, D.D.; prayer, Prof. W. K. Hushour; hymn; benediction.

The grand master and grand patriarch of the I. O. O. F., Ind., has issued circulars calling upon various encampments and lodges in the State to take action on the death of their brother, Senator Morton. Military companies from several cities in the State have signified their intention of attending the funeral.

At a meeting of the German Veteran Association here this evening a resolution was passed inviting all soldiers of Indiana to meet them at their headquarters, Fort Hall, Ind., on Monday next, to pay their last tribute of respect to the great War Governor.

Railroads will all run excursion trains Sunday.
The council this afternoon passed appropriate resolutions, deciding to attend the funeral in a body, and ordering money necessary for the expense.

The family of Senator Morton have received a large number of telegrams of sympathy from prominent persons and personal friends, including the following:
To Colonel W. R. Holloway, Indianapolis.
Washington, 2.
Your message received fully in the morning which our whole country feels in the loss of so eminent, patriotic and wise a statesman as the late Senator Morton. The Senate adjourned this morning on the announcement of his death, having first appointed as a committee to attend the funeral obsequies, Senators McDonald, Dancy, of Illinois, Bayless, of Ohio, Cameron, of Pennsylvania, and Booth.

(Signed) W. A. WHEELER, Vice President.
Washington, Nov. 2.
I desire, through you, to offer to Gov. Morton's widow and family my warmest sympathy in their great affliction, and the general and sincere manifestations of sorrow by the public, the loss of which no one can fully appreciate. My long friendship for Gov. Morton makes me wish to be counted among those who feel in his death the grief of personal bereavement.
(Signed) R. B. HAYES, Burned Alive.

COLUMBIA, Ga., 2.—Owen Wright, colored, who brutally outraged a white married lady a month ago, near Crawford, Ala., was today taken from jail by a party of 100 citizens who carried him to the woods, and, it is said, burned him. His victim fully identified him.

STEAMER BURNED.
ST. LOUIS, 2.—The steamer Bismarck was burned three miles below the centre of the city, to-day; loss $200,000, insurance $16,000. No lives lost.

Violent Gale.
BUFFALO, 2.—A violent gale sent the water in the harbor into the basements in the lower portion of the city.

Wool Market.
PHILADELPHIA, 2.—Wool is in improved demand, prices steady and firm, supply light, but sufficient for all wants. Colorado fine and medium 22 @ 25, coarse, for carpets, 17 @ 18, No. 1 and merino pulled 35 @ 40, No. 1 and superior pulled 35 @ 37, Texas fine and medium 20 @ 30, coarse, 15 @ 18, California fine and medium 25 @ 32, coarse 22 @ 25.

Tribute of Respect to the Deceased Senator.
WASHINGTON, 2.—The Cabinet Council, to-day, was attended by all heads of departments, and as soon as the proceedings opened, attention was given to the death of Senator Morton. Expressions of regret were connected with the discussion of proper means of giving sentiment of regard for the deceased and proper honors. It was suggested that some representation from the cabinet should attend the funeral, but it was not decided who. It was thought fitting that Secretary Thompson, being from Indianapolis, should attend. Mr. Thompson is now suffering from a severe cold contracted on the Virginia trip, and should be recovered in like gentleman, accompanied by the Attorney General, will go to Indianapolis. It is hardly probable that the President will be able to attend.

relative to the death of Senator Morton. General Thomas M. Browne presided, and many prominent citizens of Indiana, including the entire republican delegation, were present. Representatives John E. Baker and J. L. Evans and Hon. John D. Defrees were appointed a committee on resolutions and reported the following, which was unanimously adopted:
The citizens of Indiana, in Washington, who have assembled to express their sorrow at the sudden intelligence of the death of Hon. Oliver P. Morton, recognize his loss as a national calamity and recognize it as a fit occasion to bear testimony to his character as a man and public officer. He was an honest man, a true patriot, a man of high and noble feelings, a long public career in which party feelings ran high and he was subjected to bitter vituperation of political opponents, and was never suspected of corruption or charged with having built up his private fortune by the misuse of public funds.

He was a true friend, never forgetting a personal obligation nor failing in courtesy to the humblest of his acquaintances. He was a just and chivalrous opponent, never allowing political differences to descend into personal animosities, and ever kind and courteous in his treatment of an honorable antagonist. He was a patriotic citizen, never doubting his obligation to recognize all the requirements of the constitution and laws of the United States as the supreme authority, and he was a man of executive ability, judicious in council, fertile in expedience, prompt and resolute in action, and possessing strength of decided conviction. His term as governor of Indiana will always stand on the pages of history as a most brilliant and important end in the existence of the State.

He was a true statesman, and recognized the fact that no portion of the people of the United States could be oppressed and degraded without the degradation and dishonor of the nation, and the continuation of prejudices, which grew out of the unnatural relations of master and slave, without inflicting lasting injury and dishonor upon the whole land, and by the aid of the United States Senate he became known as the "protector of freedmen," a title justly conferred upon him during the war—"the soldier's friend"; therefore,

Resolved, That while we deeply deplore the untimely death of Senator Morton, taken from us, yet we bow in submission to the Divine will, and we tender our sympathies to his afflicted family, and that while no words of condolence can ease an anguish for an irreparable loss, we trust that they may be comforted by the knowledge that their grief is shared by thousands who loved him as a friend and confidant, and who honored him on account of the eminent public services, as a patriot and statesman.

TO-DAY'S DISPATCHES.

CONGRESSIONAL.
HOUSE.
WASHINGTON, 3.—Price asked here to offer a resolution providing for the remonetization of silver; objected to.

Consideration was resumed of the bill for the repeal of the resumption act. After discussion as to the proposed terms for the management and consideration of the bill, Kelly proposed to offer a resolution making it the special order for Tuesday next, and the previous question was to be ordered, but Willis objected absolutely on the resolution being resolved, inasmuch as he regarded the bill as an assault upon the national credit.

The bill for the free coinage of the standard silver dollar, was introduced by Buckner, and was, on motion of Stephens, after discussion, referred to the committee on coinage, rather than to the banking committee.

SENATE.
CHICAGO, 3.—A New York dispatch says: In an interview with Gen. Grant, yesterday, the conversation turned on an interview published in the London World, and copied into the Herald, in which the General is represented as commenting on the interview published by the World is absolutely false, and that he has never given expression to the statements contained therein. Gen. Grant was very indignant at this misrepresentation, and gave expression to his feelings in very strong language.

He said he never made use of any expression in any way disparaging to Mr. Vanderbilt to any person connected with the London World, or to any one else. In the contrary, he had expressed certain feelings of respect and friendship for the Vanderbilts, father and son, and had invariably expressed himself to that effect whenever he had occasion to say anything of them. The General expressed a deep feeling at the sad news of Senator Morton's death. He said that Mr. Morton was one of the worthiest and most illustrious Americans of the present times, and spoke in terms of the highest praise of the energy, activity and ability he displayed during the country's trial. Before Mr. Morton's illness he had been appointed his chief justice after Mr. Conkling had declined the appointment.

In the course of the day General Grant drove out to the cemetery, and spent some time examining them. He was greatly struck with the exquisite taste displayed in decorating the graves of the departed. He said the "four dead statesmen" had an opportunity of seeing the Parisians in one of their best moods. On that day business and politics are forgotten. Thousands of citizens, clad in holiday attire, throng the cemeteries to view the graves of departed relatives and friends.

Attempted Drowning.
TROY, 3.—The wife of Stephen May, of Mechanicville, left her house, taking four children, and threw them into a creek, following herself. The oldest child, aged 9, got ashore, raised the alarm, and the mother and one child were rescued.

WESTERN.
The Indian Killing at Cape Prince of Wales.
SAN FRANCISCO, 3.—By the arrival of the schooner Leo, from the Arctic, it is learned that the recently reported killing of some fifteen Indians at Cape Prince of Wales, was by the crew of a Honolulu whaling brig. The natives boarded the vessel, demanded liquor, and on refusal, attacked the crew, who obtained arms from the cabin and beat off the assailants.

GREAT BRITAIN.
The French Cabinet, etc.
LONDON, 3.—A Paris correspondent asserts the following: A semi-official note has been sent to the provincial papers. It appears to have been decided at the last cabinet council that the present cabinet will remain in office till November 5th. After the elections come the cabinet, the general government will find itself in the presence of two extreme politics; one of reform, with the support of the Senate, the other of conservatism, represented by the Chamber of Deputies. The present disposition of the marshal does not admit of the latter policy. However, the president is willing to see if it be not possible to arrive at some kind of agreement by which the Left of the Chamber of Deputies and the Right Centre of the Senate may be reconciled, the cabinet, thereby establishing harmony between the two houses.

CORRESPONDENCE.

OGDEN CITY, Utah, Nov. 1, 1877.
Editors Deseret News:
The tremendous high mountain wind with which we have been recently visited subsided without doing damage of consequence in this place so far as I could learn, the deep snow which succeeded the "Mountain squibbys" has at last passed off again and although we have considerable mud and "mush" pools, the weather is fine and warm and the late cold storms are considered by some of the weather prophets as indications of an open winter. "So mote it be."

This evening we had a visit from Bishops Hardy and Burton, who met with the Presidency and a number of the Bishops and Elders of this (Weber) Stake of Zion, in the Second District Schoolhouse. The visiting brethren addressed the meeting on the subject of building temples, wherein the ordinances of the House of God could be administered for the salvation of the living and the dead. They urged the necessity of the people of this temple district combining their exertions, and contributing a portion of their substance towards so far completing the temple in Salt Lake City that they can enjoy the privilege, on any day, of attending to the ordinances for their friends who have passed behind the veil without hearkening the gospel of Jesus Christ.

The President of the Stake, the Bishops, and some others spoke on the same subject, and all manifested a willingness to push forward the great work until the House of the Lord is completed. The people of the Second Ward of this city have one man already engaged on the Temple; they intend to keep him as long as they can. From present indications I expect it will not be long before some of the county will have one or more persons hired to work on the house which is now being reared to the name of the great Jehovah.

Colds and coughs are very common among the people of this city just now, but I do not hear of many being afflicted with diseases of a serious nature.

DEAD.
At St. Koverne, Cornwall, of cholera morbus, Sept 28th, ANTHONY TRIPP. Deceased was born April 22, 1796; baptized into the Church by Elder W. C. Dunbar, November 14, 1820. He was married, and died in hope of a glorious resurrection with the just.
At Stockton-on-Tees, September 29th, from injuries received on the railway, WILLIAM LITTLEFAIR, aged 55 years. Deceased was baptized in 1850. For some years, and up to the time of his death, he was President of the Stockton branch. Over 5,000 people followed him to his last resting place. The services were conducted by Elder Royal B. Young—Millennial Star, Oct. 15.
