

ALL SHOULDERS ARE AT THE WHEEL

Preliminary Work by G. A. R. Committees Gives Promise of Splendid Achievement.

REPORTS SHOW GOOD SYSTEM

Meeting Demonstrates That Details Are Well in Hand—$10,000 Is Expended to Date.

Ten thousand dollars has been expended up to date in bringing the preparations for the forty-third encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic to be held in this city next August, to the point reached at present, according to the report of Col. Frank M. Sterrett, executive director of the board. The report of Col. Sterrett was made to the committee in its regular session held yesterday afternoon in the offices of the committee in the Commercial club building. The meeting was well attended, and the feeling prevailed that satisfactory progress is being made in the direction of the details of the encampment.

The treasurer reported on all accounts made up to date, which shows a balance of $10,000, including the same for the action of the committee.

HOUSE TO HOUSE CANVASS

He also reported that the preliminary committee, which is one of the most important of all the committees, had organized a house to house canvass, and that the canvass was being made by the school teachers of the city which promises great accuracy in the matter of ascertaining how many guests can be handled by the private residences of the city. "This is a very important branch of the work," said Col. Sterrett, "and we are greatly pleased at the promise of excellent work to be performed by this committee."

MAPS FOR VISITORS

The master of printing the 20,000 maps of Salt Lake City, Col. Sterrett reported, was now in the hands of the lithographers and the map is now in the stone in the office of a local engraving company. These maps will be distributed among the visitors and will materially assist them in locating the various hotels and places of interest in the city during the encampment week.

The director reported that the line of parade, decided upon some time ago by Adj. Gen. Wedgwood and the executive director and published at the time, would be passed upon favorably by the commander-in-chief; also that the designs for the badges had been received and these would be finally passed on when "commander-in-chief Nevius reaches this city next Saturday."

WOMEN ORGANIZED

The women's citizens' committee was reported as being fully organized, with offices at 24 Commercial club building. A temporary appropriation of $500 was allowed for the committee for the expenses incurred in fitting up the offices and quarters, to be expended under the regulations prescribed by the committee.

Prof. John J. McClellan, chairman of the committee on music, reported that he had made contracts with two musical organizations, one brass and one vocal, to furnish music during the encampment week. It was decided that no authority be given to anyone to solicit advertising in the name of the committee. The exclusive right to issue the official badge and official souvenir book for the encampment was awarded to T. F. Thomas and S. H. Lynch. At previous encampments, Col. Sterrett explained, the privilege had not profited the encampment anything, but this time a substantial figure was realized for the privilege, and the sum would go into the coffers of the executive committee for the benefit of the encampment.

BELLICOSE JAP.

A. T. Amoto, proprietor of a Japanese restaurant, 21 Commercial street, was arrested by Patrolman Clough last night on the charge of battery upon Charles Biale. According to Biale, the little brown man struck him and threw him into the street. The Jap claims that Biale ordered a meal and then refused to pay for it. Biale was arrested for drunkenness.

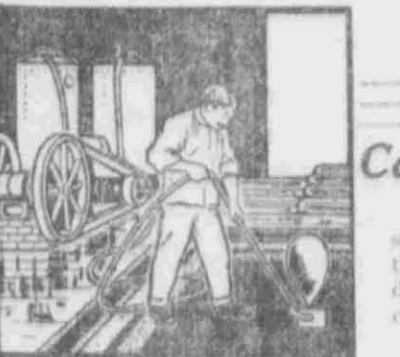

RESCUED BY MASONS.

Carl G. Smith, who was sentenced a few days ago to 100 days in the city jail on the charge of vagrancy, is speeding on his way to Pennsylvania. He was pardoned late yesterday afternoon by Mayor Bradford and through the help of Masonic friends a ticket was purchased for him, he was taken to the train and warned to stay on.

WOMAN SURVIVOR OF MORMON BATTALION

Mrs. Martha J. Mowrey, Aged 82, Who Resides at Vernal, Sends In Her Claim.

Another woman survivor of the Mormon battalion has been discovered through means of the "News" columns. This survivor of those trying times is Mrs. Martha J. Mowrey, who resides at Vernal, Utah county. She is 82 years old, and under date of April 12, 1909, she writes to this paper as follows: "I saw your notice in the paper stating that if there are any more women of the Mormon battalion living you would like to learn of them. I am one of those who wintered in Mexico and Pueblo. I lost my first husband on the Arkansas river. He was accidentally shot and was buried without a coffin, without even a board to mark the spot, among the wild Indians. His name was Norman Sharp, and he belonged to the battalion.

"In course of time I married Harley Mowrey, one of the battalion men. My name is Martha J. Mowrey, and I am 82 years old. My husband is still living. I am well acquainted with Iodine Thompson, and her sister, Mrs. Thomas Williams."

UNIVERSITY NEWS

R. W. Young, Jr., was chosen valedictorian for the class of 1909, at a meeting of the university faculty last evening. He received his preparatory instruction at the L. D. S. university, and since his entrance into the University of Utah, has been prominent before the student body and the public by reason of his connection with the university debating team.

The selection of a valedictorian for the normal graduates was not made yesterday owing to the absence from town of Prof. W. M. Stewart, principal of the normal school.

A new departure was taken yesterday afternoon when President J. T. Kingsbury appointed Drs. Ebaugh and Sundvall and Prof. Marshall a committee to devise plans for the granting of honors to those students who have during the year shown exceptional ability in some special line of work.

Great preparations are being made for the presentation of the matinee program at the Colonial theater tomorrow afternoon in aid of the Women's league, to more completely furnish the girls' rest room.

A lively session of the student court was held at the University yesterday afternoon for the purpose of taking action in the case of the students who failed to appear at the dedication of the "U" last Friday. The court met at 4 o'clock, with Ernest Watson as judge, L. Parry as bailiff and Richard W. Young as prosecuting attorney. Warrants were served upon nine of the delinquents who appeared before the court. Louis Blumstein, Roger Powers, E. J. Duggan, H. Morris, J. Lewis and Mark Brown were each fined $1. D. A. Haybould was fined 25 cents for being late, and the cases against

BEST TREATMENT FOR COLDS.

"Most ordinary colds will yield to the simplest treatment," says the Chicago Tribune, "moderate laxatives, hot foot baths, a few vapors and an avoidance of exposure to cold and wet after treatment." While this treatment is simple, it requires considerable trouble and time in adopting it must remain in doors for a day or two, or a fresh cold is almost sure to be contracted. In many instances, pneumonia follows. Is it not better to give your child an all reliable preparation like Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, that is famous for its cure of colds and can always be depended upon? For sale by all druggists.

BELLE LONDON'S NEW ROLE.

Belle London, the notorious owner of the West Side stockade, acted as "godmother" yesterday to the three-week-old baby girl who was afflicted with a footlock disease and delivered by her mother in a roominghouse opposite the stockade. The woman found a home for the child and promised to pay all expenses and give it the best medical attention required. The free program contains not a dry crust, and more than one of the acts may rightly be termed a "headliner." The opening turn is the marvel of equilibrium performed by Harry Touda, a Japanese. His feats of strength and balancing are not short of remarkable. Frank Whitman, the dancing violinist, gives several correct imitations of "old time" folk playing, as well as carrying out his announcements of dancing and singing and playing at the same time. He is a clever dancer and never misses a stroke on the violin while executing the most complex of temperamental intricacies. A laugh from start to finish is the little skit produced by Harry Fox and Miss Florence Clark, entitled "The Spring of Youth." There is not a dull minute in the act, and the clever comedienne was recalled again and again for her "something different" in her monologue character study of a country girl. She personates as well the Irish washerwoman and the toothless dame.

RHEUMATISM.

More than nine out of every ten cases of rheumatism are simply rheumatism of the muscles, due to cold or damp, or chronic rheumatism. In such cases no internal treatment is required. The free application of Chamberlain's Liniment is all that is needed, and it is certain to give quick relief. Give it a trial and see for yourself how quickly it relieves the pain and soreness. The liniment usually given for internally, where it is very poisonous or very strong medicine. They are worse than useless in cases of chronic rheumatism. For sale by all druggists.

BISHOP MIBLEY RETURNS.

Is Much Elated With Promise of Land in Moapa.

Presiding Bishop C. W. Mibley returned last evening from a short visit to the Moapa country, where he went last Friday to look over a colonization scheme in which the Church is interested. He brought home with him some splendid samples of asparagus, and also some apricots which are so far along that they will ripen in about six weeks more. While away he attended meetings at Overton, about 14 miles from Moapa station, and also at Thomas, about 25 miles from the station. Of the country he says there is no end to its productiveness, and while there will not be enough water to irrigate all the land that the people would like to use, there is a good stream in the Muddy, and it has the advantage over some streams in that it never varies in volume. In the Meadow Valley wash he saw from one to two inches of alluvial deposit brought down on to the lands by the water, which runs at this season of the year almost as thick as mud. Its fertilizing properties cannot be excelled.

ODD FELLOWS CONVENE.

The grand lodge of Odd Fellows met this morning in Odd Fellows hall, with over 100 delegates present; also, the Utah state assembly with 50 delegates. The committee on credentials completed its work by noon, and the committee on distribution of the program of labor early this afternoon, preparatory to the annual street parade. The annual election of officers will be held tomorrow afternoon, concluding with a banquet in the evening.

LOSS OF APPETITE.

A person that has lost appetite has lost something besides—vitality, vigor, tone.

The way to recover appetite and all that goes with it is to take Hood's Sarsaparilla—that strengthens the stomach, perfects digestion and makes eating a pleasure.

Thousands take it for spring loss of appetite and everybody says there's nothing else so good as Hood's.

THE ROUND OF THE THEATERS

COLONIAL—That delightful English comedy, "The Lovers," as presented by Miss Mary Hall and associate players at the Colonial this week ranks with the best offerings by the capable stock organization, if it is not the best. Miss Hall is admirably adapted to the part of Lady Jessica and Mr. Baldwin and Mr. Heffron, as Sir Deering and Edward Pa-knet, share honors in splendidly handled parts. The support throughout is exceptionally strong and the four acts are not in most pleasing style.

There is in the piece that "faisness" that even is associated with an English setting, at times dragging a trifle too much and presenting few opportunities for dramatic situations. The story throughout depends for its development upon the spoken lines of the book. With this handicap, though, the players present the delightful comedy in fascinating manner. This humor is not of that rollicking sort, but is subdued, keen and altogether enjoyable.

Miss Hall was charming through the entire four acts and her costumes were extremely to the feminine portion of her audience. As the wife of Gilbert Nepton, a man who believed rather in beating a wife than in winning her, by wiles more gentle, she carried herself through the perplexities of remaining true to the duties of her marriage bonds or of permitting the love of a male actor to conquer her triumphing. It was in the last act that all situations were more dramatic and in this act Miss Hall was afforded her strongest opportunities for serious work.

Mr. Baldwin was the altogether delightful bachelor that was demanded of him. His great fund of knowledge of women acquired in his not lonely bachelorhood was drawn upon for some of the cleverest lines of the book. He was exceptionally well cast as Sir Christopher.

Of Mr. Heffron's work rather lavish terms are necessary. He shared to the fullest extent the honors of the leading role. In the final scene of the comedy, which becomes truly a drama, he was alone in the piece, the problem solved in the only possible way. Falkner gave his way and Sir Gilbert takes his wife to his heart with a resolution to live with her in a clearer glass.

Of the support it is difficult to choose, all doing acceptable work throughout the progress of the story. Mr. Alvin, Anna Cleveland, Bessie Hunter, Callie Gates and Mr. Miller are all strong in their support while the others of the players are lacking in no particular. The opportunities center about Miss Hall, Mr. Baldwin and Mr. Heffron and leave only little for the others of the cast.

The audience was larger than the average Monday night patronage of the house and the orchestra was in splendid humor, giving tuneful promises of next week's offering, "The Burglar's Daughter."

"The Lovers" runs to the week end, with matinees Thursday and Saturday.

ORPHEUM—For two hours of real, unadulterated enjoyment, the bill of the Orpheum this week probably surpasses all previous offerings in no particular. The program contains not a dry crust, and more than one of the acts may rightly be termed a "headliner."

The opening turn is the marvel of equilibrium performed by Harry Touda, a Japanese. His feats of strength and balancing are not short of remarkable. Frank Whitman, the dancing violinist, gives several correct imitations of "old time" folk playing, as well as carrying out his announcements of dancing and singing and playing at the same time. He is a clever dancer and never misses a stroke on the violin while executing the most complex of temperamental intricacies. A laugh from start to finish is the little skit produced by Harry Fox and Miss Florence Clark, entitled "The Spring of Youth." There is not a dull minute in the act, and the clever comedienne was recalled again and again for her "something different" in her monologue character study of a country girl. She personates as well the Irish washerwoman and the toothless dame.

LYRIC—A reproduction of Bulwer Lytton's greatest story, "The Last Days of Pompeii" is being shown at the Lyric all this week.

It is a picture that has attracted perhaps more attention than any other yet produced. The story wove around the Last Days of Pompeii is the pathetic one of Lydia, the blind, feeble girl. Possibly the greatest scene of all is that showing the arena filled with the thousands of spectators gathered to witness the sacrifice of prisoners to the wild beasts. At the end of the great amphitheater can be seen the giant lions pacing back and forth in their cages. Huddled in the enclosure are the prisoners awaiting their death. Suddenly the sky becomes dim with falling ashes and huge clouds of smoke, water, and lava are cast in all directions. This is one of the headlining set of pictures being run this week.
