

MORAN'S BILL GROSSLY PADDED

Is the Allegation of Inspector Williams of Board of Public Works.

BITTER FIGHT DUE TONIGHT

Nearly $10,000 Overcharge is the Claim of Those Who Are Agin The City Contractor.

Patrick J. Moran's bill of $20,458.67 for repairing the wooden stove outlet sewer pipe was grossly padded and allowed by City Engineer Louis C. Kelsey, according to the reports of J. J. Williams, the inspector of the board of public works, which were itemized by Frank C. Christensen, secretary of the board, assisted by Councilmen Hall and Murdock today. The total amount of material and labor put into the work at Moran's own prices, according to these daily reports, gives a total of $9,550.21. Allowing Moran 15 per cent for supervision which amounts to $1,432.53, this would bring his bill up to $10,982.74. The difference between this sum and the original bill representing the padding according to Councilman J. D. Murdock, who will attack the bill in the meeting of the city council when it is called for reconsideration, tonight, City Engineer Kelsey was ordered to check up Moran's bill when it was first presented. He passed upon it and allowed the full amount. When the bill was submitted to Mayor Bransford after Kelsey had passed upon it, he declared that it was too high. So he called Frank Cowan, superintendent for Moran into his office, and also requested Kelsey to be present. Bransford succeeded in cutting the bill from $20,458.67 to $20,458.67, and then sent it to the board of public works for its consideration and approval.

WHAT THE BOARD ALLOWS.

that the work was not ordered by the board, except that portion under the railroad tracks and the installation of air vents. In the report to be submitted to the council, the board claims that the air vents cost Moran $50.55 to install and the work of reinforcing the pipe under the tracks cost $877.55, which gives a total of $1,542.20. This amount the board is willing to pay but nothing more. The remainder of the work was taken out of the hands of the board of public works and the greater part of the work was done under the direction of Bransford and Kelsey, whom the board claim have no right to order any kind of public work and the statutes, it is declared, bear them out.

Moran has formulated a defense which will be launched in the city council tonight by one of his lieutenants. He declares that the city will have to pay him for the carpenter work he did in his shop making forms. This amounts to $7,000 in round numbers. Then there was extra time, he claims, which will bring the bill up to the original.

Councilman Murdock is ready to meet the defense tonight on this proposition. In all probability it will be one of the most bitter fights that has been made in the council for months.

FREE CAR RIDES FOR THE VETERANS

Utah Light & Railway Company Offers G. A. R. 10,000 Complimentary Tickets.

ILLUMINATIONS CURRENT.

Also Will be Donated by the Company for Decorations During Encampment Week.

The veterans will not have to walk when they come to this city next month. Besides carriages and automobiles there will be the street cars and the old soldiers will not have to pay a nickel to ride.

It was announced from G. A. R. headquarters this morning that the Utah Light & Railway company had, without solicitation, proffered 10,000 tickets to be used on the road during the encampment week. To say that the generous offer of the company is appreciated is putting it mildly. In addition to the free tickets the company also will furnish free the current necessary for the public decorations.

PITTSBURG COMING.

Col. Frank Stettin, executive director of the 43rd encampment, is in receipt of a letter from the Pittsburgh, Pa. delegation, stating that that body will consist of a big party of visitors, and they will come with flags, banners and pretty women. A copy of the letter was enclosed in the letter and the visitors promise to create a great deal of interest while here.

Another communication was received from the department of Connecticut at New London, stating that at the 42nd annual encampment of that department the following resolution was adopted:

Resolved: That the representatives and delegates from this department present to the National encampment at Salt Lake City, Utah, the name of our beloved, Past Department Commander, Alfred B. Beers, for Junior vice commander-in-chief.

EMERGENCY HOSPITALS.

Dr. W. F. Beer, chairman of the medical committee for the G. A. R. encampment has been received and gives details of the plans for the care of the veterans. A general hospital will be located on the lawn tennis grounds of the Groves. Latter-day Saints hospital and an emergency station will be arranged for at 617 Boston building and there will be automobile ambulances, physicians and nurses will be in attendance at both places and also at South Temple and Main street at the grand stand, the living flag and at the corner of every street during the parade. In fact every precaution that could be thought of will be taken to guard against accident and to properly care for those who may have mishaps.

WENT TO SLEEP ON TRUCKS.

Young Man Beating His Way Falls Beneath the Wheels.

(Special to the "News")
Ogden, Utah, July 12.—Frank G. Spencer, a trespasser on a Southern Pacific freight train, was run over this morning at Valmy, 10 miles west of Imlay, Nevada, and had one leg amputated.

ed by the trucks and the other literally torn from his body. The young man was riding the trucks of a freight car, went to sleep in his dangerous position and fell under the moving train.

The injuries are of such a character that death is momentarily expected. The unfortunate young man retained his senses and was able to give his name and to state that he lived at Lexington, Ky.

RELIEF FROM HEAT.

Welcome Showers Bring Some Change In the Temperature Today.

There were changes in the weather yesterday, but they were entirely local to this valley. They brought relief from the intense heat of the previous few days, and made last night endurable for sleeping. The day was cloudy for the most part, but the close, muggy atmosphere sent "every body" out to the resorts and the canyons. About 4 p. m. the rain and winds materialized, and rain fell with vigor. At Saltair there were 3,000 visitors and 1,000 bathers during the day; but with the advent of the storm, they stopped off short. The steamer Iron was caught out in the bluffs, but "weathered the gale," as that boat generally does. Some 1,500 people went up Emigration canyon but the rain put a stop to the traffic. Both at Liberty park and at Fort Douglas, many people had gathered to hear the afternoon band concert, but the rain put a stop to the musical proceedings. The rain did not last long, but the wind kept up for several hours. The temperature was lowered the excessive humidity, which had been 54 per cent. There was very little rain over the country, and that the temperature generally was high, was evident with the mercury at 104 in Miles City, Mont. The indications are for continued fair weather for the morning.

The barometric pressure is lowest over the south plateau and north Atlantic states, producing showers or thunder storms over portions of Utah, Colorado, Wyoming, west Texas, Manitoba, Missouri, Ohio valley, Gulf and Atlantic states. Heavy rainfall is reported at Winnipeg, 1.20 inches.

GOVERNOR OFFERS REWARD.

Five Hundred Dollars for the Murderer of John Jarvie.

This morning Gov. Spry offered a reward of $500 for the arrest and conviction of the murderers who robbed and murdered John Jarvie, who was killed in his hut at Bridgeport, Uintah county, on July 6.

Prof. James E. Talmage and County Attorney Peter Hanson of Uintah county, are interested in the matter and each wrote to Gov. Spry asking that a reward be offered for the apprehension of the murderers.

The officers have a clue which they hope will lead to the arrest of the criminals. Two men who were known to have left Rock Springs on the day before the murder were seen in the vicinity of the hut, occupied by Jarvie and after the murder a trail of blood was followed from the hut to the river and the two men were followed some distance by two sons of the murdered man.

FEDERAL COURT.

The following cases came up before Judge John A. Marshall in the United States district court this morning:

In the case of Fred Butler vs. the Ohio Copper company, heretofore admitted defendant, the demurrer was overruled and ten days given in which to file an answer. The suit is for $20,000 for injuries received.

In the suit of Leslie L. Carter vs. the Red Warrior Mining company, the demurrer of defendant to the amended complaint was overruled and 10 days were given in which to file an answer.

In the smelter smoke case of James Godfrey et al. vs. the American Smelting & Refining company and others, the cause was heard this morning on testimony and proofs taken before the examiner on application of defendant for the moderation of the decree. The testimony was submitted without argument.

The damage suit of the Wood-Hagenbarth cattle company against the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railroad was dismissed on the motion of T. C. Edwards, attorney for the plaintiff, the costs being assessed against the plaintiff. The suit was for loss of cattle in transit, neglect on the part of the railroad company being alleged.

In the case of the Silver King Coal Mining company vs. the Silver King Coalition Mines company, Aug. 25 was set by consent of the attorneys as the date for taking testimony and the date previously set on July 12 was ordered set aside.

The order which was made recently dismissing a number of bankruptcy cases which were not filed on time, was set aside by Judge Marshall today.

BOY BREAKS BOTH ARMS.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Buchner Falls from Rafter.

A serious accident happened to Walter Buchner, the 8-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Buchner of Forest Dale, about 6 o'clock last evening, in which both arms of the lad were fractured. The boy fell from the rafters of the second story of a new home being built by Mr. Buchner. Both bones in the right arm were broken and one in the left was fractured. A physician was hurriedly called and attended to the injuries. The lad is reported to be getting along nicely this afternoon.

REALTY EXPERT BACK FROM TRIP TO EGYPT

W. G. Tuttle Discovers That Ramesses II Is Not Much to Look at Right Now.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Tuttle returned Saturday evening, from their seven months' trip through Europe and parts of Asia and Africa. They had a very pleasant time all the way, and are entertaining their friends with narratives of their experiences. Mr. Tuttle was generally interested in what they saw in Egypt where explorations and archaeological investigations are being conducted on a scale hitherto undreamed of; and he says the discoveries resulting therefrom are corroborative of Old Testament statements and narratives, the "higher criticism" to the contrary notwithstanding. Mr. Tuttle gazed with some emotion on the impressive, expressionless features of Ramesses II, the Pharaoh of the Exodus, who "would not let Israel go" until the destroying angel passed over Egypt and there was mourning in all the land over the death of each family's first born. Mr. Tuttle says Ramesses did not strike him as anything very great.

Ramesses was a rather spare man whose avoirdupois was in an inverse ratio to the acreage of his temper. For a man of his size, Mr. Tuttle thought he kicked up considerable of a rumpus; but he hasn't done much in that line for several thousand years. The mummy is well preserved, in good condition for ethnological study. Mr. Tuttle also gazed with more or less pathos on the well preserved countenance of Seti I, also one of Egypt's heavy imperial artillery. Seti was calm and seemed to perfectly self possessed, that Mr. Tuttle thought he must have been evolving a new system of philosophy during all these years, and had it about ready for publication. It was with difficulty that he could persuade himself that Seti was dead. But Mr. Tuttle's feelings were the most deeply stirred when he saw the mummified face of one of Egypt's most beautiful priestesses. Previously he had entertained the idea that the Egyptian countenance was more expressive of ignorance, but he became speedily convinced that the most beautiful faces over the world must have been found among the ladies of Egypt.

Another peculiarity that attracted Mr. Tuttle's attention, was the fact that the great Egyptians seemed all to have died at that period which Americans call "young." They did not live out more than their teens. The Salt Lake found this highly interesting fact that a second Sphinx had been excavated close to Alexandria, which is about one-half the size of the one near the great pyramids. It was not known at the time of the founding of this city, by Alexander the Great, that such a thing was in existence. Mr. and Mrs. Tuttle found it necessary to keep a sharp eye on the Redoubts while in Syria, as the feeling there against the hated "Frank" is very strong, so that even walking out on the streets of Damascus after supper is attended with dangers. The Mt. of Olives, they found the Greek and Roman Catholics had erected chapels on two rocks not very far apart. From each one of which Christ was claimed to have arisen and left an indentation from his foot in the stone.

Piano Purchase Checks Certificates of Credit. What Are They?

A certain piano house of this city of more or less reputation has suddenly become anxious as to the definition of "Piano Purchase Checks," so anxious, in fact, they are willing to pay out good money to find out. We herewith give our definition and demand the prize money.

The Answer

A "piano purchase check," "certificate of credit," "piano coupon," etc., is an evidence of discount, a promise of so much credit on the price of the piano, a memorandum, stating he would allow you the discount of $7.50 within a certain time, from the regular price, that slip of paper or memorandum would be the same as a "Purchase Check," "Certificate of Credit," etc.

IN OTHER WORDS, a "Purchase Check" or "Certificate of Credit" is an EVIDENCE OF DISCOUNT, something tangible, something to show that you have something.

Be Sure to Read This

In the Salt Lake Tribune, Sunday, May 2, 1929, this same piano house that is so anxious to find out about certificates or credit or purchase checks, in a large advertisement called the public attention to the contest for four Kimball pianos and the certificates of credit as prizes to be given away, these certificates of credit to be good on the purchase of Kimball pianos. (This same house advertises itself as exclusive Kimball agent.)

To bring the whole matter clearly before the public, to enlighten this house that seems to forget what it has done and fails to realize what it is doing, we propound the following.

Questions

- 1—Were the prize pianos given away?
- 2—Were the Certificates of Credit issued?
- 3—If they really did issue the Certificates of Credit, why, at this late date, are they trying to find out what are Certificates of Credit?
- 4—If they did not issue the Certificates of Credit, is it not possible for a number of people who worked to win them were, well—disappointed?
- 5—Is it not a case of "sour grapes?"

To the person sending us the best answers to the above questions within the next three days we will pay $20.00 in gold, and will publish the answers in full, with or without the winner's name, as desired.

$1,000 Reward

We will pay above reward to any charitable institution in this city, to be designated by the mayor, if it is shown that the Daynes-Beebe Music Co. do not carry out to the letter every promise, every detail of their great CONTEST OF SKILL, that the Certificates of Credit will not be given as advertised that the pianos will not be awarded ABSOLUTELY FREE to the persons winning. Every knock is a boost. We are ready for the knockers. We are in the right and know where we stand.

Our Judges—

Hon. B. H. Roberts, Mayor John S. Bransford, Senator Stephen H. Love assure every contestant a fair, square deal. This is a CONTEST OF SKILL. The winners actually win, AND GET WHAT THEY WIN.
