It was remarked today by several lo-cal educators that while there are "col-leges" to throw at the birds all through the western country, there is not one great preparatory school west of the Mussissippi; that is a preparatory school that has a national reputation like Phillips academy at Andover, the Fhillips academy at Exeter, the St. Paul school, the Pennsylvania Military academy, the Mercersburg academy, or the noted schools on the Hudson. It was argued that Salt Lake is just the place for a great western preparatory school or academy, and that with m hey and good judgment, such an in-stitution might be started here that would bring in boys from all over the west, and prepare for all of the big universities. Carl Scheu, a son of Charles H. Scheu, the well known mining man, met with an accident while playing football in Los Angeles Thursday which resulted in a broken collar bone. The young man is a football enuchsiast and is a student at the preparatory school in the city of the Angels. He was playing on a team of boys prepar-ing for Yale; the opposite side being composed of boys preparing for Har-yard. vard.

Judge Tanner of the city court has rendered judgment by default in favo; of plaintiff for $499 in the case of Hans Wielsen against Alva F. Couley. The action was brought to recover the above amount as damages for alienat-ing the affections of plaintiff's wife. Defendant did not appear at the trial and the only testimony introduced was 1865 they began their labors. After gleaning this country and Europe they found in Japan remedies that were re-garded of extraordinary value, and the Japanese method of applying them made these simple remedies still more valuable. After more than 30 years of gleaning they have finally given to the world in "Vitalogy" a volume whose practical value can hardly be measured by money. In fact it must prove a "bonanza" in any home. It can truly be termed a "Hard Times Book" for there is scarce-iy a family in this land to whom it would not prove a saving of many dolyould not prove a saving of many dol The more needy a family is, or the harder the times are, the more valu-able this book is to them. The value of this book lies not alone in saving money, and saving suffering and often life itself; there is another consideration that is of no less importance, for it will be the means of pre-venting people from taking drugs into the system. As the Japanese would say, "taking an unknown medicine into an un.'nown stormach to produce an un-known effect."

Drugs generally leave a deposit in the body that weakens or injures it for the rest of life. We often take medicine and think that the medicine cures us. Yet we get well in spite of the medicine. The following is a pertinent para-graph from the writings of the late Dr. B. F. Clayton: "No greater imposition could be practised on the people than to foist uron them the so-called Family Doctor Bocks found in almost every home, that advise drug remedies which only a trained physician is capable of prescribing. If some one would bring out a tock of Home Remedies, regular grandmother's remedies, he would have something that would be a blessing in arthing that would be a blessing in The literary division of this book is, too, of special importance, as every part of it is of actual money value to the reader.-Morning Chronicle.
