PRIESTHOOD MEETING.

There was a large attendance at the Priesthood meting of the Utah Stake held Saturday. President John gave timely counsel to presidents of quorum; In regard to instructing the members in the principles of the Gospel, and urged that the young be instructed in the principles of truth, honesty and that every possible protection by thrown around them to prevent them from falling into sin. Counselor Keeler spoke of the necessity for more thorough training and teaching of the Saints, who understood the needs of the people, that the young might become qualified by rea-son of their home training and discipline to meet and withstand tempta-

Elder M. H. Hardy spoke briefly on tithing and the Word of Wisdom, and the blessings to be gained by observing these principles,

The following brethren were sus-tained for the ordination of Elders: Elmo Cluff, Pleasant View ward; Wm. B. Ruff, Scofield; Benjamin Wrids, Louis A. Stewart, John Thurgood, John J. Harding, R. E. Allen, Provo; Wm. E. Hansen, John P. Madsen, Vineyard.

DEATH OF A VETERAN. Joseph Sawyer, one of Provo's oldest citizens, died yesterday morning at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Henthe nome of his daughter, Mrs. Hen-rietta Taylor, after about six weeks' illness from general debility. The de-ceased was born in Britlingsea, Essex, England, July 10, 1816. He became a member of the Church in Swansea, Wales, in a very early day, and in 1850 immigrated to Utah with his family. After further in Sait Lobe City for one After living in Salt Lake City for one year he moved to Provo, where he has since made his home. He engaged in gardening and fruit-growing in an early day, and was successful in that business. Brother Sawyer was most kindly and genial in his disposition and modest and unassuming in his intercourse with his fellow men, attending strictly to his own affairs, and by reason of these qualities he was highly respected and beloved by a large cir-cle of acquaintances and friends. About eight years ago he received his second sight, and after that time has had no use for the aid of spectacles in reading. He enjoyed a vigorous old age, and dropped peacefully to sleep when the time for his departure came. He leaves two daughters, Mrs. Henrietta Taylor, of this city, and Mrs. John Watkin, of Midway, thirteen grandchildren, who can all look with affec tionate pride on the useful, honorable life of their progenitor. The funeral was held today from the Second ward

meeting house. FUNERAL OF MRS. WM. C. ROB-ERTS.

The funeral services over the remains of Mrs. Ann M. Evert Roberts, held in the Second ward meeting house yesterday, were attended by a large congre-gation of sorrowing relatives an and friends of the deptarted and the strick-after a lingering illness of more than seven months. Brother Teeples was stricken with rheumatism in June last and from that time he has been gradually growing worse until death called him away; during his sickness he suffered great pain; Bro Teeples leaves a wife and seven children to mourn his death, one son and six daughters, and a host of friends. Just prior to his death he had his daughter write a short sketch of his experiences during the early days, in part as follows: "I was born in Jackson county, Missouri, Feb. 10, 1838. The day I was one year old, my parents were driven out of Missouri; about one year after we got to Nauvoo where we remained until 1844; then my father moved about 60 miles from Nauvoo into Skiller county, to take charge of Hyrum Smith's farm. While there the Prophet Joseph and Hyrum visited us frequently, so that I became acquainted with them and learned to love them. We remained on the farm until the Prophet Joseph and his brother Hyrum were kiled. The day of the martydrom my father was held as a prisoner, but was soon released; he went to the Bluffs as one of the CENTERFIELD. Meeting and Schools Still Closed Through Fear of Diphtheria.

Special Correspondence. Centerfield, Sanpete Co., Feb. -Cold weather continues, but with little snow in the valley. Our meetings and schools were to have started at once, but owing to a new case of sore throat in the family of Bishop Andrew Fjeldsted, and its nearness to meeting and school buildings, it was thought wise to wait an-other week at least. The case was quarantined on Friday last for safety gainst the probable exposure. No one has been near the place since that night to further investigate the case. The family informed the writer this morning that the "patient" is appar-ently well. They think it but a cold and that nothing serious will develop The case which caused our schools to closed two weeks ago, proved only to be sore throat, and not diphtheria. house was fumigated yesterday

We hope the time will soon come when our schools will not have to suffer thus.

EPIDEMIC OF MEASLES.

There are at present twenty-two families in our ward which have from two to five children who are afflicted with the disease, making a total of 76 cases, many of which have been at death's door during the worst stage of their illness, but it is hoped that kind providence will allow all to recover and return again to their courses in school and other occupations. Today's report is that nearly all are improving slowly. Much ill-feeling exists among the people on account of the carelessness man-ifested by the young lady who exposed our community, for the reason she knew of her exposure and could have avoided the spread of the disease to a great extent. Measles is the only disease that exists among us and it is the prayer of all that it will soon cease. We have very cold weather at pres-ent and considerable snow which makes

La Grande, Ore., Feb. 1.-This winter has been favorable for the farmers of this valley, stock has wintered out un-til a short time ago. A cold wave struck us last Friday. This was followed by an 8 of 10 inch fall of snow. Everybody rejoicing in the prospects of a good crop this year; business is lively. i.a Grande, the largest city, is an up-to-date city of five thousand people, and supports five butcher shops, six hardware stores, and a great many modern business homes. Goods are about as cheap as in Salt Lake City. The city contains some of the prettiest nodein residences in the northwest. Many large farms are being divided to accommodate beet raisers and those desiring to follow diversified farming. Among the largest of these farms is that of the wheat king, Mr. Conley, who raised upwards of two hundred thou-sand bushels of grain per year. He sold 7,500 acres of his immense farm; this being subdivided and a large part will be planted to sugar beets this Many other excellent farms can be pur-chased at very reasonable prices.

At least a hundred families are ex-pected to locate here this spring, and there is room for several hundred more. The sugar beets raised here last year were among the richest in the world.
