

OBITUARY.

Died at Huntsville, Weber Co., U. T., June 6th, 1877, of heart disease, Mary Jane, wife of Bishop F. A. Hammond; aged 45 years, 10 months and 7 days. She was the daughter of Caleb and Eliza Dilworth. Born at Uehland, Chester Co., Penn., June 29th, 1831. She early embraced the gospel, being baptized at the age of fifteen; moved to Nauvoo in April, 1846; wintered at Winter Quarters, and arrived at Salt Lake City in the fall of 1847 in one of the first regular emigrant trains, with the family of Bro. Wm. Bringham; married by President Heber C. Kimball, Nov. 17th, 1848. She, in company with her husband, went as a missionary to the Sandwich Islands, remaining there and laboring faithfully, during six years and three months, as school teacher, including needle work, thereby endearing herself to the natives in such a manner as to gain the loving title of mother.

She also attended to the wants of the missionaries, and though her labors were manifold she never complained of her lot—though isolated from friends and home—always ready to comfort the afflicted and teach the ignorant. She there gained a name that will never perish while "Mormonism" lasts with the Sandwich Islanders. Her home was a home for the missionaries, and as Elder George Q. Cannon said in his discourse at the funeral services—she was in word and in deed a SISTER. While there she gave birth to three children, thereby adding to her other cares.

She, with her husband, returned in time to share in the trials and troubles of the move South—the same uncomplaining, patient trust in the goodness of God characterizing her every move.

Shortly after the return from the South, she settled in Ogden City. There she manifested the spirit of a true pioneer in encouraging the building up of the place. While there she made many friends by her suavity of manners and gentleness of spirit. From Ogden she moved with her partner in life to Huntsville, Ogden Valley; shortly after she was appointed as President of the Relief Society, acting as such to the day of her death. Her labors in this capacity were arduous; always at her post, though the mother of six sons and six daughters—the last but sixteen days old at the day of her death—she was never found wanting; always listening to the counsels of her superiors, she could thereby give counsel to others, and her counsel, wherever or whenever sought, was given in wisdom, founded upon correct principle. Her death cast a gloom over the entire community, for she was, in the sense of the elliptical phrase, a wife, mother, and friend—Bishop F. A. Hammond for time has lost a wife—her sons and daughters a mother, and the entire community a friend; but in the resurrection of the just, upon which her thoughts were during her last days, they will meet never more to part, provided they make their footsteps to follow in the path she has marked out.

The funeral services were held in the school-house, Thursday, the 7th inst. Present on the stand were Elder George Q. Cannon, Presidents D. H. Peery and Lester J. Herrick, Doctor Seymour Young, Bro. George Nebeker and others from Salt Lake City and Ogden. The meeting house was draped in black, and was crowded to overflowing. Elder Geo. Q. Cannon spoke in touching terms of the worth and labors of the departed, and delivered an excellent discourse upon the resurrection, reading from chap. xix, Book of Alma, Book of Mormon, 318th page. He was followed by Presidents D. H. Peery and Lester J. Herrick. The remarks were consoling to all, especially to the bereaved family.

The procession, consisting of forty-seven carriages and wagons, proceeded to the new grave yard, west of Huntsville, where after singing, Elder G. Q. Cannon dedicated the ground for the interment of the Saints. Thus, even in death, Sister Mary J. Hammond is a pioneer.

Sister Hammond kept her senses until the last breath, and held firmly to the faith and a hope in the resurrection.

"Oh, Death! where is thy sting? Oh, Grave! where is thy victory?"

CHAS. WRIGHT,
—Ogden Junction.

PULLMAN PALATIAL CARS.

To be always in advance with everything that tends to the safety and comfort of its patrons, is the policy of the Chicago and North-Western Railway. Its last achievement in this line is the placing on its route between Omaha and Chicago, a line of the world-renowned Pullman Hotel cars. These are not the too-well-known road-side eating-house placed on wheels and called a dining car, that is attached to the train for a few miles and is then "set off," but they are the elegant modern Pullman Hotel cars, that run through with the balance of the train; and in them you get luxurious drawing room sleeping berths, and at the same time secure your meals without leaving your car.

The kitchens of these cars are so arranged that no odors from the cooking viands can possibly reach the occupants of the berths. No person, no matter how particular he or she may be, can have cause to make objections on this score.

These celebrated cars are run over the Chicago & Northwestern

Railway only between Omaha and Chicago. East-bound, they leave the Transfer depot, opposite Omaha, at 5.15 p.m., daily, except Saturday

(and every third Saturday), and reach Chicago the next afternoon.

No other road west of Chicago runs these celebrated cars, or any form of Hotel Cars. s&w2
