REV. TALBOT'S REMARKS.

Superintendent H. J. Talbott of the Utah mission read a lengthy report of the work done here since the last conference, making his sixth annual report. On behalf of the entire mission he ex-On behalf of the entire mission he ex-tended a most hearty welcome to Bishop Berry, and expressed the hope that the distinguished visitor would long he spared to work for the cause of the Master. Rev. Talbott stated there were no deaths among the work-ers during the year, and that the fealth of the officers was generally good. He referred to the work of the woman's home missionary society, and the home missionary society, and the special meetings held, and stated that the sum of $1.20 per member had been for more this year. With reference to this field, Supt. Talbott said in part: "The Utah mission is unlike any other "The Dian mission is unlike any other mission on the earth, above the earth, under the earth or even under the wa-ters of the earth." Several times he referred to what he called "peculiar conditions," and suggested that there conditions." and suggested that there be a sort of federation of the churches, -"except one"—and that a commission-be appointed to work together on a common ground "for' the spread of. ged honesty. A child of the frontiers, he always carried with him the somewhat rough, but ever genuine manners of the westerner, and it was these traits, combined with his physical strength and his wide acquaintance with men, which commended him to the Presi-dent of the United States, when he was appointed United States Marshal for Utah. That Postoffice Inspector C. D. Lowe was not seriously injured yesterday afternoon is due to the fact that he was afternoon is due to the fact that he was not sitting in his accustomed place at his desk when James Kenworthy, a Wyoming sheepherder, threw a large stone through the glass door of the office. The stone, which was almost as large as a man's two fists, struck In-spector Lowe's chair on the far side of the desk, so that it would probably have struck the inspector in the chest had he been in his chair. Kenworthy was arrested a short time afterwards and taken to the office of United States Marshal James H. An-derson, where he was questioned by Assistant United States Attorney Me-Crea. About all that could be got out of him was that Love had robbed him for Utah Ben Heywood was a fighter, but he always believed in fighting on square. Peace to his memory.

NEW BUILDING ON STATE.

A new three-story building will soon be built on State street just north of Assistant United States Attorney Me-Crea. About all that could be got out of him was that Lowe had robbed him of a large sum of money, which he said was mailed to him from different places. Later he said it was "those students on the hill" that he was after. It was apparent to those who ques-tioned him that he was not in his right mind, and he was turned over to the sheriff and taken to the county jall. His arrest was due to the work of the Bungalow theater as the home of the National Cash Register system in the National Cash register system is this city. The building will cost be-tween $30,000 and $40,000, and will be built by Oscar Groshell, who has the agency of the company. The building will have a frontage of 47 feet and a depth of 140 feet. The two upper floors will be used for hotel purposes, and will be fitted with every modern comfort and convenience, including shower baths in the rooms. His excest was due to the work of William W.
