Fearfully Fatal Fire.

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 12.—A fire broke out this evening at the Northern Ohio Insane Asylum during the weekly dance given the more tractable of the patients. While they were enjoying themselves, the cry of "Fire" was raised, and the flames and smoke suddenly poured into the dancing hall, creating a fearful panic among the 350 inmates. As soon as the first excitement abated, the attendants made a courageous rush and removed the unfortunates who had been overcome. The bodies of six women who had been suffocated were recovered. Three more were found in an injured condition. Two of the dead were unrecognizable. The others were Mrs. Margaret Pitts, Jennie Hamm, Miss Evelyn Scribner and Mrs. Charlotte Knowlton. One of the injured may die. But for the

of the physicians and attendants who rushed into the blinding smoke and flames and dragged the terror-stricken insane people from the hall, the loss of life must have been terrible. The fire started in the laundry, a one-story building which adjoins the wing in which the chapel is located. The prompt response and the active work of the firemen prevented a disastrous spread of the flames. The loss of property will fall below $25,000. Had the fire occurred any other night of the week, there would have been no loss of life.

THE CRIMINALS.

Two More Defaulting Cashiers- A Mystery Cleared Up, Etc.

HARTFORD, Conn., Oct. 12.—B. S. Hicks, cashier of the Stafford Springs National Bank and treasurer of the Savings Bank in the same place, was arrested to day by the United States Marshal. The charge is misappropriation of the bank funds to a large amount. The bank is closed.

STAFFORD SPRINGS, Conn., Oct. 12.—A

was created here this afternoon when the fact became known that R. S. Hicks, cashier of the Stafford National Bank, was a defaulter to a large amount. Upon the bank's door was the notice that the institution was closed pending an investigation. National Bank Examiner Forman said to an Associated Press correspondent:

When I examined the Stafford bank I discovered that checks had been drawn by R. S. Hicks, treasurer, on the Third National Bank of Springfield, Mass., to the amount of $13,200. I then suspected something decidedly wrong in the bank's affairs, and upon further investigation discovered the cashier had only $300 to his credit. The exact amount of the deficit can be ascertained when all the checks that have been drawn on New York and Boston banks are presented and statements rendered by these banks. The

to the institution will be over $100,000, and of this amount the cashier confesses to have taken $73,000. The capital stock of the bank is $200,000 and the surplus $27,000, while the undivided profits amount to $3,000. A large number of false entries appear on the books, consisting of over statements of amounts due the bank from its New York and Boston correspondents. The falsity of these entries has been clearly shown by a careful comparison of his books with the accounts of the New York and Boston banks.

The latest investigation shows the bank is practically ruined, having only $11,000 on hand. Hicks resided here twenty years, was an influential member of the Episcopal Church and a public-spirited citizen. He is 40 years old and married. It is asserted he has been interested in speculation for an extended time.

THE ANARCHISTS.

CHICAGO, Oct. 12.—Captain Black and Mr. Solomon, counsel for the condemned anarchists, started for New York this afternoon to confer with General Pryor and J. Randolph Tucker. They took with them the transcript of the record, which makes 8,950 pages.

LONDON, Oct. 12.—After all the evidence was submitted in the Mitchellstown inquest yesterday, Harrington asked that a verdict of wilful murder be returned against Head Constable Brown Rigg and the five policemen who fired under his order. Harrington accused Rigg of deliberately planning the murder. The jury returned a verdict of murder against Rigg, Sergeants Kerwan, Ryder and Brennan, and Constables Gavan and Dorance.

BOTH MURDERED.

PORTLAND, Or., Oct. 12.—The Oregonian's Colfax, Washington Territory, special: The bodies of Mrs. Heary and child, aged 18 months, living near De Smet Mission, were found this morning murdered in bed. Both throats were cut. There was evidence that the woman struggled hard with the assassin, her hands being gashed to the bone. The husband was away from home. It is suspected that Indians were the murderers. It is impossible to divine the motive.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 12.—A special from Ponchatoula, Louisville, to the Picayune, says: Monday afternoon a negro drowned his wife because she refused to live with him any longer. While she was drowning her brother came upon the scene and fired into his sister's murderer, who sank with the body of his victim to the bottom of the Amite River.

FRANKLIN, Mass., Oct. 12.—David L. Stain was arrested to-day by Boston officers charged with being concerned in the Dexter (Maine) bank robbery and the murder of the treasurer, J. W. Barron, nine years ago. Stain lived here several years and has worked at boot and shoe repairing. He is reported to be worth several thousand dollars. Only $300 in money and $500 in registered bonds were secured in the robbery.

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—The World tomorrow will publish a story, twelve columns in length, giving the results of its investigations into the robbery of the Dexter (Maine) bank, February 22nd, 1878, and of its treasurer, J. W. Barron, which led to the arrest at Franklin, Massachusetts, to-day, of D. L. Stain, charged with the crime. The arrest was made on the confession of Charles Francis Stain, the son of the prisoner. The confession is to the effect that David Stain, Oliver Smith alias Cromwell, a well-known criminal, and four other men—Andrews, Scott, Thompson and Keely—secured duplicate keys to the bank; that Stain and Cromwell entered the bank, believing everybody out of it. Stain was in front, and going through the door, came face to face with Barron whom he knocked senseless with a slung-shot. He and Cromwell then gagged and bound Barron, and fearing interruption did not dare rifle the vault, though the doors stood open, merely contenting themselves with taking the

from the cash drawer. They were afterwards driven to Skowhegan by young Stain, and separated the next day after learning of Barron's death. From that day to this the guilty parties dropped out of sight and the murder has been one of the standing police mysteries.

AT KANSAS CITY.

Brief Stop at Sioux City and Omaha.

OMAHA, Oct. 12.—Mrs. Cleveland was delighted with everything she saw at Sioux City and turned again and again to examine more closely some unique fabrication of corn stalks, husks, ears of kernels to which her escort called her attention. There was the wax maiden with her hair of corn silk and robe of satin husks, climbing a winding stair of golden ears; the spider of tiny carrots lying in wait in his web of corn fibres; the map of the Union made of kernels, each state having its especial color; the huge national flag and shields, eagles, crescents, crosses and emblems of various nations; the mottoes from the dominant ceres imperatrice to the multitudinous and varied "Welcomes," all made of the unshelled ears, were noted and admired in turn, and then the

of a building whose sole material except its skeleton was the product of the corn field, was explained in detail, and its conception, history and construction described by the party's conductors and admired by the guests.

From the palace the visitors were conducted through the town, which seemed to be constructed in great part of corn products. Mammoth triumphal arches still spanned the chief thoroughfares. Signs of sections of corn ears, and awnings, verandas and in some cases entire fronts of corn trapped out with squashes and pumpkins were as their architects had planned and made them.

THE SHOW

furnished the chief subject of conversation during the forenoon's ride to Omaha, where new scenes and novelties claimed their attention. The ride down the Missouri Valley from Sioux City through endless stretches of waving corn showed the significance of Sioux City's exhibition.

At Council Bluffs Senator Manderson, Congressman McShane and a committee of gentlemen from Omaha boarded the train and welcomed the President to "God's country," which they claimed lay just beyond the river.

Senator Paddock, Congressman Dorsey and the remaining members of the reception committee, composed of prominent residents and municipal authorities, welcomed the city's guests. The carriage to which the President and his wife were escorted was one mass of roses, wreaths of which also bedecked the horses.

A MULTITUDE

of many thousands cheered the party on its appearance, and cheers and salutes were its accompaniment throughout the city. The streets had been hastily but richly adorned with streamers and devices in gay colors and banners were flying. "Welcome to the President," couched in every form of patriotic or poetic phrase, spanned the way. The second regiment U. S. Infantry, Knights of Pythias in uniform, from all points of the state, and several political and social organizations, were drawn up in line along the street sides, each with its brass band and colors. One of the organizations which attracted the especial attention of the President was a company of full-blood Indian youths from the Genoa industrial school, with an Indian

BAND OF MUSIC.

OMAHA, Oct. 12.—Governor Thayer and Congressman McShane rode with the President and Mrs. Cleveland and pointed out as mere subordinate interests of the ride the corner lots and business properties which belong to the lady of the White House as one of the Folsom heirs. A momentary pause was made at the high school, the most commanding eminence of the neighborhood, to give an opportunity to view at one glance the city and the long sweep of the Missouri. Thence the cortege drove through the residence streets of the town back to the station.

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 12.—The President's Omaha entertainers seemed unwilling to let him go, and the train was fully three-quarters of an hour behind time when it got away. At Plattsmouth, Hamburg and other places the people were and though the train did not stop, displayed their enthusiasm very effectively. In the outskirts of St. Joseph Congressman Burns and Mr. Hartwick, president of the Board of Trade, boarded the train and besought the President to make a longer stay than the allotted half hour. This he refused to do. The artillery, church bells and steam whistles heralded the arrival at St. Joe depot. The town was jammed with natives and many strangers. The mayor and reception committee received the President and escorted him to a carriage. The procession then started up town. A stop was made for a moment at Central Square, where the pupils of the Convent of the Sacred Heart handed the President a beautiful floral flag, while those of the public school gave Mrs. Cleveland a costly filled with roses. The streets were handsomely decorated, and the crowd for the most part was orderly except on the return to the depot, when the crush caused by the frantic attempt of the thousands of people to get into close quarters with the President, made it a work of pain and danger for his fellow excursionists to make their way to the train, a work in which the committee and the police rendered but little aid.

Among the souvenirs of the St. Joseph visit which Mrs. Cleveland brought away was one found in her car after the train had left. It was an elegant memorial satchel, on which was printed "To Mrs. Frances Folsom Cleveland. St. Elizabeth Society greets you with the salutation of benediction on this October 12th, 1887."

was a legend stating that the donors deemed it not inappropriate on this occasion to point to the parallelism of the circumstances of Mrs. Cleveland's present state with that of that society's patron, Elizabeth, Queen of Hungary, which made that queen a prototype of the society. Called in the first flower of her youth and beauty to preside over a nation, she was distinguished even beyond her queenliness for her simplicity, benignity and charity. It closed with an expression of the hope that Mrs. Cleveland's life like that of Queen Elizabeth, might be a halo of virtue and holiness and that her bright example might live forever.

The train arrived at Kansas City on time at 8:50. At the depot and for blocks around, an immense throng had gathered and a went up as the train stopped and the party emerged. The procession made its way to the Coates House where the guests retired for a brief rest. The police arrangements in the streets were admirable and the throng was kept well back from the carriage. The trades display this evening marched past the hotel soon after the arrival of the party.

Shortly after 9 o'clock the President and wife appeared in the parlors and for an hour received members of the reception committee and their friends. After they had retired to their rooms the cheers of the crowd in the street caused them to appear on the balcony for a moment.

What might have been a very serious accident, occurred just before the party reached the hotel at Ninth and Broadway. Two were standing close to each other. The cable had broken during the day, and the strands had been wrapped with wire. The grip of the second train became entangled in the threads and starting up crowded into the first train. The President's carriage was twenty feet beyond the track when this happened, else his safety and that of his wife would have been imperiled. Of the injured, H. C. Charding will lose both legs; James Johnson (colored) the lower portion of his right leg; Private Wilson, of the Independent Guard, had his head badly cut and F. W. Iligen suffered severe bruises. It is thought if any others were injured they were not seriously hurt.

The Crown Prince's Condition.

BERLIN, Oct. 12.—In an interview to-day Dr. McKenzie said the crown prince's general health was good, but unhappily there are symptoms which cause anxiety. The chronic catarrh of the larnyx tends to induce acute inflammation of the wind pipe. The crown prince had such an attack accompanied by a high fever during his stay at Toblach. The acute inflammation of the wind pipe was speedily cured by treatment. The southern climate also had a good effect, but the acute inflammation of the mucous membrane makes us fear a recurrence, in which event the inflammation of the deeper lying tissues may occur, which might cause changes in those tissues. The principal part of the doctor's work now is to prevent another attack of inflammation of the windpipe. This can only be accomplished by residence in a warmer climate and the avoidance of conversation. The crown prince will go to San Remo or Moravia. His trouble is obstinate larnyxal catarrh.

THE RAILWAY HORROR.

The Company's Secretiveness Still Maintained.

HUNTINGTON, Ind., Oct. 12.—Testimony before the coroner here as to the horrible collision on the Chicago & Atlantic Railroad near Kouts began with the deposition of J. B. Park, conductor of the passenger train. He testified that his train was nearly two hours late, having broken the eccentric strap on the engine between Hurlburt and Boone Grove. "We stopped for water east of Boone Grove," he continued. "In three minutes train No. 48 struck us on the rear end and telescoped the sleeper into the ladies' car, the smoker and the baggage car. The

at once; we got eighteen passengers out; nine were killed and burned. The semaphore was turned when we stopped. I did not know the freight train was coming. When it struck us it was running at the rate of twenty miles an hour."

All the train men examined claimed the night was foggy, and that the danger signals could not be seen until they were right upon them.

CHICAGO, Oct. 12.—The intense secretiveness of the employes of the Chicago & Atlantic Railroad, regarding the disastrous collision at Kouts, elicited much indignant comment in this city to-day. When the first intimation of the catastrophe was received in Chicago, application was at once made by the representatives of the Associated Press to the general offices of the company. The only result obtainable was that no officer of the company was in the city, that no relief of any kind had been sent from Chicago, and, in short, that no word had been received of the accident whatever. Quite similar has been the course pursued since, at the company's headquarters. A reporter for a local evening paper called at General Manager Broughton's headquarters to-day for information and was informed by the chief clerk that "the accident is none of the newspapers' business and none of the public's business." The young man also refused to furnish a copy of the company's rules which it was claimed had been violated by the employes.

KOUTS, Ind., Oct. 12.—It is about settled that no one definitely how many persons perished in the Chicago & Atlantic horror, and the estimates continue to vary from 30 down to 10. One more of the victims has been identified—a Miss Malone who left Chicago Monday night and was en route for Ireland. The bodies of Dr. Perry and his wife and child were so reduced by the action of the flames that they were easily gotten into a box 14 feet long by 14 inches deep. During the morning an undertaker drove into Kouts with three cheap caskets. One was for the supposed remains of A. Lindburg, who was crushed in the shattered freight cars. In one of the others were placed the incinerated bones of the Perry family and the third was assigned to Miss Malone. The victims were temporarily interred in a peaceful graveyard near the town this afternoon.

The Boulanger Scandal.

PARIS, Oct. 12.—The summary of the plan for the mobilization of the 17th army corps which was divulged by the Figaro was found in the house of General Cossard.

A memorandum of the sums of money received presumably from the sales of the secret has been found in General Laudiaus' house. It is reported that General Laudiaus has gone either to Brussels or Berlin.

The lady who was arrested yesterday on the charge of being implicated in the scandal is Countess St. Stanvier. Other arrests are imminent.

Nebraska Democrats.

OMAHA, Oct. 12.—The democratic state convention nominated Thomas O'Day, of Antelope County, for justice of the supreme court, and Dr. Slycker and Fred. Harris for regents of the state university. The platform endorses Cleveland's administration, re-affirms the principles of the national platform in regard to the reduction of revenues, demands more favorable legislation for the laboring classes, the rigid enforcement of the high license law and opposition to prohibition and all sumptuary laws. Sympathy is extended to Parnell and Gladstone and the cause of Ireland.

Pressmen's Strike.

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—All the pressmen employed in the large concerns of Theodore L. Devinne left in a body at noon, because of Devinne's refusal to make the establishment a card office. Devinne is printer for the Century Company.
