POLLOCK'S WEEKLY REVIEW.

The Market During the Week Was Depressed and Broke Most Stocks.

James A. Pollock says in his weekly mining stock market letter under date of today:

Continuous in the local mining stock market during the past week were not very flattering, many good days going begging. Some of the stocks, even including several of the investment and dividend payers, showed some weakness, although general conditions were as flattering as ever. A comparatively small number of buyers were in, however, and a few small forced sales had a tendency to produce weakness. A few of the heavy stocks are now so shaded in price that it does not seem as though investors would make mistakes by taking almost any of them. There is certainly a large number of splendid buys on the list.

A material improvement in the ore showings at the Ajax is now reported, and it is understood the company is to increase its shipments at an early date. The stock showed no material change during the week. Anchor was to slightly better demand, although comparatively little business was done in the security. Alliance, too and Bullion-Beck practically nothing.

Bullion-Beck's record for August is certainly a very creditable one. On the 5th the company paid a special dividend of 15 cents per share, and on the 20th it will pay a month regular of 10 cents per share, making a total of 45 cents in dividends for the month. The properties are reported to be in very fine condition and the company's treasury most probably is in good shape to permit of the payment of three regular dividends in one month. The stock was in good demand at somewhat advancing quotations during the week. Eureka Hill will pay its usual dividend of 61 per cent on Saturday. Ten cents will be a total of $1 supplied for the properties, or $200,000 since the first dividend-paying period of the company. Dealings in the stock were confined to odd lots, with the quotations practically unchanged from the previous week.

Notwithstanding the coming payment of 25 cents per share, Daly did not materially improve in sales or bids during the week, although the offerings of the stock were on hand. It is yet uncertain as to just how often dividends will be paid, although they will probably come quarterly. Daly West remained strong the entire week and closed $5.50. There was practically no change in Dalton. Dalton at last is returned to pay its usual dividend of 1 cent per share on January 1.

The next paid dividend on Deseret will be a 6½-cent one, on the 15th inst. The properties are being equipped with an improved hoisting plant. Other important developments in the future were the cross-cutting of the 1,000-foot level and the sinking being begun and the shaft timbered and necessitated. Here Silver was inactive. Nothing further has been heard regarding the contested dividend.

Hecla was slightly shaded, for no apparent good reason, as the properties are in good shape, with ore shipments being increased. Hecla's August dividend will be a week or ten days delayed, it is said, at least at all. The company has usually been to extraordinary expense in purchasing new property, all of which has proved of great value, the profits of which are building stocks, and increasing its milling capacity. His successful the directors can count an increased surplus fund, from which it is hoped to be able to not pass the August dividend. The closing of three was not heavy, although the quotations were somewhat shaded. Several small lots of Horn Silver changed hands on the basis of 2.40 to 2.50 for the choice grades. Ontario was quite strong.

Silver King was in good demand at strong quotations. Reports from the Boneiller ore of a very gratifying nature. The stock was slightly lower in the offering. Sun ore was quite used around the 27 mark. Utah has paid to August situated of 2 cents per share.

From the Eureka Democrat.

Flattering reports are received from the Black Chief and have said it is expected a dividend will be paid for that property as an ultimate blueprint to the stockholders.

The Swansea mine of Silver is now running the 300-foot level, and the Four Aces, its near neighbor, has cut the 300-foot station and is drifting. These are the deepest mines in the prosperous south end of the district.

The great Sioux-Ajax tunnel is being pushed ahead at the rate of about 8 feet every 24 hours. The ground is becoming more favorable for rapid progress and a gasoline engine, with 60-inch exhaust pipe is now in the work and keeps the tunnel free from smoke and deleterious gases. New and commodious buildings at backsmith and carpenter shops, engine house and storage have just been completed at the tunnel opening and everything about the property has the appearance of great business.

It bobs very much as though a sell for the great Ajax property was now a certainty. A few days ago Mr. Chaney, one of the heaviest stockholders of the Ajax company, who with H. M. Byllesby and several days has been looking over the property, is desirous to carry of putting up a 150-ton smelter without unnecessary delay. Mr. White is an enthusiast upon the subject of a mill of that kind of capacity would be more than justly favorable action upon the proposition, he will build and operate a mill himself and treat the Ajax ore on a stipulated rate. The tunnel full strike made in the mine will no doubt have a favorable influence in smelting the ores of the Ajax for the month.

We are glad to be able the base to fully verify the report of the rich strike made in the Homeway last week, and to add that the great ore is coming in from the Monmouth northeasterly through the Stone and Utah ore bodies and the Homeway and at a depth of but about 75 feet from the surface. Where the large was encountered by the tunnel face it is strong and well defined body of vein extent and carries a high value in gold, silver and lead. The vein has been cross cut by the tunnel so far a distance of about 15 feet, and the farthermost wall not yet reached, consequently its actual extent cannot be known. But the fact is known and demonstrated by that fine cut that the vast mineral belt southwest latest from the porphyry dykes on the south to the west it incase the granite range on the north, and Bullion-Beck right in a well directed effort backed by Monterey and will open up this fine section of country by opening the smooth slope of Godiva to contain, and a carload of rich mines will be the result that will equal if not eclipse the grand old pioneer camps in the district.

They All Come Back To Hood's Sarsaparilla

"There are 'lots' in medicine as well as in other things," said a long suffering friend the other day, "but the unanimous thing about Hood's Sarsaparilla is that customers who try other remedies all come back to Hood's, and this is why the enormous sale of this medicine is maintained. They try and continue the 'Little Sarsaparilla' and remain steady customers on a basis.

"Why is it?" "O, simply because Hood's Sarsaparilla has more real curative merit than all other blood purifiers."

This is of daily occurrence in almost every drug store. Hood's Sarsaparilla has cured cases no one else could help, and more than one physician recommends it to his friends over medicine.

Hood's Pills act the easy pills to take, with Hood's Sarsaparilla.

$1,000 to its stockholders tomorrow.

Mr. E. G. Matthews was yesterday unanimously elected a member of the Mines Exchange.

The Dalton and Lark will pay its 20th dividend of $12,500 on Monday. A communication from the mine today brought in the item of encouragement.

A good body of ore under ore has been encountered in the Hesslate lead, as of the Monroe Mercur mines. The ore is said to run from $20 to $25 in gold to the ton.

Unless the members of the stock exchange who have not yet paid their $5 assessment do up within five days, their names will be reported to the president for suspension under the rules.

An Atlanta paper states that the cotton industry of the territory was never in a more healthy condition than it is today. The inquiries are full of prosperity, every searching of the prospects. Now conveyances are daily received from different sections, sales of good properties are constantly reported, many new projects of promising character opened, representatives of various capital are arriving in the territory almost daily and are looking for investments. The coming year is to be a boom one for our mines, and the output of mineral will probably be far ahead of that of any other year in our history. Altogether the prospects for the future are most exceedingly bright.

Ogden Jots.

A fatty boy was left on W. A. Snedaker's doorstep, Ogden, at 2 o'clock this morning. It was about six weeks old, and a full supply of clothing was in the basket. There was no clue to the parents. Mr. and Mrs. Snedaker, having eight children of their own, considered they were not in a position to assume the responsibility and decided to let the matter rest with the police, who took charge of the baby.

A large excursion party from Weber county spent today at Saltair.

Louis W. Logan, arrested at Ogden for forgery, attempted to kill himself last night in the Ogden jail by eating a quantity of broken glass. He obtained the supply by breaking a perfume bottle. He is now reported to be out of danger, and is still in a serious condition.

Hazel Peterbye, a California woman, attempted suicide in Ogden yesterday by drinking carbolic acid, because a lover had deserted her. A doctor was called in time to save her life.

Ogden Standard: One of the largest funerals ever held in this place was that held in the North Ogden meeting house, Monday afternoon, for the remains of Elder Wilford E. Croxon of Pleasant View ward, who lays now in the Ogden cemetery as a martyr to the cause for which he gave up his life and so highly prized and strongly advocated. He contracted disease while actively prosecuting his labors as a missionary, succeeding to teach those principles to patients as pregnant with materials that the manufacture of not being very robust was forced to yield, and was brought home in a very weakened condition, and lingered between life and death until the latter claimed its victim on the 9th inst. His many friends of both wards were in attendance at the funeral services, L. W. Shurtliff and C. F. Middleton of the State presidency, and Bishop and the entire healthy men were present on the stand, a number of whom offered remarks, which were interspersed with singing by the male choir of the deceased.

Woman's Committee Meeting.

The Woman's Committee for the excursion to Saltair on the 20th inst. are urgently requested to attend a meeting at the Exponent office on Saturday the 15th, at 4 p. m. Presidents of the several Wards in the city wards are also expected to be present.

R. B. Wells.
In behalf of Committee.

Took a Tumbler.

One of the men employed at the California restaurant last night indicated to the proprietors a desire to throw him out. The proprietor would not "stand for that," so a general mix-up occurred and this morning the employe was awaiting the services of County Physician Wright. The restaurant man had grabbed a glass tumbler on the man's face with calamitous effects.

Political Pointers.

Hon. Parley Williams is no longer a candidate. He says he will vote for Teller in November.

Judge Judd has at last been overcome by the pressure of Hyde and Newbrigade's last New York speech and is.

Judge Quinn of Kingdom says that in the shoulders of voters in the Old Reliable gold camp, but ten to the dozen but will support the single standard.

Judge Powers did not come down from his mountain home this morning to electric. He will, however, arrive on the Brighton stage this week.

The Democratic State committee met at the Knutsford at 2 o'clock to receive reports. The Republican state committee will meet at its headquarters only on the 20th inst.

Lehi Banner: Last week the new Lehi body organized with James P. Evans, president; John L. Mills, clerk, and H. Harding, treasurer. The business committee was appointed and the new body took rank on the basis. The amount was $455.

Senator Frank J. Cannon's address to the Republicans of Utah continues to be the most vigorously discussed political document of the numerous [illegible] county. Its influence among silver Republicans has been very pronounced.

There are days when Sheriff Berry is undistinct—a dignified silence on the matter of becoming a candidate for re-election. Other candidates would like to know what he is going to do, but he is simply "Sayre Wood" and keeps his own counsel.

Provo Enquirer: The speech of Mr. Bryan at New York is the lengthy for us to handle, but it is a masterful effort. He covers the ground of the silver question and handles the subject in a very convincing manner. It is his best for New York, the gold-bug center.

Logan Journal: A row might as well clean the air now as at the Louisiana purchase in this campaign so as to try to resurrect the tariff issue. It has been ignored practically by both parties for four years and its re-creation for campaign purposes is playing out.

In the event that D. C. Dunbar should be elected chairman of the Democratic State committee he will refuse to become a candidate for county clerk. He naturally prefers the latter honor, but realizes friends have urged him to accept the chairmanship of the party in order to unite warring factions.

E. E. Rich's candidacy for a county commissionership is rounding up again, while that of A. S. Gadsby from the same precinct is of larger proportions today than at any time heretofore. Mr. Gadsby's retirement from the Republican State committee has not only increased the chances of his nomination very materially.

The well-known ladies, one a pronounced Democrat and the other a pronounced Republican, while talking over the political situation this morning and both agreed that the fair sex would have to be remembered in the nominations this fall. The county clerkship, recorder ship, board of equalization and legislature are specially held in view by the ladies.

Unless there is an understanding soon between President Sewell and his Democratic colleagues of the City Council there is sure to be trouble. The difficulty is due to a failure or refusal on the part of the president to recognize Councilman Lloyd as a successor to Mr. Elliot on the various committees. At present Mr. Lloyd is without a place in any of the committees. The fact is the gentleman from the Third Municipal Ward has been requested to reconsider the matter, but has declined to do so. Councilman Mulvey, This he refuses to do, contending that he should be given the places held by Elliot. A majority of the members of the Council hold to the same view and the prospects are they will take action on the matter tomorrow evening. Early this week Lloyd announced that he would be forced to defend Mr. Lloyd's claims.

THE GREEN BAG.

Governor Wells is in Provo today attending a meeting of the asylum board.

Late yesterday afternoon Thomas W. Moser and Edith Jacobs of the city were given a marriage license.

The advent of a merchant steed in the city yesterday caused considerable speculation for some enterprising barber and a light restaurateur.

Merchants of Davis county have organized a "club" with the State board of equalization against the proposed assessment advance.

Commissioner were today issued to the following gentlemen as notaries public: Lorin C. Larsen, Sanpete county; John Chatterley, Iron county; Heber F. Johnson, Utah county.

The county clerk and auditor have a big job on their hands with the payment of the sparrow bounty. It is just as much trouble to put an eight-cent warrant through the auditor as it is to issue a warrant for $1,000. Some means should be devised to pay these dribbling claims without the bothers and big system connected with the issuance of warrants.

Middle Tennessee Conference.

ALLIANCE, Tenn., Aug. 7, 1896.

To the Editor:

Enclosed I send you a list of the Elders laboring in the Middle Tennessee conference of the Southern States mission.

Since my last report to you we have lost three of our noble band who have been released on account of sickness, and two have been added to the conference and I am pleased to report them, so far as I know, in good health and spirits.

The issue in this part of the vineyard is most encouraging and truly "the harvest is white and the laborers are few." In all my visits throughout the conference we are received with the greatest kindness, and it seems as though the field in these old counties where I am laboring now has been well "plowed" and "watered" and the Lord will give an abundant harvest.

While passing through Coffee I called at some of our friends who are anxious to obtain a grant for the purpose of holding meetings in that place. I think in the near future we will be building church houses all over the land, and then in the due time of the Lord the world will be stirred.

I have just been reading in the Salvation Army reports of Elder A. H. Lauritz. What love and affection all had for him! His friends were numbered by his acquaintance, and his good works by his opportunities. He well learned to love him where we were. Good boys, neither at the Deseret University! That love has never diminished and remains unbroken except being brighter by the association and esteem which he has earned in later years. Who can take his place?

May our last and Rasleaf find us all as well regarded in whatever sphere we may be called into labor. He will remain in the Cache county capital for a week. He will bring his family back with him.

STOCKS AND BARRETS.

New York Stock Market.

New York, Aug. 14.—Local prices on the stock exchange today were irregular, with a decided tendency to lower London quotations. Several of yesterday's orders for short account were covered, causing quite a flurry in prices, and Manhattan declined 1½ per cent, and Tennessee Coal and Iron 1 per cent. A further decline was checked by the closing orders, which were executed promptly. Reading recovered from its lowest point, and the general list responded to the improvement in it.

The last sale reported of the market is the covered sale and sales today purchases for [illegible] agency, Adams, Shelbyville, Bedford county, Tenn.

John Jacobs and A. L. Cullimore, salesmen for Lawrence, Lawrence county, Texas.

F. E. Hinson and W. L. Greenwood, salesmen, Pleasant, Olive county, Texas.

A SERIOUS PROBLEM.

THE YOUNG MAN CONFRONTED WITH IT IN THE MIND.

"It's a serious problem," said the young man thoughtfully.

"What is?" said the other man, meaning: Is give the younger man the benefit of that wisdom that comes only with years.

"Why, you see, I've been intending to get married," explained the young man.

"That is a serious matter," admitted the other one.

"Is it so?" replied the young man promptly. "It isn't the question I've been figuring on that; but today along comes a fellow who offers me a bicycle at a bargain, and I'm sort of troubled about it. I can't afford a wife and a bargain, and I don't want to have to make up my mind which I want most. The wife's a little sweeter at one start, but in the long run a useful one a lot more to a bicycle, and yet—and yet—"

"Well?"

"I can't help thinking that a good wife will last longer than gilded bicycle if you kind not away from Uncle Dudd—old Goldman. Suppose you had only $50 and a chance to get a bicycle or a wife, which would you get?"

"I think the price of bicycles will fall first," said the other man.

"I guess that's right," returned the young man. "I'll stand a better show of getting a good bicycle to-day than I will of being forced to yield, and I guess I'll stick to the girl."—Chicago Post.

A Difficult Word.

"Why don't you study your reading lesson, Frances?" that little lady's papa asked severely.

"I've been trying to pronounce a word, papa, but I can't get it right. Don't believe you can say them yourself."

"Oh, nonsense! Spell the words and divide them into syllables."

Then the spelling began.

"Ge-ne-ral. What's that, papa?"

"Ge-ne-ral, dear. What's that?"

"Gene-ral, but. What's that?"

"Gene-ral, but. What does that spell, papa?"

"Why, ever, of course. Go on."

"Gen-er-al-but-ever."

"I let me see the book, Frances. Whoever heard of a great fellow? Why haven't spelled the word correctly."

And then mamma laughed from her corner.

"Do you never hear of grandfather, papa?"

And Frances cried triumphantly as she held you those words were actually part, papa. You can't get around them yourself."—Exchange.

Complete Recovery by the Use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla

"Some years ago, as a result of the close attention to business, my health failed. I became weak, nervous, was troubled with dyspepsia, insomnia, and generally all the symptoms of a run down system. I took three bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, began to improve at once, and gradually increased my weight from one hundred and twenty-five to one hundred pounds. Since then, I and my family have used this medicine when needed, and we are all in the best of health, a fact which we attribute to Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I believe my children would have been sick many times but for it and here for Ayer's Sarsaparilla at which occasions I cannot say too much."—H. O. Hosier, Postmaster and Planter, Hosier's, S. C.
