CONGRESSIONAL.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, 21.—Robertson presented resolutions of the South Carolina Legislature, stating that the withdrawal of the United States troops from the State would endanger the public peace. Referred.

Stewart, from the committee on public lands, reported favorable to the bill.

Harlan, from the committee on Indian affairs, reported favorable to the bill to create the Territory of Oklahoma.

The Senate took up the two per cent, bill, and after considerable opposition and on motion of Thurman, substituted the House bill for the Senate bill. The Senate, however, refused to order it to a third reading.

The post office appropriation bill was taken up and a number of amendments reported from committee to, including one requiring persons receiving mails by carrier to provide a receptacle to facilitate speedy and safe delivery, and repealing all laws allowing free transmission of any mail matter whatsoever.

Sherman moved to strike out the clause appropriating five hundred thousand to increase the compensation of Indians for their removal. He said the roads received less per pound for carrying mails than any other freight.

Cold said the roads could not afford to carry mails at the present rates and furnish their own postal cars.

Steves and the railroads were divided on the measure and he would not vote for it.

Anthony said the government had no control of the matter. The roads could refuse to carry mails at all.

Windom thought the government had power to compel the roads to carry mails and might exercise it. Edmunds concurred with Windom's views.

Cassidy opposed the appropriation. It was time the question should be settled whether the government and people were to be controlled by railroads or corporations. There was no danger, however, that companies would stop the mails. These corporations, in their greed over mail mistakes, but they would not be likely to make such a mistake as that.

Congress also opposed the appropriation.

PARIS, 21.—The office fixtures and effects of the bankrupt firm of Bowles & Bro. have been sold at auction.

The quarrel between the Legitimines and Orleanists has burst out with increased bitterness.

The Marquis De Franchimont has addressed a letter to the Due D'Anjou, accusing him of dividing the House of Orleans by seeking to set up the young branch with its separate head.

Durville moved to suspend the rules during the session of the Assembly.

It was the opinion of the report that the bill to increase the compensation of the members of the Assembly should be rejected.

The House went into committee of the whole on the supply civil service appropriation bill. The amendment appropriating $50,000 for an addition to the Boston Post Office, making the city wider, Congress, Mills, and Water streets was adopted.
