

LOBSTERS SECURE FOOTHOLD AT LAST

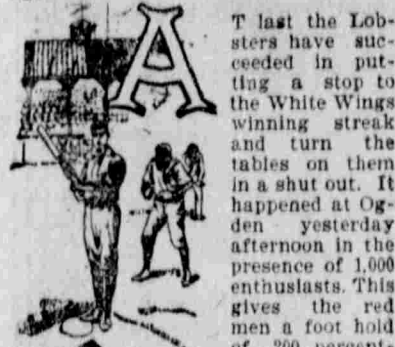

Some Changes Made in the Schedule For This Week.

FIRST GAME HERE FRIDAY.

Ten Inning Battle Won by White Wings Saturday Afternoon—Locals Shot Out Yesterday Afternoon.

The Lobsters have succeeded in putting a stop to the White Wings winning streak and turn the tables on them in a shut out. It happened at Ogden yesterday afternoon in the presence of 1,000 enthusiasts. This gives the Lobsters a foot hold of 200 percent.

Since the Elks have decided to postpone their week of celebration it has been decided to make some changes in the schedule.

SATURDAY'S BASEBALL GAME.

Hawley Pitched Shut-out Ball, but Salt Lake Won.

The White Wings won their fourth consecutive game from the "Champs" at Walker's field Saturday afternoon after the hardest kind of work.

To Elmer Meredith belongs the credit of winning the game by bringing in the fourth run with a smashing two base hit in the last half of the ninth inning. Hawley pitched for Ogden and his work was of the shut out order until the sixth inning, when the locals developed a batting rally and brought in three runs by three well placed base hits. Up to that time the ex-Salt Laker was invincible. Not a hit had been made off him, and not a base on balls. In the sixth Webster was given leave to pose on the mound, and Meredith came to the bat. The first thing he did was to send out one for three bases, bringing in Webster. Kimmer came up and clouted out another. Weaver went out to take a pop-up to Casey but Bradley made the third base hit scoring the third run and making the score even. Nothing was doing then until the tenth. Two men were out and McNichols was given a walk. Meredith made his second hit, which Gimlin failed to get under and McNichols came home.

Besides pitching a gut edged ball "Pink" Hawley made a triple and two singles, which figured materially in the Lobsters' run getting.

Following is the detailed score:

A COMMUNICATION.

Mr. Editor—Allow me to speak a few words in favor of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I suffered for three years with the bronchitis and could not sleep at nights. I tried several doctors and various patent medicines, but could get nothing to give me any relief until my wife got a bottle of this valuable medicine, which has completely relieved me.—W. S. Brockman, Baginell, Mo.

CAUGHT FLIRTING HUSBAND

Also the Unmarried Woman in the Case—Both Put to Flight.

A certain married man who has for several Sundays been frequenting Liberty park with an attractive young woman, not his wife, came to grief yesterday afternoon. His sins found him out and likewise his wife, and for a few minutes she was absolute mistress of the situation.

When the indignant married woman appeared on the scene, her husband and the young woman were seated on a bench and were drinking from a bottle, said to be milk. A sudden blow from the wife sent the milk bottle flying, and hubby's face stopped a good, stiff punch. Seeing that it was his wife who was the assailant, the husband took the road leading back to town, while the wife made off after the rival of her husband's affections. She was not long in overtaking her, and planting a bunch of five knuckles squarely in the young woman's face, causing the blood to flow freely from her nose. She then boarded a street car for up town, receiving a transfer to the west Second South street line.

The husband looked to be about 35 years of age, and is short and heavy-set, with a sandy moustache. Both the women were neatly dressed, and all three of the parties to the little drama were recognized by acquaintances.

AUERBACH RESUMES.

Large Crowds at the Opening Saturday Night.

Fully ten to twelve thousand people visited the new Auerbach store at their opening last Saturday evening between 10 and 12:30 p. m. Long before the doors were open an anxious crowd, mostly ladies, had gathered in front of the new establishment, eager to get a glimpse inside. It was something the people of Salt Lake had waited for since last spring, and to say they were pleased with the appearance of things would be but expressing their astonishment in the tamest language. They were surprised, bewildered with the magnificent display of all fresh, new goods. The general store force had decorated the interior, while the Graupe Bros. are to be given credit for the fine window showings. Potted plants, palms and sweet scented flowers were tastefully arranged everywhere, and Christensen's twelve-piece orchestra played several selections. 3,000 medalion pin-cushions were presented to the ladies as souvenirs.

So complete has been the transformation that not infrequently some one would exclaim, "Is this really Auerbach's?" The principal change is the removal of the wall that separated the main store from the cloak department, and the putting in of iron pillars from basement to garret. A large skylight has been provided and this with the entire color scheme in white enamel, makes this store the best lighted of any in the city. A new cash desk with a package chute to the basement, and all new cash and package carriers gives a modern aspect to the whole store. Some thirty incandescent are lights on the ground floor will furnish ample light for the winter evenings. All the improvements on the buildings have been under the direction of Fred A. Hale and the supervision of Oliver R. Hodgson.

The personnel of the department heads is as follows: Millinery, Miss Belle Dewey; trimming department, Miss Hannah Olsen; clothing and gents' furnishings, George Woods; linens, linens, domestics, draperies and wash goods, A. Graupe, who also has charge of the advertising; notions, hosiery, gloves and underwear, W. Graupe; cloak department, J. Watson, recently from New York; dress goods, A. D. Beaman, pattern department, Miss Ida Larson; shoes, C. E. Steward, wholesale department, George Rhodes, assisted by C. L. Berry. Thos. H. Atkins will continue to be floor manager, Moritz J. Feldman, retail department manager; Lewis B. Moore, head bookkeeper, retail department, William R. Shibley, head bookkeeper wholesale department, and Henry J. Wallace will continue to hold the responsible position of financial manager. And what is equally gratifying is the word that nearly all the old employees will be with the new firm.

Something interesting connected with this house is its growth since its birth in 1844. It was then owned by F. H. Auerbach and his brother, Thos. H. Auerbach and the present owner, Samuel H. Auerbach, entered the business, at that time they employed three clerks and had but a small stock. At the present time the firm employs from a hundred and twenty-five hands at regular seasons and during the busiest times a hundred and fifty. Though now owned solely by Mr. Samuel H. Auerbach, all trading will be done under the old firm name of F. Auerbach & Bro. This store in its new dress is certainly one of the most inviting mercantile establishments in this city.

"A drop of ink, Makes millions think."

Sometimes when a drop from the mouth of the ink bottle spreads over the pen holder and from there evenly covers the thumb and index finger of the right hand, or when the ink bottle upsets, there is likely to be some HARD thinking done. Often at such times a flood of light will rise above the flood of ink, and the user of the dip pen will come to realize how much of his time has been lost, how much his thought has been hampered by the endless dip, dipping necessary for those who use the old-style pen. Such illumination of thought is likely to send a man to his stationer, or to his jeweler, for and well it may. This is a wonderful writing instrument, wonderfully simple, yet wonderfully efficient. It does the work it is intended to do, day after day, year after year, without getting cranky streaks, and without further attention on the part of the user than a refilling for every five thousand words written. Don't be satisfied with a poor pen. Get the best. Get Waterman's Ideal Fountain Pen, which is sold by all stationers and most jewelers.
