ANN ARBOR NEWS.

Names of the Nine Who Have Finished—Other Personal.

DURNEY NEWS BUREAU, ANN ARBOR, MICH., June 16, 1894.

It will now be in order to give your readers an idea of the work of the ladies who graduate from the university this year. They are a bright, industrious set, not afraid to work, and each has more than an average share of brains. Eight "ladies" and one "musical student" comprise those who have finished their regular course. The names are as follows: H. E. Eaton, J. P. McInerney, Jos. E. Page, N. J. Harris, J. E. Stewart, J. E. H. McInerney, Thos. H. McInerney and Jos. A. Harris, wife, John J. McInerney, music student.

Miss H. E. Harris has had somewhat of a struggle in two ways. For some time she has been out of the last. This, combined with her hard studies in the law, and extra course in the library department, have made her an anxious woman. She may well feel happy that she has finished her course and that she is now a free woman. She will probably locate in southern Utah for a while, as she has business interests there. However, she may reside anywhere, as she will be able to do so. All wish her good health to aid her in the duties of her calling.

Lo Jovis E. Page we have another lawyer who will make a name in the law. This young man has all the qualifications necessary to be a thorough lawyer, and it is very certain that he will not only succeed in his profession, but will be able to do so. He is not yet able to say where he will locate his office, but he is a very good lawyer and will be able to do so. He is a very good lawyer and will be able to do so.

From Knoxville, Tenn., another lawyer, but not happy Jos. P. McInerney. This young man has all the qualifications necessary to be a thorough lawyer, and it is very certain that he will not only succeed in his profession, but will be able to do so. He is not yet able to say where he will locate his office, but he is a very good lawyer and will be able to do so. He is a very good lawyer and will be able to do so.

will be his debt, combined with the society.

A bright, earnest lawyer is N. J. Harris, who will make Ogden his residence. He is a splendid debater and is devoted to the study of law. He has a share of patronage from the community.

Joseph A. Harris will make Ogden his residence. He is a splendid debater and is devoted to the study of law. He has a share of patronage from the community.

George H. McInerney, of Ogden, has done his work well and evidently feels good that he is now a free man. He may enter the study of law, but he is a very good lawyer and will be able to do so.

Mr. McInerney is a thoughtful man and a good lawyer. He is a very good lawyer and will be able to do so. He is a very good lawyer and will be able to do so.

John J. McInerney, who completed his law course in the month of May, will return to Ogden to take a "post graduate" course, and will accept a position as instructor in the school of law. He has signed a statement to take charge of the law school.

One party leaves here on the 23rd, the other leaving on the 24th. We go over the "Ogden Lead" route from Ogden to St. Louis, via the Hot Springs and Pacific railroad to Denver, and then via the G. W. R. R.

Can a Man do Better Than to Buy a "STEARNS!"

We made the bold statement, challenging contradiction, in last week's Tribune, that the Stearns bicycle was the highest priced bicycle in the country—and the highest priced bicycle in the world. Have any of the agents of other makes accepted the challenge? Not one. They know that we have done proof. We know to a dollar what every wheel sold in this city costs, and whether it has been up or down. We are giving the riders better value for their dollars in the
