Wm. R. Adkins, Sec'y.

LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

A Genuine Veteran.—On the 23d of this month Bishop Edward Hunter will be ninety years of age. He is now on a visit to St. George, doing gospel work in the Temple for his ancestors.

Pleasantly Surprised.—Mr. H. R. Perkins, the nationally notable musician, attended the rehearsal of the Thomas choruses last evening. He expressed himself as surprised, being quite unprepared for the striking local ability exhibited.

Death of Sister Goldsborough.—This morning the following dispatch was received from President Wm. Paxman, Nephi, Juab County.

Our faithful sister Amelia H. Goldsborough died last night, 10 o'clock. She was aged 69 years. Her husband, Henry Goldsborough, is on a mission to England.

Recovering.—The many friends of Bishop Wm. Thorne, of the Seventh ward, will be delighted to learn of his convalescence. He is nearly recovered from an exceedingly severe attack of rheumatic fever, having become strong enough to be about again. We were pleased to receive a call from him this morning.

Price of "The Preceptor."—The author of "The Preceptor" the little work noticed yesterday, the object of which is to enable young men to obtain a knowledge of the doctrines of the Gospel and the ability to preach them, has concluded to put the book in only one class of binding (cloth) and place the price at 25 cents a copy.

From Georgia.—Elder B. J. Parrish, who arrived home last night, left here for the Southern States on the 17th of last October, and has labored since then in Georgia. Last spring he was appointed President of the Georgia Conference. His coming home this early was necessitated by the injury to Elder Alexander. The field had almost been vacated, with the exception of two Elders, until recently, when others were appointed in the hope of opening up some new places. A few baptisms occurred recently.

Home Stolen.—Last night a valuable mare was stolen from George Crismon's farm, in Sugar House Ward. To aid in the recovery of the animal by its owner, we append her description: She is a large bay mare, one of two hind feet white. The thief also took a saddle, P. Platt's make, and a jockey bridle. It is supposed this is a young man who was employed at the barn a few days. He is about 18 or 19 years old, light complexioned, brown hair, smooth face, and is about 5 feet 8 inches in height. He was dressed in a dark suit, mixed straw hat, went by the name of Kammelt, and claimed to be from Philadelphia.

The Athletic Grounds.—Improvements on the Athletic Association grounds at Washington Square are progressing nicely. The water has been conveyed to the grounds, there being a hydrant at which visitors can make their thirst, and another from which the grounds can be watered by means of a hose. The bicycle track has been improved by a layer of finer material, rendering it more solid. More seats for the accommodation of visitors are being erected, and their construction will continue until there is a seating capacity for 1,000 people. After the expenses of the necessary improvements are defrayed, we understand it to be the intention of the Association to make the charge for admission merely nominal, just sufficient to meet running expenses and add additional facilities and beauty to the grounds that will not be anything like as costly as those necessary to begin with.

The Base Ball Games.—The Wood River Base Ball Club.—A picked nine from the principal clubs of Idaho, Hardagen, Byrnes, Rabens, Coffin, Reed, McBride, Swift, Branton, Ayres, say that they intend to walk off with the laurels, but the Salt Lake Olympics have a good record and their friends are not shaking much in their shoes. From what is known here of the men of the two clubs, it is conceded that it will prove close work on both sides. A dispatch was received this afternoon giving the order for batting (as above) for Thursday. The games will continue for three days, on the New Grounds of the Athletic Association, where several hundred new seats are already on the ground and about three hundred more covered seats now in course of construction. The bicycle track is also much improved so that the foot races will have a better chance to make time.

THE MAMMOTH.

COLLAPSE OF THE AFFAIRS OF THE COMPANY.

The Mammoth Mine enterprise has collapsed, all speculations having fallen through. We understand that proceedings will be at once instituted for the foreclosure of claims on the buildings, etc. This will be sad news to a great many who are heavily interested in the concern. Mr. Elias Morris is one of the heaviest creditors, his account reaching to the vicinity of $27,000, while Messrs. Jennings & Sons, Taylor, Romney & Co., J. J. Halpin and others are interested to a greater or less degree. There are also large numbers of employees who hold time checks against the defunct company who are out various sums. Mr. Goodhart, attorney for the company who erected the works, left for England on Saturday without reaching anything in the shape of an arrangement.

THE ATTACK ON ELDER ALEXANDER.

FULL PARTICULARS OF THE AFFAIR.

This morning we received a call from Elder Samuel J. Parrish, of Centerville, who arrived last night from Chattanooga, having accompanied Elder John T. Alexander, lately injured by a mob in Georgia, from that point. The affair occurred on the eastern border of Gordon County, between Plainsville and Adamsville, half a mile from the house of a brother named Reed. Brother Alexander was waiting for the arrival of his traveling companion Elder Wilson, and on the 31st day of May, was walking along the main road, when three men armed and masked stepped out of the woods by the roadside. They asked him if he was one of those "Mormon" preachers. He replied that he was. They ordered him to go to the wood. He supposed they intended to whip him with hickory withes. After going into the forest about fifty yards he halted and declined to go any further. At this juncture one of the brutal fellows kicked him, causing him to fall forward upon his hands. While he was down and helpless, another of the cowardly ruffians kicked him heavily in the lower part of the left side, causing a painful and severe internal injury. He lay breathless and helpless for several moments, and as soon as he recovered so as to be able to move, he regained his feet and aimed a blow with his fist at the fellow who kicked him, but missed him. They then ordered him to proceed about one hundred and fifty yards further into the forest. After going that distance he stopped and declined to go any further, the brave fellow saying, "If I am going to die, I would just as soon die here as anywhere."

They asked him if he had anything to say before his death. He replied by asking their reason for wishing to murder him. Using a blasphemous expression, they said, "If we don't kill you you'll come back again. If you have anything to say, say it quickly."

He replied, "If I must die, I will offer a few words of prayer," which he then did, while the weapons of the men were leveled upon him.

As soon as he concluded his prayer, Brother Alexander closed his eyes and folded his arms, feeling that his last moment had arrived and perfectly resigned to what appeared to be his inevitable fate. At the same time the three fired simultaneously, and he instantly fell and became insensible.

When he recovered consciousness he got upon his hands and knees and looked about, but his assailants had departed, no one being near. He made his way to the road, and finally reached the house of Brother Lafayette Reed, but hardly knew how he got there. When he reached it he fell down exhausted.

One bullet passed through the crown of his hat, which being low-crowned, his escape from death was apparently by a hair's breadth. Another ball, apparently aimed at his heart, passed close to that organ, going through his clothing and out towards the back, on the left side.

His companion, Elder Wilson, reached him the same night, and proceeded next morning to Haywood branch to inform Elder Parrish of what had occurred. The injured man was conveyed to Haywood in a carriage by a local brother named Barber and Elder Parrish. As he gradually became weaker after two days' stay there, he was taken to Chattanooga, by Elder Parrish, where he stopped until advice was received from Elder Morgan to leave for home. He stood the trip very fairly, and to-day feels somewhat improved, being able to sit up. He resides in the 15th Ward.

The Benefit Building Society.—To-night, at half-past seven o'clock, in the legislative chamber of the City Hall, there will be a meeting of those who have signed their intention of becoming members of Zion's Benefit Building Society.

The chief object of the gathering is to elect officers and directors for the first year of the Society's existence. Each person who has appended his signature to the list of intending stockholders will be entitled to a vote in the selection.

The movement will start out under very favorable auspices, judging from present appearances, and will tend largely to revive a feature that has been peculiar in this community, the proprietorship of their own homes by workingmen.

Throughout Utah this condition is still the rule, but in some of the larger cities, more especially this, it has been on the wane. This proposed benefit society will give a fresh impetus in that direction, and as one of the chief elements of greatness in a community is the solid and thrifty temporal condition of its toilers, a sphere of genuine usefulness lies before the proposed organization.

The gentlemen who have been active in forwarding the preliminary, are indebted for several valuable suggestions to President Taylor. They were so strikingly beneficial as to favorably strike the committee at once, and were by them immediately adopted.

The "Melancholy Dose."

Those who wish to witness an artistic interpretation of Shakespeare's masterly comedy, the "Melancholy Dose," can have that pleasure to-night. The play of Hamlet never fails upon the taste of the lover of the genuine drama. It is a superb creation of the great poet, and to-night it will, we have not the slightest doubt, receive an interpretation commensurate with its merits. A friend of ours who has seen Barrett in all his leading roles is enthusiastic in his praise. The great actor holds the audience in the more thrilling scenes perfectly spell bound. The scene in Hamlet of the play is stated to be immense, the audience being so intense in concentrating their interest upon Hamlet, whose movements and expression are indescribable, that they almost lose sight for the moment of the other details of the performance. Mr. Barrett is one of the grandest and most intense actors that ever trod the histrionic boards. His Hamlet is described as a complete masterpiece of the art.

A Friendly Invitation.

Brother Franklin W. Young wrote from Los, Plate County, on the 18th inst.

"There is to be a Sunday school jubilee at the Cedar Grove in Grass Valley on the 27th inst., and one at Los on the 29th, and two days' meetings at Fish Lake, in the immediate vicinity of Twin Creeks, commencing at 3 p. m. July 3d.

The Presidency of the Sevier State will be there, and any of the people in Salt Lake or between here and there wishing 'an out' for a week or two, will find this a good chance to find good water, pure air, beautiful scenery, and have good company for camping out with lots of wood, plenty of shade, loyal speeches, and may be a taste of the 'funny bird.'"
