DISCOURSE
DELIVERED BY
ELDER ORSON PRATT,
In the New Tabernacle, Sunday
Afternoon, August 29, 1876.
REPORTED BY GEO. E. GIBBS.

We have heard, this afternoon, the testimony of one of our young brethren, Elder Orson Pratt, who has just returned, rejoicing in the truth, from his first preaching mission abroad.

When speaking of his late experience, my mind was carried back to the days of my youth, when, at the age of nineteen, I went forth to the world, to preach the great principles of the Gospel of Jesus Christ, to the people of the latter-day Saints. I too felt my weakness, being then very timid and bashful, never having been accustomed to public speaking. But the Lord, in whom I placed my trust, gave me strength according to my faith and perseverance, to proclaim the truth to the people. The Holy Ghost which had been given me, brought to my mind the scriptures of eternal truth, in the very moment needful to present them to the people. Passages which I had merely read, in my early school days, came as vividly to my mind as though I had committed them to memory. This was in fulfillment of a promise of God to all his faithful servants. The Lord, through now revelation, has commanded his servants, who go forth as missionaries, in this last dispensation, to take no thought beforehand, what they shall say, for it shall be given them in the very moment when they shall need it. This has been verified in very deed in my experience. Sometimes in consequence of my weakness I would take forthrightly upon myself, to express these things to the people, they would be taken from me.

There are many promises which God has made to his servants in these latter times; and, in connection with these promises, he has given many commandments which we are required to observe and keep. One of these commandments, given to his missionary servants in the year 1832, reads as follows: "Verily I say unto you, let no man think that he shall be able to preach the Gospel of Jesus Christ, unless he shall be clothed with the robes of the Holy Spirit. For, said the Lord, consider the filth of the field, if you will not, neither do they say so. The kingdoms of this world, in all their glory, are not arrayed like one of these. There was another promise, made in connection with these commandments: "They who go forth without purse or scrip, and are faithful in all things, shall not be weary in mind, neither in body, neither in spirit, neither shall they be hungry or thirsty." This is another great promise which has been verified upon me to the very letter. I have gone to foreign nations, without one farthing to either procure food or a night's lodging, and God has opened up my way, so that I have lacked no needful thing. This is not only my experience, but the experience of thousands who have also tested, in like manner, the truth of this promise. In the early days of this church, I sometimes had to sleep out in the open air, the same as our fathers had to do, and said, "The Lord has no holes, and the birds of the air have nests, but the Son of Man hath not where to lay his head." And so it hath been with many of his faithful servants. Yet we experienced no particular inconveniences by being obliged to sleep at night on the ground; neither have we suffered when eating and drinking, or when time to time, as servants of God, to obtain food, any more than Elijah did, when he fasted forty days, or when he was without eating or drinking. There was a power over and in those ancient servants of God, that satisfied the cravings of the soul, and kept the body in such circumstances, and such power was not withheld from us.

After the Lord told us how to go forth to the world, with this Gospel, and another great promise, made to us, we received him, and he that received him, received my Father's kingdom. He also said, He that rejecteth you, and your words and testimony, rejecteth me, go away from him and cleanse your feet with pure water, and bear testimony of your Father, and return not again to that man or house; and whatsoever village or city you enter do likewise. And another great promise, made in connection with this, is that every soul that believes on your words, and is baptized in water for the remission of sins, shall receive the Holy Ghost, and the Spirit shall follow them that believe. In my name they shall cast out devils, heal the sick, open the eyes of the blind, unstop the ears of the deaf, and the tongue of the dumb shall speak; and if any man ministers poison to them, it shall not hurt them.

The promise, therefore, unto all who receive this Gospel, is that they shall not only receive remission of their sins, but they shall also receive the Holy Ghost through the laying on of hands; a promise which God alone can fulfill. Suppose this Church was an imposture, and this Gospel message not divine, and the people who have rendered obedience to its requirements have proved it long ago to be false? Certainly they would; and the message itself with its promises would have died away, and come to naught. Would they have continued as many have done for over forty years in this Church; and would the thousands, numbering in this Territory about one hundred and fifty thousand, have gathered as they have done from nearly all the civilized nations, to the great interior of this continent if the promise made them through this Gospel, had not been fulfilled? No, you might have preached and promised, but it would have been of no effect. There is a vast cloud of witnesses, not only these of this congregation, but I speak of the entire people.

Do you know, latter-day Saints, that this work is the work of God? Do you know it? Not merely because the men who proclaimed it told you it was true. How then do you know it? You know it by the fruit of your obedience to its message; you have done the will of the Father and you have realized the fulfillment of the promise. So that it is not a matter of guess-work, or mere opinion; you know beyond a single doubt, that it is the work of the living God.

Suppose an impostor were to undertake to preach this Gospel, offering the same promises to believers, which of course would not be fulfilled. Do you not therefore see that it would be impossible to gather such people together from the different nations? But when the promises are realized, the people receiving something they never expected, and when the effects are strictly in accordance with the words of God, then they have a testimony that cannot be denied. But says one, "We hear people belonging to the different Christian sects and denominations say that they receive the spirit of God; you say the same. How are we to judge between you and them?" I would answer in the language of the apostle John, who, in the first verse of the fourth chapter of his General Epistle said, "Believe not every spirit, but try the spirits whether they are of God; because many false prophets are gone out into the world." The true spirit imparts signs to all believers. Do the Methodists, the Baptists, the Presbyterians or any of the Christian sects receive a spirit of this kind? Do they lay their hands on the sick and are they healed? If they do then they are true believers; but if they do not, it shows that they have been deceived. Do they, because they have these signs? No. Why? Because they know they are not in possession of them; and in order to show that they are not, they make every body believe they are true believers; say these signs were only to follow the servants of God in the first age of Christianity. This is in fulfillment of a promise of the Eleven Apostles, "Ye will go into all the world and preach the Gospel to every creature. He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved; but he that believeth not shall be damned. And these signs shall follow them that believe: In my name shall they cast out devils, they shall speak with new tongues, they shall be able to drink serpents, and if they drink any deadly thing it shall not hurt them; they shall lay hands on the sick, and they shall be healed." The signs which the Lord has promised to follow the believers in order that all the world might be convinced of its divinity; but that when the Gospel had been fully established, these signs would no longer be needed. This is believed in and accepted as truth by the great majority of the Christian world. And yet, the Lord has often wondered why there were no more miracles in the world, than we have a knowledge of. Because a man inclined to infidelity might say, "If you do not believe in one part of the Gospel, what use is there in believing in the rest? If you can take upon yourself the right to do away with a part of the Gospel, why may not I do away with the whole of it?" The signs which the Lord has promised to follow the believers are just as much a part of the Gospel as salvation itself.

But how shall we try the spirits? do not know of a better way than to have the Lord himself speak to us. In ancient times, hands were laid on the head of the baptized believer and the Holy Spirit came upon him, and he was able to do the things which the Lord had promised. But Peter said unto him, "Thy money perish with thee; for I perceived that thou art in the gall of bitterness, and in the bond of iniquity." There was a power attending the demonstration of those men of God, in ancient days, that we have lost the minds of the people who experienced it. They knew that it was a power not from man.

After the Lord had commissioned the Elders of this church, some forty-four years ago, to preach this Gospel to all nations, he promised that to those who would believe and be baptized, he would give power to do many wonderful works, they should open the eyes of the blind and unstop the ears of the deaf, and the tongue of the dumb should speak. He said, "I will fulfill the promise which I made to you, and the tongue of the dumb shall speak; and if any man ministers poison to them, it shall not hurt them." The promise, therefore, unto all who receive this Gospel, is that they shall not only receive remission of their sins, but they shall also receive the Holy Ghost through the laying on of hands; a promise which God alone can fulfill. Suppose this Church was an imposture, and this Gospel message not divine, and the people who have rendered obedience to its requirements have proved it long ago to be false? Certainly they would; and the message itself with its promises would have died away, and come to naught. Would they have continued as many have done for over forty years in this Church; and would the thousands, numbering in this Territory about one hundred and fifty thousand, have gathered as they have done from nearly all the civilized nations, to the great interior of this continent if the promise made them through this Gospel, had not been fulfilled?
