THE BRITISH SUNDAY.

Tendency to Make It a Day of Pleasure Brings Forth Protest.

London, Jan. 4.—The daily increas-ing disposition of the British public to make Sunday a day of pleasure seeking has indiced certain religious bodies to make an effort to stem the movement. The archbishop of Can-terbury, the archbishop of Westminister, and Rev. John Scott Lidgett, representing respectively the English and the Catholic churches and the Non-Conformists, have issued a "joint mes-sage to the nation," calling for a strict-er observance of the Sabbath, declaring it is impossible to exaggerate the importance of the matter, and setting forth their conviction that on an adeuate and reasonable observance of society man and former Yale athlete, connected with a prominent brokerage firm, is in St. Luke's hospital in a critical condition from an injury re-ceived New Year's day at the country Sunday depends the possibility of pro-moting the deeper, more sacred and more enduring interests of the common life The joint message evidently is aimed at the aristocratic class,

SALT LAKE FIRM GETS CONTRACTS

Awarded a Couple for Grading on The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul.

HEAVY ROCK WORK IN MONT.

About Half a Million Yards of Dirt Are to be Moved-Numerous Outfits Busy.

Harrison Clement of the Clement-Strange Contracting company of Salt Lake has returned from Montana and announces that his company has just accepted two contracts for grading along the line of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul through that state. These contracts call for seven miles of heavy rock work. One piece is a stretch of line north of the Yeliowheavy rock work. One plete velow-stretch of line north of the Yellow-stone river, and in the neighborhood of 35 miles north of Custer. The second plete of work is near Forsythe. Mr. Clement says his company has taken its outfit from the Big Horn basin, where a 25-mile canal has just been completed, and divided it between the two sections now under contract. Work was commenced Dec. 1, but fit is not expected both contracts will be com-pleted before November, as exceptional-ly heavy rock work is to be driven. Some half million yards of dirt must be removed. Room is being provided in cuts for double tracks, but one track only will be haid at first by the rail-road company.

only will be laid at first by the rail-road company. Mr. Clement says contracts along the line of the St. Faul through Montana are being let rapidly and numerous outfits and gangs are now working along the line. The survey adopted carries the line into Montana across the Northern Pacific to the Yellowstone river, and along the north branch to a point opposite Forsythe. Passing over the Big Porcupine, the route strikes to the west to the Mussell Shell river. The road passes Billings on the west, passing through Jawbone pass, then The road passes Billings on the west, passing through Jawbone pass, then down the Butte. After leaving Butte the road strikes off towards Missoula on the northwest, ahead through Mul-lin pass, following the Snake towards Lewiston and across the Montana-Washington state line. The routo through Washington goes in a westerly line. The entire line through Montana is to have an easy grade, necessitating heavy work along the line. The Chl-caro, Mijwaukee & St. Paul is deter-mined to run a line to the coast as quickly as possible. Gangs are being distributed along the line to cover con-tracts and sub-contracts let during the eacts and sub-contracts let during the ist few weeks.
