BREVITIES.

An umbrella hat is patented in France. Invitations for tin weddings are now printed on tin foil.

Washington is put down as 3,177 miles from San Francisco by Pacific railroad.

It isn't stealing to take liquor in Massachusetts, because it is not legal property and nobody owns it.

The latest from Paris—bonnets are half an inch bigger.

Blamark is again seriously indisposed.

The negroes barely outnumber the whites in Charleston; and yet the mortality reports for the year ending September 1st, foot up 832 blacks and 414 whites, or twice the number of blacks. The proportion appears to hold out throughout the South.

A man in Galgo, Illinois, has invented a spring, to be attached to the feet, by which a person is relieved of the labor of walking to a great extent. He claims that his invention will enable a man to walk ten miles an hour with ease.

A young man of limited intelligence, who was recovering from a long fit of sickness, being informed by his physician that he "might venture now upon a little animal food," exclaimed: "No you don't doctor; I've suffered enough on your gruel and stuff, and hang me if I'll touch any of your hay and oats."

The entire cost of the Suez Canal, has been about $51,000,000. But, to include the expenditures which will be applied as experience may suggest, we may safely set the sum at $85,000,000. It is estimated by some authorities that the annual business of the canal will amount to 10,000,000 tons, and that its gross receipts will be $20,000,000.

Dr. Mountain, Chaplain to Charles II., was asked one day by that monarch, to whom he should present a certain Bishopric just then vacant. "If you had but faith, sire," replied he, "I could tell you who." "How so," said Charles, "if I had but faith?" "Why, yes," said the witty cleric, "your Majesty might say to this Mountain, be thou removed into that see." The Chaplain was made Bishop.

Miles Grant, the Advent preacher, for sixteen years has used no meats, butter, tea or coffee, nor any sugar, salt, pepper, ginger, mustard, horse radish, pies, cakes, or sweetmeats. His diet consists of Graham bread, oatmeal pudding, beans, peas, pop-corn, apples, and other fruits in their season. For many years he has not taken a particle of medicine and purposes never to do so.

The Washington Star says:
"That terrible bore, bur, beat, blather-skit humbug, sucker, plague, nuisance, affliction, trouble, scourge, pill, gall, wormwood, affliction, dispensation, harassment and public calamity, the Rev. Paul Bagley, 'missionary' is back from England with his green bag, and is infesting the public offices, to the great discouragement of the officials. Can't he be sent out to some Cannibal Island where the stock of 'cold missionary' on the sideboard is running low?"

TARRANT'S SELTZER APERIENT.

"Throw physic to the dogs," says Macbeth. Much or it might be so disposed of with advantage to mankind, but it would be hard upon the dogs. The "sweet oblivious antidote" which Macbeth asked for in vain, is however vouchsafed to the dyspeptic and bilious in TARRANT'S EFFERVESCENT SELTZER APERIENT. It regulates, purifies and invigorates the system; is a positive specific for indigestion and constipation; promotes perspiration and reduces fever. SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS. d152-6m
