Announces That Lack of Fighting Spirit in Champion is Due to Herald and "News."

There was no lack of commotion and emotion both at the Salt Palace track. last night. The same old jolly crowd was out packing the bleachers to the limit. and ready to cheer for any winner who showed a game fighting finish.

The races were marked with finishes of this kind. Iver Lawson was not on hand to meet Kramer. The public was made aware of this when the prices were reduced to the old standard, and later when it was announced that Iver had refused to ride because of adverse criticism in the Herald and "News." Hurdy Downing proved a good substitute, however, and rode Kramer a hard and close race, fin-ishing abreast with hilf a wheel length behind.

Both Kramer and Downing made many Both Kramer and Downing made many friends by their exhibition of gameness and when Downing came out a few min-utes later to ride a five-mile motor-paced event, he was given an ovation. Jack Hume rode to an ovation also when he showed up his bunch again in the five-mile lap race, and Downing started off his evening of triumph with a clean cut victory in the mile open.

LAWSON ABSENT.

LAWSON ABSENT. The overshadowing event of last night was the absence of Lawson. It caused much hil-feeling on the part of the man-agement and officials, and they seemed much relieved by the opportunity afforded them of taking it out on the newspaper writers whose comment was charged with being responsible for lver's absence. Iver's trainer especially seemed heart-broken at the turn things had taken, and reports from Lawson had it that he had broken down and cried during the day, after a night of wory and sleeplessness. The thing that stong him to the quick seemed to be that he should be suspected in his home town of being in a race that was not run that he should be suspected in his home town of being in a race that was not run on its merit solely. He left the track last night, and could not be found for several hours even by his most intimate friends. For failing to ride he was disqualified The disposition will not be however to en-force this disqualification, it would seem, as the management will probably take in-to consideration as will, the fans, the amount of emotion under which Lawson was laboring. The announcement that he had refused to ride was made in a dramatic manner, with a throwing of the

he had refused to ride was made in a dramatic mainner, with a throwing of the responsibility on the Herald and the "News." However, it failed to produce any perceptible wave of emotion either against the rider or row him. A few crices of "Coward" came from the grandstand back of the judges and a few answering cheers for Lawson came from the seat-where the men with posses sit, with trainers and riders. The general public kept out of the controversy. A victous misrepresentation of this condition was made in a public print this morning. In the same paper it was alleged that comment in the "News" was in the trail of comment in another paper, and not an independent individual expression of epin-

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a lo-cal disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with lo-cal treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a con-stitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitu-tional cure on the market. It is taken in-ternally in doses from 16 drops to a tea-sponful. It acts diffectly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They effer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and tea-tionnils. is meant to hurt him, and inspired from a certain source independent of the bi-cycle races that are being written up. CASE UP TO PUBLIC.

CASE UP TO PUBLIC. Lawson's case rests now with the "sports." If they justify him in welching under criticism to the point of throwing up a race, the decision will be unique. If their work is honest the papers have no alliance with the saucer track, with any of its riders with its gate receipts, or with its success. They record the impre-sion created on trained writers by the bike races offered, and the reports are for the benefit of the public which bays its papers to secure independent, unpre-judiced opinion; and a report of facts. The manager ought never to have a chance manager ought never to have a chance to ask, as he did in this office, "What have I ever done to you that you should say this of me?" and Lawson, who draws, his money from the public, will hard be conceded the right to quit his profe-sion because of fancied or real injustic or press comment on the show ng he makes.

THE CRITICISM.

In this case, the facts were that Law-son beat Kramer Tuesday evening, and that he did it much more easily than was anticipated. To the "News" writer it seemed the most wonderful ride he had ever seen Lawson make. But as for seemed the most wonderful ride he had ever seen Lawson-make. But as for Kramer, he was impressed with the fact that he was defeated more easily than Lawson could defeat Downing, McFar-land, Clark, Fre or Fogler. On the show-ing of this race alone. Kramer should have been sent out to make a record against the bunch before being allowed to meet Lawson at all to meet Lawson at all.

NO CHARGE MADE.

But everyone knew Kramer was a world's

But everyone knew Kramer was a world's champion, and unquestionably the best rider in America outside of Lawson, so the conclusion was obvious that for some reason Kramer had not made a good ride. When R comes to fixing on this reason, the "News" writer contesses a total in-shifty to find it. Furthermore, he has expressed the belief that the only source of evidence is in the hearts of Kram-er, Lawson and Chapman. Everyone who has trained horses knews that a race-horse will do record time today, in onhorse will do record time today, in on altitude and bake on the stretch in higher altitude tomorrow. Utah's trai-team learned with terrific force what a titude meant at Boulder this spring, and the explanation that Kramer was infu-enced to his own undoing in this altitud-is a reasonable and satisfactory one.

is a reasonable and satisfactory one. But man ever picked up condition in three days, and therefore the conclusion appeared reasonable that Kramer could not do this, and on that followed the oth-er conclusion that Kramer could hol beat Lawson on the showing of Tuesday night, when the Friday night race should be called.

impression was current on the The street that Lawson had beat Kramer far ther than he can with Kramer riding to form, and this impression was recorded in the "News."

TRIBUNE SELF-RIGHTEOUS.

TRIFUNE SELF-RIGHTEOUS. Following the "News" the paper which this marting denies so emphatically the it ever questioned the races, and throws much vindictive link upon the writters who took that view, recorded this im-pression as follows: "There was no end of discussion yes-terday regarding the Kramer-Lawson race, and strange as it may seem almost every other tane who opened his mouth ex-pressed the option that Kramer would win Friday night's race. Why? Frankly, because they thought it part of the pro-stam. Let is awoon win one. Kramer ene, and then they sold, the interest grows wild over the final match and the man-agement makes a wad of money." This is from the Salt Lake Tribune of Thursday mersing Aus. 16. The writing this morning appears to be by another and, and one which was not present when the race in question was being run. The summary of last night's races is as follows.
