

COLONEL BRUBACK SUDDENLY KILLED.

Neck Was Broken by a Fall in the
Daly-Judge Mine at Park
City Yesterday.

LOST HOLD WHILE CLIMBING.

He Fell With Much Force and Died in Twenty Minutes—Body Brought Home on Special Train.

By falling a distance of not more than 15 feet from a ladder in the Daly-Judge mine, Col. Theodore Bruback was killed, his neck being broken.

This was the shocking news wired from Park City yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock. It stunned his close friends and it startled all Salt Lake. Col. Bruback was a stockholder and it had been his custom to inspect the mine at frequent intervals. He was at the Daly-Judge for that purpose yesterday. With the superintendent, John McSorley, he closely examined parts of the property and suddenly he decided to visit what is known as the May raise. The superintendent assured him that there was nothing new to be seen there; that it had scarcely been touched since his last visit, but the colonel, as though he had some particular object in view, Bruback was well known in Park City, as well as here.

In the clubs, on the streets and at all public places, Salt Lake discussed only the one subject last night. It seemed to the colonel's friends perfectly incredible. Only a few hours before they had laughed and chatted with him, he in the most robust health. To Jos. A. Silver the shock was doubly forceful. He talked with Col. Bruback at Park City at 11:30 yesterday forenoon and the colonel had even pressed upon him the invitation to go through the mine, to which Mr. Silver laughingly replied: "No, you go ahead and take chances in your mine. I'll risk a snowslide on the outside." Mr. Silver came to Salt Lake on an afternoon train and did not hear of the accident until his arrival.

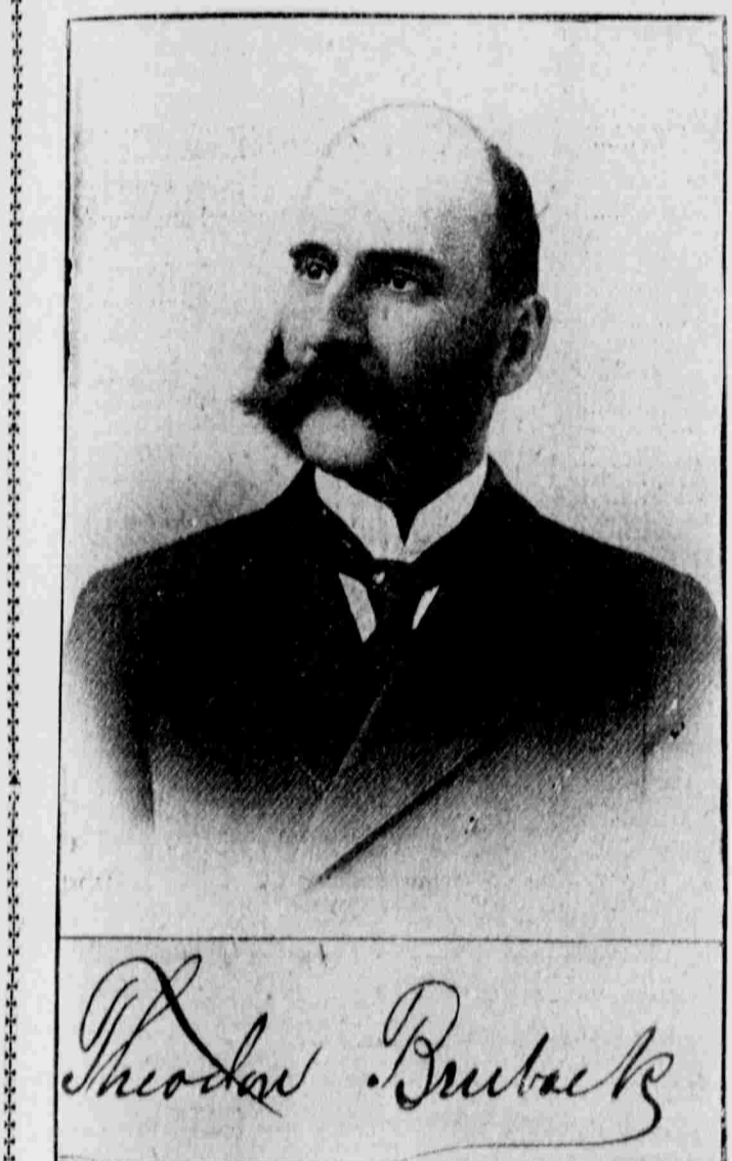

BODY BROUGHT HOME.

The body was brought to Salt Lake in charge of Supt. McSorley on a Rio Grande special, arriving here at 9:55 p. m., and was met by W. S. McCornick, Thomas Weir and others interested with the deceased in a business way. The Rev. Elmer I. Goshen was selected to convey the sad news to the Bruback home, and some time later the body was removed there by Undertaker S. D. Evans, who is in charge of the remains.

McSORLEY'S STATEMENT.

Supt. McSorley describes the accident as follows:

"We entered the mine about 1 o'clock and arrived at the May raise, which is 1,200 feet south of the station, on the back ledge, at 3 o'clock. Mr. Bruback expressed a desire to go up the raise. I tried to dissuade him from the attempt, saying that there was nothing there and that the raise had not been in use for a considerable time. Mr. Bruback insisted on going, expecting to find some ore in the workings above. I was unable to go with him on account of an injury of the arm, sustained the day before while riding a trolley through the tunnel. I stood near the foot of the ladder leaning against some timbers and waited while Col. Bruback ascended. There was the noise of his ascending, then a pause and I was horrified to see the form of the colonel fall head foremost at my feet."

Insisted upon climbing the narrow incline, which runs at an angle of 65 degrees. He had gone up the ladder about 15 feet when, for a cause still not clear, he came tumbling down, his head striking the steel rail of the track with such force as to break the neck. In less than 20 minutes the last sign of life left the body.

DID HE GET DIZZY?

Two theories are advanced as to the cause of Col. Bruback's fatal fall. The first, and most likely, is that the colonel became dizzy and lost his hold. The second theory is that he was struck by a falling object. Others seem to think that the colonel struck his head against a bulkhead, or cross-beam, which occurred at frequent intervals in the May raise to keep back the water and mud. Supt. McSorley immediately raised the alarm and quickly secured the assistance of miners. The injured man did not live long enough, however, for doctors to reach the mine, and it was a procession that came out of the tunnel to soon after the accident, carrying the body toward the undertaking establishment of J. H. Richardson.

JURY IMPANELED.

A coroner's jury was impaneled at once and after viewing the remains recessed until Saturday at 3 o'clock. The jury consists of Louis Carpenter, James McDonald, and E. J. Beggs. The undertaking parlors were besieged all evening by crowds who were anxious to view the body. For Col.

VINOL'S RELIABILITY.

STRONG EVIDENCE OF MERIT.

Prominent Physicians Join with Druehl & Franken in Recommending Vinol.

Countless physicians and druggists are now prescribing and endorsing Vinol as the most valuable cod liver oil preparation known to medicine, and it is far surpassing all other forms of cod liver oil.

A prominent physician writes: "I am satisfied that Vinol derives its wonderful life-giving and strength-creating power from the medicinal curative elements found in the cod's liver. It is the best strength creator and stimulant for old people, weak women, children, and the convalescent that I ever saw."

Another physician writes: "I could cite many cases where health has been restored in a surprisingly short time by Vinol. I should be very sorry to have to do without Vinol in my practice. It has no equal for hard colds, throat and bronchial troubles."

Now, when we tell you that we have never sold in our store a remedy of such remarkable curative and strength-creating power as Vinol, for the weak, the sick and the aged, and that if it fails to accomplish what we say it will, we will refund your money without question, it will show you our faith in the preparation.

In cases where cod liver oil, emulsions and other tonics fail, Vinol will heal, strengthen and cure.

JACKSON'S APPOINTMENT.

Dr. Stewart Takes Umbrage at Recent Action of Mayor Morris.

The city board of health held a meeting yesterday and discussed the appointment of C. M. Jackson as clerk of the board. Those present were Mayor Morris, Health Commissioner Stewart and Dr. Fisher. Mr. Brooks, the fourth member of the board, was not present at the meeting. Mayor Morris notified the board of his action in appointing Mr. Jackson.

Dr. Stewart, in rather forcible language, accused the mayor of usurping the power of the health commissioner and the entire board. He argued that he should have the appointment of the clerk and the same should be approved by the board and the city council. He cited in support of his contention, the

The two-year-old son of Mrs. Margaret Ellsworth of Idaho, died from laudanum poisoning yesterday, at the residence of Mrs. Nell McMillan of Murray, where he and his mother were visiting. A bottle of laudanum had been left on a table within easy reach, and the child got it and then took a drink to see what it was. A physician was called in as soon as the child's condition was discovered, but too late to save him. The remains will be taken to Idaho for burial.

NEW SERMON.

The Minister Preaches Against Health Destroying Articles.

A pennsylvania minister tells what coffee will do when persisted in. He says:

"For years I have been a heavy coffee drinker and found I was losing in appetite and vitality. I knew not what was the cause of my trouble but I knew that something serious was wrong."

"I could not walk far without feeling very weak and my painful suffering often caused me to return from a trip of pastoral visiting before a single visit had been made. My wife suffered from the same troubles and it occurred to us to try leaving off coffee, and this we finally did and tried Postum in its place. We had several failures until we learned to boil the Postum full 15 minutes and then it was delicious. Now I assure you we will not give it up."

"Immediately became better and today, three years afterwards, I am free from all the complaints I had at the time mentioned. I immediately began to preach Postum in the homes of my parishioners and my refusal to drink coffee led frequently to a dissertation on Postum and its merits and now to my satisfaction in a number of cases my father while adopting Postum entirely."

"My father while an abstainer from coffee was a devotee to the tea habit but I persuaded him to try Postum and the whole family now use it altogether and father has been relieved of a very annoying case of stomach trouble as the result." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Tea, like coffee, is full of drugs, the most prominent being caffeine, a strong alkaloidal poison that wrecks nerves, stomach, heart and kidneys, causing organic ails in many persons. Postum in place of tea or coffee means comfort, happiness and health. There's a reason. Look in each package for the famous little book, "The Road to Wellville."

great array of sympathetic faces in front. The club was enthusiastically received, and it is doubtful if it ever sang better. The program included "Serenade to Juanita" (Jorberti), an Indian serenade, "Minnehaha" (Loring), and the chorus, "The Sword of Ferrara." For encore they gave Nevins' beautiful little "Mighty Lak a Rose" and "Love is a Sickness."

Assisting the Orpheus club were Miss Segrid Pedersen, who sang the Arietta from "Dionisi" (Mazurka), "Love's Eternity" and "Mavourneen." The Euterpe quartet, including the Misses Emily Larsen, Marguerite Harley, Lealand Clayton and Aura Rogers, gave two numbers, "Loch Lomond" (Mazurka), sung by William Souther, and as an encore for the first number, "The Tack." Miss Emily Larsen sang "Leila's Song," by Suppe. Miss Esther Allen playing the violin obligato. Arthur Pedersen was given an ovation at the end of his first number, "Russian Airs" (Wienlawski), and in response gave the "Serenade" by Mozowsky. "Who Treads the Path of Duty" (Mozart), sung by William Souther, and in response he sang "Drinking."

EDUCATIONAL EXHIBIT.

Supt. Nelson Reports on His Recent Trip to St. Louis.

At the meeting of the state board of education yesterday afternoon, State Supt. of Schools Nelson made a report on his recent trip to St. Louis in the interest of the educational exhibit from this state at the world's fair. While the fair authorities rejected the application of the state board for space for an exhibit, it is still the belief of Supt. Nelson that that ruling will be rescinded if the Utah commission will make an appropriation of about $2,000 so that a creditable exhibit can be made.

Supt. Nelson and Gov. Wells held a consultation today and talked the matter over. It was stated by the superintendent that all of the neighboring states have appropriated much larger sums than that for the educational exhibit. Colorado will expend $12,500; Wyoming and Montana, $8,000 each; and Missouri will expend the sum of $135,000 on its educational exhibit. Supt. Nelson states that Utah's other exhibits are being placed in shape and that the Utah building is the finest of its kind for the money on the grounds. Utah has been given first space in the mining and agricultural buildings.
