

of good hay at 4, and 5 dollars per ton. And where can you get it now for ten? Where can you get a ton of hay for twenty, should another storm like the last, pass before you?!! Where are the stacks of hay for sale on Emigration Route in all Utah? Tell us and we will publish them gratis; stacks of straw even, where are they? Look at the hundreds of cattle reported dead on the prairies, during the late storm, and answer!! Look at the thousands to be dead on the prairies, a few weeks hence, (if Indians and Spaniards who have dwelt here from time immemorial, prophesy correctly,) and answer!!

Saints, what will you do with this friendly caution, to take care of your grain? Will you raise at once on the price, among yourselves? This would be just like the rest of your folly, in this theory. Sell for nothing to strangers, and make your brethren foot the bill!! No! brethren take care of your grain. Feed the widow and fatherless; the infirm and poor; and be saving and liberal with what you have.

If any Saint supposes he is going to get rich by offering his wheat, or grain, or flour at an advanced price, on account of what we have written, or any other cause, mark that man, he is a speculator in your midst, designing to enrich himself on your destruction; or an apostate, ready to start for the gold mines, or hell, as soon as he can get money enough out of you to carry him home; but don't hinder his passage, only by not helping his speculation, for there is grain enough, if all will be prudent, to save the saints till another harvest, but for the good of all emigrants, we wish it understood they need not expect to obtain a pound of flour in Utah, next, coming season, for less than one dollar per pound, for it is not here for them.

We have much more to say to the saints about grain, but we cannot say it now.

Washington Monument.

It is well known to most of our readers, that a long time since, a company of philanthropic individuals in the United States, were organized, into what is called the WASHINGTON MONUMENT ASSOCIATION, for the purpose of erecting or causing to be erected, a superb monument, at the city of Washington, the capital of the nation, in honor of, and for the perpetuity of the name of Washington, the immortal George Washington, one of the Gods great noblemen, whose acts immortalized his name in establishing the most glorious government that has ever blessed any nation of earth, the principles of which, if extended to all nations, would shed forth their heavenly influence to the inhabitants of earth, as does the sun at noon day in a clear sky, to the palace of the rich, and the cottage of the peasant, on a world without bounds.

This association wishing that all might have the privilege of a share in their great enterprise, invited the different states of the union; cities, companies corporate, individuals, and all who were disposed, to forward a block of marble, with inscriptions, to be placed in the monument, during its erection.

In compliance with this general invitation, and a desire ever to be numbered with the hero whose name the majestic remembrance bears; and especially with those glorious principles of self government which the heroic Statesman spent his life to acquire and establish for his beloved country, an early Legislature of the Provisional Government of the State of Deseret, contemplated and designed a block of marble for the said monument.

At that period there were hundreds of houseless suppleless widows and orphans in Deseret, who had just been expropriated from the land of Washington, and that Legislature considered it their duty to provide, first for the living; consequently the completion of the monumental slab was deferred, till the sufferers from the hml of monuments could be provided for: not sufferers from or by the laws of Washington, or the constitution which he toiled to perpetuate, all of which still exist in all their glory; but sufferers by mobocrats, by demagogues, by hypocrites in high and low places, who had set at defiance all the laws, constitution, and principles that Washington inculcated.

As it was then, so it is now. There were hypocrites enough concerned in the affairs of government, who would wink at every infringement of the constitution and laws by mobocrats when their interest required it, and they cared more for a little, brief, personal aggrandizement, than they did for Washington, and all the good and wholesome principles he left behind him; and it is against such hypocrites, such traitors, that we raise the warning voice; it is such traitors that have made mothers widows, and children orphans, and by that means have prevented our presenting our designed bequest to the Washington Monument Association; long ago; but thank God the constitutional government of Washington, of the United States, yet stands good; and may it stand for ever to bless the world; but cursed be that man that shall raise his hand against it, and all patriots, saints, lovers of liberty, and good men will say Amen.

Although the provisional Government of Deseret has since been changed to Utah Territory, that should not, and does not alter the original design of the Deseret Legislature.

No perfect marble having yet been quarried, as the best substance, a block of whitish oolitic limestone from the San Pe's quarry, was selected, and the stone is now complete, standing in the Utah Library, ready to be delivered at Washington, as soon as the season and circumstances will permit.

The following brief description is from the pencil of the youthful artist, who was too modest to add his name (WILLIAM WARD), to the stone, to perpetuate the remembrance of forty days' labor.

"The block is 3 feet long, 3 wide, and 6 1/2 inches thick. In the center stands the Bee-hive, the emblem of industry; over it is the motto 'Holliness to the Lord.' Above this is the all-seeing eye, with rays—'Deweth the live the word, 'Deseret.' Over these, springing from the ground, which is covered with different kinds of foliage, is a semi-circular arch, enriched with the Convallaria. On each side are garlands; in one is the symbol of union, enriched with foliage; in the other is the cornucopia. Next the eye is a fillet 14 inches wide, and 3/4 of an inch deep."

This description is all sufficient for our present purpose, though we will observe, that on account of fine articles of flint interspersed in the stone, the artist could not give that polish he wished, and which might have been completed in far less time had the stone been pure.

The citizens of Deseret, (Utah we might now say) will be anxious to see this block, before its departure; and we have no doubt that some convenient time and place will offer to gratify their curiosity; but, at present, it is not consistent to receive visitors in the Library, and the season and weather forbid a public exhibition; therefore, we say to all our friends, be patient, and all things shall be attended to in due season, for we delight in your pleasure as in our own, and no doubt those who have the marble in charge, feel as we do, and will give you an exhibition before its departure.

A Boy, 11 years old, was frozen to death at Mountville, in one of the late severe storms. By his tracks, he must have fallen about 18 times; and at last crawled on his hands and knees some distance towards Bro. Morris Phelps' house, before he gave up. It occurred in the night, consequently was not seen. Name, George Vale.

MAILS.—Owing to the severe Snow storms and afterwards a thaw the Eastern Mail which left on the 1st was unable to proceed, and returned on the 2nd of January.

The California Mail left for San Bernardino, Los Angeles, and San Diego 1st inst., carrying with it the Fillmore, Parowan, Oregon, California, and Eastern Mails.

The Fort Laramie Mail carrying only a few packages, for Independence, Fort Laramie, and Frontier towns.

The Manti Mail has not been able to proceed further than Summit Creek, for several weeks, the Carrier reporting the Snow 3 feet deep at that point when last down.

The Oregon Mail returned, the Carrier reporting Snow 2 feet deep at Oden City, and deeper the further North he went. Bar River full of drifted ice, and 5 feet of Snow on the bank.

The Eastern Mail will leave the first possible chance that it can proceed.

FOREIGN LETTERS.—We again remind our friends that their letters to the elders in foreign countries, (England excepted,) left at the Post office, unpaid, can go no further till they go to the dead letter office. Let it be understood, you need not spend your time to write letters to friends in foreign nations, unless you pre-pay the postage, such letters can't go!!!

We would suggest to the Post Masters of Provo, Salt Creek, and Ogden, to write to the first Assistant Post Master General, Washington, to change the names of their several Post Offices, from Utah Lake to Provo City; Salt Creek to Nephi City; and Brownsville to Oden City; let each have its right name. We understand that the Post Master at Fillmore has attended to this.

Our young readers in Deseret, will be interested in our leading story, copied from "Parley's Cabinet Library," which they might have read, entire as thousands of others have, before this, if they had not been driven from hill to dale, to earth's remotest bounds, by the cruel hand of mobocracy; but through the kindness of our heavenly Father, and the liberality of the American Congress, we now have a small Library in Great Salt Lake City, called "Utah Library," from which we quote our story, and if it pleases the little boys and girls of Utah, we will give them more quotations free and by. Mr. Parley is prominently qualified for the work in which he is engaged, writing books for youth, and many a little lad, who shall read this story, may be benefited by it, when as an elder in Israel, he shall be called to preach the gospel in Asia and Africa.

Patrons of the News need not expect any more papers till they bring us some wood and tallow. We know the winter is severe, and comprehend the difficulties of getting wood; but it is impossible to write without heat and light.

WEATHER.—Since our last date, it continued to snow almost daily till Wednesday the 29th, when the snow averaged from 12 to 14 inches, in the city, and many cattle were reported dead, and dying on the prairie. Rain and thaw commenced on the 29th, and continued 4 days, leaving the earth almost bare on New Years; and on Sunday second, thaw but no rain, and the earth quite its natural color, with a clear light evening.

Monday and Tuesday, the 3d and 4th insts., the sky was very clear, and the weather mild, with a slight freeze during the night. Wednesday, 5th, sun somewhat clouded, but mild, and building is progressing in the city. There is scarce a speck of snow in sight, except on the mountains, and nature wears the general aspect of spring.

Wednesday night very warm and cloudy.

Thursday, warm, with rain 2 or 3 hours at mid-day; very pleasant r. x. with flying, lofty clouds, just for sky curtains.

Thursday night, one inch Snow. Friday, warm, Snow gone, building advancing. Jan. 4th, Snow 4 foot deep in Ogden Hole.

The Sugar Factory, we understand, is nearly ready for operation, and would have been, before this had it not been for the severe frosts of the two previous weeks.

Deseret Almanac, No. 3, by W. W. Phelps, is out of press and for sale at the Tithing office, or E. D. Woolley's store. The Tithing office has also forwarded copies of the Almanac to our agents generally, in the Territory, and request speedy sale and quick returns in Butter, Eggs, and Cash. Price—25 cents.

CAPT. STANBURY'S REPORT.

Mr. Editor, Having given Capt. H. Stanbury's report of surveys and explorations in this valley, in a hasty perusal, with a special glance at that part that relates to us as a people, I cannot refrain from expressing my views and opinion in relation to its merits. A great portion of the earlier citizens of this Territory are acquainted with Capt. S., from his residence among them, and will be highly gratified to learn that his report is completed. The hardships and privations which he endured are only surpassed by those who first settled in this mountain country. As there is only one copy of said report in the Territory, and that obtained through our library, the masses of the people cannot obtain it. A short sketch, therefore, in relation to it, in your valuable paper, cannot fail to be particularly acceptable, to the numerous circles whose esteem and good will this distinguished officer won by his untiring industry, indefatigable labors, excessive toils and hardships, and gentlemanly bearing towards us while in our midst.

His account of the Mormons or Latter Day Saints, their rise, history, faith, present condition and future prospect is correct. He has represented us just as we would represent ourselves; and how an "outsider" employed in other matters by day and by night could so completely touch every cord that is supposed to vibrate only within, is a matter of no little surprise to all here who have read his book. It shows that the Capt. was observing, and slept with one eye and both ears open.

The bold, generous and independent manner of expressing his views, commands our respect and admiration. The style of his language is dignified and elegant—the flowing tide of rhetorical sweetness—the condensation of much in little—the limp d stream of unmix'd Truth flowing from no disturbed or troubled fountain; and moistening in its course, with the dew of gladness, the hearts of thousands who have long snarled under the lash of misrepresentation, cruel jealousies, ridiculous superstitions, and the whole family of non-descripts arrayed in warlike attitude to keep celestial truths from holding dominion on their own earth, the foot-stool of the Almighty!

The man who goes from our midst, and tells the truth of us, and causes the same to circulate among those to whom our own agents cannot obtain so ready access, shall be remembered when he comes again among us, and shall also be remembered in that day when it shall be said, "Inasmuch as ye have done unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done unto me."

Generosity inspires patriotism in our bosoms; but cruel misrepresentation makes us feel that every hour of our hard is an army of soldiers, and every star in the firmament a Mormon angel to fight for us in the day of battle. No more.

Respectfully,

Ma. Editor.—Mr. E. D. Woolley gave a splendid entertainment to his numerous friends on the 30th ult. His house was filled with friends, music dancing, and cheerful hearts, and his table abundantly supplied with the good things of the Valley. No one could help being pleased with friend Woolley's exertions to please his friends; but no one thing pleased us better than to see some of the first ladies of the city, dressed in home attire, in garments from valley grown wool by their own hands, according to the commandment: Such beauty surpasses all silks and satins, till the Saints can manufacture them, themselves.
