propriated for Their Benefit-Improvements in Small Cities.

The judiciary committee of the hous to which was referred house joint resp ution No. 4, by Representative Davis of Ulniah county yesterday reported the resolution back to the house recommending that it he passed. The respiution provides for an amendment to the constitution of the state permitting cities of the third class and towns to raise, by faxation, sufficient means to establish water systems, etc., and this may not be done under the present rate of taxation permitted to cities of the classes named. If the amendment goos into effect, these cities will be able to levy an assessment o 8 per cent of the assessed valuation of the taxable property, for the purposes named, and this, in the estimation of the author of the resolution, will pro-vide sufficient revenue to enable th towns to protect the health of their inhobitants by establishing and main taloing water systems. not sufficient to establish and main tain a water system. Take the city o thin a water system. Take the city of Vormal, for instance. There we have E niles of payed sidewalks, 15 or more business blocks, the center within a radius of five miles of a population of 0,000 people, but the town has in water system. The supply of water is principally from wells and ditches, and this in many cases is not only detrithis in many cases is not only detri-mental to health, but affords the city no means for fire protection. In addi-tion, a sewer system should and might be maintained in towns of the size of Vernal, and if the amount of the levy these purposes were doubled the us might be reached. The people themselves are willing to be taxed for the purpose, and I hope the joint reso-lution providing for the increase will
