AMERICAN.
CONGRATULATING SAN FRANCISCO ON
THE RESULT.

NEW YORK, 1.—The Tribune comments: The triumph of the Citizens' Union in the San Francisco election is a foreboding. The demagogue who has filled the San Francisco with billingsgate and menaced the city with fire and slaughter have been put to rout at the polls. The demagogues were in open alliance with the workmen and share the ignominy of the campaign and the defeat.

For example, the Democratic Convention accepted the San Francisco candidate for joint Senator, after receiving from him a formal pledge that he would vote for a democratic United States Senator. A party nomination had previously been made, but the leaders voted with one another in wheeling to the rowdy demagogue. A few hours later the election was swallowed by a large majority without retching and almost without grimace. The result of the election is most significant and gratifying. The redemption of San Francisco is drawing near.

The Times says: In the election for a Commission of President Kearney's friends have been defeated.
The candidate for State Senator to fill a vacancy has also been defeated.
The successful party is the Citizens' Union, the new organization which has been called into existence by the injuries of the men of the San Francisco. Their candidates endorsed by the republicans and by the more reputable wing of the democratic party. The lightness of the total vote is ascribed to the fact that one of the so-called workmen went to the polls. Kearney and his leaders are furious at this state of affairs, which, coming directly from the conviction and sentence of Kearney, apparently settles the fate of these agitators. There is some talk of throwing out the Kearney vote on the ground that the ballots are printed in a manner contrary to law; but this is probably the idle threats of desperadoes. The San Francisco manifesto is to be congratulated upon the result of an election, which, if it should prove as substantial a victory as the present one, will surely end the long agitation that so seriously injured the interests of the city.

THE SILENT MAN SPEAKS.
NEW ORLEANS, 1.—To Buzzey's address of welcome, General Grant replied: "Gentlemen and Citizens of New Orleans."

After an absence of a great many years from your State, I am happy to return to it, and very proud of the reception I am receiving at your hands, and very glad that it is given in a spirit of respect and cordial relations. The scenes of war are now passed. We are a united people. I believe that if this country should unfortunately become involved in war, we will all wear the same uniform and fight under the same flag. (Cheers.) I hope for New Orleans and this section the prosperity it deserves. What I relate to you with you in your prosperity. I am glad to hear that this city has been so much benefited by the improvement of the mouth of the river. What helps you helps a large section of your country, and the well-being of New Orleans and the South increased and long continued prosperity, believing and knowing that it is the best, best for disorders and secondly, the well-being of the South people are always happy and contented.

Again let me thank you, Mr.
Chairman and friends, for the kind words and in conclusion I hope that the Blue and Gray may never again be arrayed against each other.
The past is gone. Again I thank you. (Loud and continued applause.)

RESOLUTIONS OF THE DEMOCRATIC COLUMBIAN, Neb., 1.—The Democratic State Convention met here today, Frank P. Millard is the chairman. Committees were appointed, and pending reports addresses were made by Dr. Miller, of Omaha, and others.
The motion was made to suspend the third rule in the National Convention was adopted by a vote of 88 to 67. The committee on resolutions presented a report advocating hard money and low tariff. Resolutions were adopted in relation to the wrong inflicted upon the democratic party and the country at large by the republicans in 1876; and in relation to the wrongs done to right those wrongs as far as possible and punish the wrongdoers.

ENDING TO THE
NEW YORK, 1.—A committee of 21 appointed by the Democratic Union on Monday, to devise the best plan for bringing about a union between the Tammany and anti-Tammany democrats, met this afternoon and appointed a sub-committee of five to call upon the two existing democratic organizations of this city and want each of them to appoint a sub-committee to meet this committee in conference for the purpose of devising a plan to secure the election of a united representation of the democrats of the city of New York as delegates to the coming convention.

burned the Brown County Court House and jail, destroying the convention of Kansas assembled in Representative's Hall this afternoon.

L. H. Ledbetter, an excellent orator and business, was appointed temporary chairman, and the convention adjourned until 8 p.m. The convention is expected to adjourn tomorrow, and the delegates are expected to be in session for that candidate.

BLIND BLUNDER.
CHICAGO, 1.—The Inter-Ocean's Washington special says: Senator Blaine caused considerable surprise and disgust by favoring the rider on the appropriation bill in hostility to the former position of himself and the republican party. He recognizes his error to-night and regrets it.

JAY COOK'S ESTATE.
PHILADELPHIA, 1.—The public sale of stocks, bonds and other effects of the bankrupt estate of Jay Cook and Co., to-day, realized $467, Jay Cook's former residence, and 140 lots of Western land appraised at $116,000 were offered without any bid being made.

SECRETARY SHERMAN.
A Speech to His Ohio Friends.
MANCHESTER, O., 1.—Secretary Sherman, in a short speech here tonight, referring to his previous incorrect remark that he had come home last fall to repair his fences, said that thanks to his friend Mr. Nigh, those fences were now in repair, and now he has come home to because his heart is turned towards home.

He continued: What I say to you will be said to many who don't sympathize with you in your generous support, but it is due to them as well as to you, that I say this frankly, manly and honestly. I regretted that I had not been able to be with you in person, but I was seeking my name in the approaching Presidential contest. It is not egotism to state this fact, and it is not to shrink from criticism and necessary correction. I accept the position with out pretense of modesty, because I did not think it right to lose sight of the issue. I was troubled on my account without a frank avowal that I was willing to accept and without delaying until I was in a position to do so. I with a firm determination not to detract from the merits or services of others, nor to seek this lofty elevation by dishonest means, or by evasions or pretense. (Applause.) In this way and in this way only am I a candidate, but with great doubt whether I shall be elected. I am resolved, in case of failure, that I will abide cheerfully and kindly by the choice of the convention. (Applause.)

It is necessary to state, upon which my candidacy depends, and that is, if the republicans of Ohio do not fairly and fully in their convention, in the coming contest, express a preference for me, and support it with substantial unanimity in the National Convention, my name will not be presented to the convention by my consent. (Applause.) And this, fellow citizens, is about all, and is perhaps more than I ought to say about personal matters, for in the great contest in which we are about to engage, the hopes and ambitions and even the lives of men are at stake. I am contented with the issue involved.

When American politics are so tranquil that a mere choice of men, and not great principles, is the contending question between parties, then it is a matter of comparative indifference who is nominated. But the contest this fall between the republican and democratic parties, is a contest for the decision of the most important question of the age.

The candidates chosen for the republican party must be those who will not only fairly represent the republicans of Ohio, but who will also be able to express a preference for me, and

THE PRESIDENT'S POLICY.

He vindicated the President's policy. He said it had been the criticism of many other acts of his administration, and said he believed it was a sober judgment to-day, that it was wise and for the interests of both whites and blacks.

Referring to the desperate and dangerous condition of finances three years ago, when hard times had driven men of work, encouraged tramps, riot and violence. He said paper was below par, distrust and idleness, and shiftlessness were uppermost, and 21 per cent, bonds were with difficulty sold at par.
Now the before idleness men are busy, money is at par, credit is universal, capital is no longer hoarded, new industries are springing up, the public debt is rapidly decreasing, the month's decrease being greater than ever before—$14,000,000. (Great applause.) Hundreds of millions of our bonds have been sold above par and at a large premium, now, and lower rate may, perhaps be secured as last fall carried by a majority or plurality every northern State where an election was held.

FOREIGN.
GREAT BRITAIN.
Foreign Notes.
LONDON, 1.—The Times, in a leading article on the result of the polling yesterday, says: The conservatives must admit very grave discouragement. The balance of the gains and losses is on the whole, in favor of the opposition. The whole number of votes cast thus far, aggregate 348,568 liberal and 231,370 tory.

An envoy of the King of Siam is expected on his second visit to England about the middle of May. It had been arranged that the King himself would come and invest Queen Victoria with the order of the white elephant, but his visit is postponed in consequence of the indisposition of the ex-regent, who would have been the one to have held the reins of government.

The Daily News, in a leading article says: The first day of the polling resulted in a great liberal victory. There is a liberal gain of fifteen counting us thirty in a division of the House. The boroughs which voted yesterday have practically proclaimed the defeat of the conservative government. There is every reason to believe that the gains of yesterday will be increased to-day.

Queen Victoria's present in Asia-minor. Cattle, sheep and goats are being carried off in large numbers by disease, and the country between Angora and Ismid is becoming a desert.

The German emigration to the United States is again on the increase, and extensive preparations are being made in every part of Germany.

The Pope has sent Monsiegnor Colones to an extraordinary mission to the American Government.
