The Rev. Francis Abgren of the Trin. lty Methodist Episcopal church of Stockholm, Sweden, is at the Wilson. He is on his way to the general con-ference at Los Angeles. He is accompanied by the Rev. G. Wagnsson, presiding elder of the western district of Sweden, and two laymen, E. Lundgren and John Borgeson of Stockhohn and Gothenburg. They represent 19,000 Methodists in Sweden.

The normal seniors at the state university were handsomely entertained at a reception given by President and Mrs. Kingsbury in the Museum build-ing. The attendance was about 200, including members of the university faculty, an entertaining program was presented, and refreshments were served. The musicians participating in the program were: Miss Agatha Berkhoel, contralto; Willard Weihe, violinist: Fred Graham, tenor; Prof. J. J. McClellan, planist.

The Independent Telephone company is moving today from the old offices in the Commercial building to its new home on State street. The new building, which attracts attention by its handsome white stone facing, is a modern, three-story, fire proof structure, cost-ing $80,000. The interior is arranged with special view to efficiency, with the distributing plant on the first floor, and he main switchboard is on the floor, where there is plenty of light and every possible convenience. # A JOYOUS GATHERING.

Banquet, Speeches and Music in the First Ward Thursday Night.

The second anniversary of the organization of the Third quorum of Elders, formerly the Sixteenth quorum, was fittingly celebrated in the First ward meetinghouse Thursday night. The hall was tastefully decorated for the oc-casion and a banquet, speeches and a choice musical program were features of the joyous gathering.

Elder W. S. Naylor, as master of cere. monics, made a speech of welcome, af-ter which Elder George Hilton as of a blessing on the food and the festivities commenced in earnest. President Joseph E. Taylor was introduced, and related some pleasing rem-miscences of the old Sixteenth quorum and concluded by paying a glowing tribute to the officers of the new Third, Other speakers of the evening were President Schulthess of Liberty stake, Bishops Warburton and Sheets, High Councilors Hinckley, Mickleson and Vetterli and Elders Rasband and Coul-

Elder John T. Thorup responded to the toast, "Our Missionaries," and Pres-ident A. O. Miller thanked all who had shown such an interest in and appreciation of the Elders' quorum. Presi-dent Annie S. Musser of the Relist societies of Liberty stake spoke entertainingly for a few moments. The vo-cal and instrumenta selections on the program were rendered by the Misses Evans, William S. Musser, Mrs. Eva M. James and Thomas Ashworth. Miss Ruby Swift recited, and after an eve ning of perfect enjoyment Elder John Pike offered the closing prayer.
