THE UTAH SITUATION.

No section of the country has been talked about so much as Utah. and yet the affairs of no place are so little understood. This is in consequence of misrepresentation and they utterly despise. prejudice, the first of which gains oredence by reason of the second. If people were not prepared by prejudice to believe extraordinary things about the people of this Territory, much of the misrepresentation that succeeds would atterly fail, as too foolish to be believed and unworthy of notice because unac companied with evidence in its support.
