ORPHEUM STOCK SHOW IN NEW YORK

Utah National Bank Ships Controlling Shares to Mr. Martin Beck.

WERE A GOOD INVESTMENT.

Final Dividend, Making Seven in All, Paid Prior to Consumption Of the Deal.

Today the Utah National bank expressed the stock of the Orpheum Vaudeville company to Martin Beck in New York, and as soon as he receives the same, a draft on the basis of $10 a share will be sent to Salt Lake, so that the holders of the 51 per cent of the shares will get their money and the control of the Orpheum will pass into the hands of Mr. Beck and associates, comprising the Orpheum circuit.

The stockholders, especially those who bought in "on the ground floor" have had apparently a good investment, receiving par for their shares and, in addition, getting seven dividends inside of two years, six of them being for 10 per cent and the last payable March 30, for 5 per cent.

Architects are now working on plans for the proposed new theater which will be a beauty, and when it is ready for occupancy, the old Orpheum on State street will be turned into the home of musical comedy and will be devoted to the production of the New York successes which in the ordinary course of events do not reach Salt Lake for a year or two after presentation on Broadway.

Under the new order after Mr. Beck gets complete control of the Orpheum Sunday performances will prevail and the city will be charmed every Wednesday, so that the unpleasant features of the delays on Monday nights will pass down to history.

When the case was called on, the stand said her husband attacked her yesterday and slapped her in the face and kicked her. This was corroborated by the two other children. When there is no fever and little (if any) swelling, you may know that it is only necessary to apply a few drops of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy to get quick relief. ## APPEAL TO THE WOMEN

Springville Lady Writes on the Subject Of Citizens Writing on a Temperance Movement.

To the Editor: When the women of Utah wanted the ballot they went to work with a vim and did some systematic work in order to bring about the desired results, and I have thought for years that we have not come up to our own expectations nor to the men who so nobly championed our cause and helped us at every turn. Had it not been for S. R. Hurlbut, S. H. Hurlbut, G. P. White and others in the State Constitutional convention who saw the justice of our cause we would not now be in the enjoyment of the inalienable rights, and while it may seem we haven't accomplished much, when we read of what is being done by the noble women of Salt Lake City, cannot but think they have greater influence in developing their plans for the betterment of our youth than if they were shorn of the benefits accruing from the use of the ballot.

What I want to say is, cannot the women of Utah join together in the interest of the anti-liquor cause and urge a constitutional amendment. On the 17th of last September the people of Oklahoma voted constitutional prohibition. It is provided in their constitution that no change shall be made until 21 years. This is the one state in the union where prohibition was ingrafted into her constitution when she obtained statehood. The steps leading up to this victory, the temperance effort along the line of a non-partisan effort, while the state is Democratic, yet many Republicans voted for prohibition, on a special ballot. This is the course that all good citizens should pursue. There is no fear of the present political party losing its prestige on this question, for there are enough temperance Republicans to uphold and assist in the enforcement of the prohibition law. When the people in any state can divorce themselves from partisan politics long enough to get together and vote on a question of this kind, they can cast out this great evil and save the homes and lift the old ship of state from the murky waters of sin and degradation into an atmosphere of religious respectability and good citizenship that will commend itself to the esteem of the world.

There are women galore in Salt Lake City who have time and means, with ability and push, that could bring our state into line on this question and while we wait for the legislature to let us show that we are in sympathy with this movement. To have one small town prohibition and all around us high license cannot reap the benefits we desire, but as a citizen, I would like to hear some expressions from our prominent women through the "News."

S. A. B.

Springville March 22.

WITNESS IS FRANK.

John B. Schinness, an employee of the Pleasant Valley Coal company at Sunnyside, admitted frankly that he filed on coal lands and signed affidavits without reading them because he saw in doing so, "a little easy money." Innumerable other persons have admitted "shady" work in regard to coal land matters. His testimony enlivened the coal hearing on in the federal building quite a bit yesterday.
