WATCHES JEWELRY

ABOUT three months ago all the watchmakers in the city agreed and subscribed to certain prices for work in their line, for the purpose of obtaining uniform and Cheap Rates. This agreement, however, has already been broken by several watchmakers, who are undercelling their colleagues and thereby proving themselves untrue to their written word. In consequence of which, the undersigned has withdrawn his name from said agreement and established his own prices, cheaper than any other Watchmaker's in Salt Lake City.

For You, Madam,

Whose complexion betrays some humiliating imperfection, whose mirror tells you that you are Tanned, Sallow and disfigured in countenance, or have Eruptions, Redness, Roughness or unwholesome tints of complexion, we say use Hagan's Magnolia Balm. A delicate, harmless and delightful article, producing the most natural and entrancing tints, the artificiality of which no observer can detect, and which soon becomes permanent if the Magnolia Balm is judiciously used.

GRAND CEREMONIES.

Unveiling Thoma's Statue.

WASHINGTON, 19.—The procession was composed of five divisions and was one hour in passing a given point. Gen. Crittenden was chief marshal, assisted by the following marshals of divisions, each of whom was attended by a brilliant staff: Generals R. D. Mussey, H. V. Boynton, E. A. Carman, B. F. Grafton and Col. R. Hamill.

Upon arriving at the Circle where the statue is placed, the ceremonies of unveiling were begun after prayer. "Hail to the Chief" and "Star Spangled Banner" were sung by the grand chorus, with the band drum corps and an artillery accompaniment. The statue was then unveiled, the people at a distance being informed of the fact by a salute of 13 guns from Fort Whipple. Grand hymns were then given by a chorus of 100 male voices, supported by a military band, drum corps and artillery. At the conclusion of the hymns, Stanley Matthews delivered an oration, the presentation of the statue was made as an offering of the Army of the Cumberland to the nation, and President Hayes accepted the offering in behalf of the people of the United States.

After some routine business, the meeting was adjourned and the members went to their position in the procession.

The President said: 'In the name of the people of the United States, I accept this noble statue so worthy of its subject, erected in honor of Gen. Geo. N. Thomas by his comrades of the illustrious Army of the Cumberland."

The exercises at the Circle occupied two hours. It was estimated that 50,000 people were in the throng that surrounded the enclosure. A general holiday was observed throughout the city, and the entire populace appeared to be in the streets.

The military features of the procession surpassed anything that has been seen since the grand review at the close of the war. The procession on the way to the Circle passed the White House, where the President, Secretary Sherman, Secretary Evarts, Secretary Thompson, Secretary Schurz and Postmaster Key occupied seats upon the platform erected for the occasion. The band at the head of the procession played "Hail to the Chief." The President and those on the stand acknowledged the salute as they did that of each successive band and division.

The Capitol, Treasury Department and several other buildings, were illuminated with electric lights this evening. Pennsylvania Avenue was ablaze with gas, and was densely thronged with people. Rockets and bombs were sent up from the south front of the Treasury Department and from various parts of the city.

The grand tent erected upon the grounds south of the White House was the main point of attraction for the members of the Army of the Cumberland, invited guests and citizens generally.

At 8 o'clock, when the exercises began, about 5,000 persons were packed within, while as many more thronged every approach. The tent was brilliantly illuminated with cordons of gas jets surrounding seven central poles, which supported the canvass and presented an animated kaledioscope of glittering uniforms and gorgeous toilets. The exercises begun with prayer by the Rev. H. C. McCauley of All Souls Unitarian Church, this city. Judge McArthur delivered the address of welcome on behalf of the city. After music by the West Point Band and Centurian Choir, General Anson G. McCook delivered an oration.

THE SURVIVORS' STORY.

More of the Lake Disaster.

NEW YORK, 19.—The following additional particulars relative to the lake disaster have been received: Two tugs of the fleet were seen to go down. The tug Becker came alongside of the dredge Gordon about 1.30 p.m. half full of water. George Palmer, Samuel Logan and William Logan jumped aboard and the dredge immediately thereafter careened and disappeared. The tug O. Thayer went down about nine o'clock p.m. Her Captain, Henry H. Eckler, was saved. Her engineer is supposed to be lost. On board the dredge Gordon were Richard Arnold, Patrick Eagan, Billy Logan, S. Logan, George Palmer and his wife. The water in the engine room was waist deep, and at 4,40 a.m. the Gordon sunk and all on board were drowned excepting fireman Smith and two brothers named Heather who were picked up by the tug Seymour.

Sackett's Harbor, 19. — Lewis Engro, of the tug Seymour says: about 8 o'clock the wind increased to a gale and Cogan, of the tug Becker, came alongside of the Seymour and called out: "Some of our scows are sunk!" It was then snowing hard. Thomas Smith, fireman of the dredge Gordon, says the tug Becker came alongside the Gordon at 9 o'clock, striking her stern and springing a leak, broke a spar and also cracked their planks, which then commenced to open and let in water so fast that it was impossible to keep her clear. He had ninety pounds of steam.

The Becker came alongside again at 12 o'clock, and called out "We are swamping" and wanted to put out a line. Then Mr. Arnold said, "Jump aboard the Gordon and let the tug go," which they did, and the tug Becker went down at once alongside the dredge. Smith then went down forward where the hoisting and backing chain comes through, and took some old clothes and tried to stop the leak, but a heavy sea rendered all efforts futile. He then came on deck. Richard Arnold asked him how the leak was, when he replied he could not stop it, although he had bettered it a little. Mr. Arnold asked him if he could use some of his underclothing which were finer and would work to better advantage. He said he thought he could. He then went down again and did the best he could until the water rose in the forward hold so it pressed him against the deck and put out his lantern. Then they cut a hole in the floor of the fire hold, and used pails in bailing out. The boat then careened and the water came in the engine room door. It was then waist deep. Mr. Arnold says, "Tom, we are gone," I says, "Yes, we are gone." We then started for the stern of the dredge. Egan pulled off a door and handed it to Arnold. We stood together a second then came and took the door from Egan's hand, Smith says: "Come with me," and started for the tow line of the Seymour, and went 15 or 20 feet on the line. He was too heavy and returned to the dredge. When he got back he called out for Egan and for Arnold, but they were gone, carried off by the sea. Then I got hold of Mrs. Palmer's hand and her husband had her around the waist. She says: "George, we must go." He tried to cheer her to hang on a few moments longer, and a swell came and carried both away. I could not hold them any longer. William Hogan was carried away about 15 minutes afterwards, and then Samuel Logan. I had just spoken to him, asking if he could hang on until daylight, but got no response. This left three, Charles and Neal Hawthan and myself. Charles Hawthan said: "I can't hold on any longer." I told him to hold on as long as he could; I took hold of his collar and helped him, Neal Hawthan standing between him and me. It was now getting daylight, and the Seymour came stern on toward us. I hauled in the line with one hand, holding the slacks in my teeth and holding the plank with the other hand. I made the line fast around them then went aboard on the line. The other two were hauled to the side together and rescued in an unconscious condition, one frothing at the mouth.

Oswego, 19.—The tug Gardner, which left this port for Sodus Point yesterday, returned this evening and reported eight scows of the wrecked fleet on the beach between here and Sodus. There were 31 persons of the fleet when it left the River St. Lawrence for Lake Ontario. Sixteen were taken to Sodus, six to Sackett's Harbor and three who were on the scow are missing. The number saved as far as known is 22.

Northern Pacific Railroad Lands.

NEW YORK, 19.—At a meeting to-day of the Board of Directors of the Northern Pacific Railroad Company, the following resolutions were adopted:

Resolved, That the agricultural lands west of the Missouri River to Puget's Sound, shall be offered for sale to settlers at the Government prices of $2.50 cash per acre, with an addition thereto of ten cents per acre, to be paid to the company to reimburse it for the cost of selecting, surveying and conveying said land.

This resolution does not apply to coal or iron lands, nor to lands chiefly valuable for timber, nor to lands required for townsites, nor suitable for manufacturing sites, nor in regions where water is scarce, to lands containing springs or other natural supply. Where it shall be for the interest of settlers at large, such water privileges shall not be exclusively held or controlled by an individual, nor to lands required for the use of the company in connection with the operation of the road.

Secretary of War.

The Bulletin's Washington special revives the rumor that Ramsay, of Minnesota, will be appointed Secretary of War, and says McCrary will be appointed to the bench at his own request.

A Deranged Woman.

CHICAGO, 18.—There is at the police headquarters a Mrs. McKnight, whose mind has become partially deranged, and her little daughter. It is supposed the derangement is due to excitement. She started from Buffalo to San Francisco, and the first evidence of her derangement were noticed shortly before the Michigan Southern train, on which she was a passenger, reached this city. She says her husband has been in New Mexico some time, but she learned recently that he had returned to San Francisco, and was seriously ill, and she was hastening to him. Her friends in the East have been notified of her condition.

Gone Home.

General and Mrs. Grant left at 10 o'clock this morning, on President Akerman's private car for Galena, via the Illinois Central. There was considerable of a crowd at the depot cheering heartily as the General entered the car, but he merely bowed his acknowledgment and the train at once moved off.

Going Aground.

The schooner Ciara Parker became unmanageable this evening, and at last accounts was driving at a terrific rate before the wind toward the south shore of the lake, and will doubtless go aground. Lake disasters are likely to be numerous to-night.

The Political Situation.

AUGUSTA, 19. — The situation here is virtually unchanged. The examination of returns by the republican committee and legal advisers of the parties claiming to be senators and representatives-elect, has not yet been allowed. Some correspondence has taken place and councilors have been waited upon, but no permission to examine the returns has yet been granted. The republicans aver they will not be permitted to see the returns, and the counsel for the parties claiming to have been elected in disputed districts, protest earnestly against not being allowed immediate examination. Counsel on the other hand declare that no one excepting members of the council shall inspect them. The republicans claim that the democrats, having an opportunity to examine the returns, have also had a chance to correct all the errors on their side in advance of the returns being officially opened.

A Terrific Gale.

GRAND HAVEN, Mich., 19.—The worst gale of the season has been blowing here from the southwest since midnight. It is now blowing 40 miles an hour. The propeller General Payne, from Chicago, is on the bar and at 8 o'clock went to pieces. The schooners Hotmer, Margaret, Dall Light, Maple Leaf, loaded with lumber, the scow Rose and the barge Cod, went on the beach between two and eight o'clock this morning. The Maple Leaf is going to pieces. No lives lost. The schooner Harlett is anchored a mile outside, with foresail gone.

Fire.

GALVESTON, 19.—The four story furniture wharehouse of B. R. Davis & Bro., with a workshop in the rear, and three other large brick buildings on the north side of the Strand, burned last night, Davis & Bro., Andrews and D. S. Mitchell are the principal losers. The estimated loss is $150,000; insurance $100,000.

Insane.

CINCINNATI, 19. — A dispatch from Brownsburg, Indiana, says: Mrs. Mary Jones, who was imprisoned some days ago for administering poison to her infant child, has been pronounced insane, and will be taken to the State insane Asylum as soon as she is able to be removed.

WESTERN.

Mining News.

SAN FRANCISCO, 19.—A Virginia dispatch, on the authority of the Chronicle, says: Ore was hoisted all last night through the Union shaft. From this time forward about 200 tons will be hoisted daily. The ore hoisted last night will mill nearly $200 and comes from the 2,500 drift from the Sierra Nevada. Hoisting of ore will be resumed at the Sierra Nevada in a few days and enough will be taken out to keep the Mariposa mill running constantly. The Sierra Nevada ore will also be hoisted from the Union shaft. The plan is now to take ore out of these mines as rapidly as possible. The Sierra Nevada is hauling ore to the Consolidated Virginia ore house for shipment to the river for reduction. There are about 400 tons of this lot, and it will be followed by future extraction.

Big Suit Dismissed.

The District Court this morning dismissed with costs, the suits against the Hale & Norcross, Con. Virginia, Gould and Curry, Savage, Brown Point, Sierra Nevada and Kentuck mining companies, brought by the State 10 years ago to recover about $1,500,000 back bullion taxes. When the actions were commenced the complainants were demurred on the ground that several separate causes of action were united in one. The demurrers were sustained and the usual time given to amend the complaints. Instead of amending, the State applied to the Supreme Court, which decided that the ruling of the lower court was correct. The State still neglected to amend the complaint, hence the dismissal.

Scene of the Explosion.

A special from Wright's Station says: The white men injured by the explosion will likely recover. One more Chinaman died last night. No more bodies have been taken out of the tunnel yet. The blower is repaired and the pumps started at 10 o'clock. The head Chinaman is trying to get men to go into the tunnel after the dead, but no one is willing. He will probably get some one after the blower runs about 17 hours. The air pumped out is very foul and full of gas.

FOREIGN.

GREAT BRITAIN.

Foreign Notes.

LONDON, 19.—A Paris dispatch says: The Council of the Prefecture of the Seine has anulled the election of Humbert to the municipal council.

A telegram from Madrid asserts that Gen. Martinez Campos will resign the premiership and will be sent to Cuba with 15,000 men to pacify the island. He will have the right to declare a state of siege.

At Dewsbury, in Yorkshire, two persons were killed and 30 injured by the fall of the gallery at a political meeting last night.

A Berlin dispatch says: The reports that an alarm has been created by the concentration of Russian troops in Poland, are much exaggerated. Military authorities at Berlin consider that no cause for apprehension exists.

A correspondent at Constantinople reports: There is reason to believe that Russia has recommended the Sultan to introduce the reforms stipulated by the Berlin treaty without delay, and thus avoid European complications.

The St. Petersburg Novoe Veryma, discussing the prospects of war says: Neither the Russian people nor the Russian government wish war, because the bad financial state of the empire enjoins peace, but every day and every hour the conviction deepens that a great struggle is soon to break out.

A Rome telegram confirms the statement that an agreement has been reached between Germany and the Vatican. Mr. Jacobini, papal nuncio, at Munich, will visit Berlin in December, probably to confer with Bismarck, who is said to have made important concessions in recent negotiations.

The Avant Garde, the Paris Bonapartist organ, has been fined for reprinting from the Marseillaise, Rochefort's letter to the electors, urging them to support Humbert.

In consequence of recent developments, the directors of one of the Bremen steamship companies decided to refuse transportation on their vessels to the class of heavy French silks, which are so weighed with chemicals and oils as to cause danger of spontaneous combustion.

The Italian Chambers have been prorogued until the 27th inst. Meantime the Cabinet will probably be reconstructed, Cairoli retaining the premiership and ministry of foreign affairs, DePretis taking the portfolio of minister of the interior and Magliani minister of finance.

Michael Davitt and James Bryce Killen have been arrested in Dublin, charged with having used language in public speeches calculated to incite a breach of the peace, and James Daly, editor of the Connaught Telegraph, has been arrested in Castlebar for a similar cause. The prisoner has been conveyed for examination to Sligo, where the speeches were made.

The council of the English Church Union has determined on the policy of resistance to Lord Penzance's judgment in the case of Rev. Alexander Mackonochie. Mr. Mackonochie has expressed his willingness to go to prison. His church wardens and congregation will prevent another clergyman from officiating in his place without authority from Mackonchie.

A correspondent believes the statement to the effect that papers were found in Cabul compromising the Russian foreign office are accurate. Lord Beaconsfield is urged to publish the documents, but declines to do so.

The Musculman rebellion against the Chinese in Kashgar is expected to collapse in consequence of the withdrawal of Russian support. Orders were sent to Russian officers after the ratification of the Kuldja treaty at Lividia, which completely altered their attitude. They now refuse to allow the rebels to draw supplies or men from Russian territory.

The home rule executive committee, at its meeting in London to-day, O'Connor Power presiding, passed a resolution protesting against the arrest of Davitt, Daly and Killen, while defending the right of the Irish tenantry. The meeting also resolved to call upon Irishmen in Great Britain to establish local defense committees to collect funds to secure a fair trial for the prisoners.

Arch Duchess Marie Christine has arrived in Paris and was received by ex-Queen Isabella.
