

TRAGEDY AFTER KIDNAPPING. A Serious Shooting in Hog Hollow, Twenty Miles East of Rexburg, Idaho.

FISTS, KNIFE AND A RIFLE. Willis Brown the Victim and Frank Sennberg the Assailant—Fight A Desperate One.

(Special to the "News.") Rexburg, Ida., Sept. 28.—Willis Brown of Rexburg was shot and perhaps fatally wounded at 2 p. m. yesterday by Frank Sennberg of Parker. The shooting occurred at Hog Hollow about 20 miles east of Rexburg and was occasioned by the fact that had been existing between the two for some time past. Last summer Brown had Sennberg arrested and placed under bonds for kidnapping his son. When they met yesterday a heated colloquy ensued between them during which Sennberg drew a knife. Brown immediately picked up a pair of hobbles and knocked him down, after which Sennberg jumped to his feet and after his rifle, which was thrown over the horn of his saddle a few rods away. Seeing what he was about to do Brown beat a hasty retreat and he was about 75 yards distant when Sennberg took aim and fired. The shot missed its mark, when Sennberg dropped down on one knee, took deliberate aim and fired again. Brown by this time was about 100 yards distant and just as the second shot was fired he turned partly round and the bullet entered his body, penetrating the right groin and passing through downward, making its exit on the point of the hip.

PHYSICIAN ARRESTED. New York Doctor Issues Bogus Checks To Pay Gambling Debt.

Dr. G. H. Gray of New York was arrested by the police yesterday on the charge of issuing bogus checks, but friends came to his relief, raised the amount of money involved, and the probabilities are that Dr. Gray will not have to face a court on a criminal charge. According to statements of friends, his trouble grew out of too much indulgence in liquor and his penchant for gambling. It is said that one check was drawn on the National Bank of the Republic for $75, and later another check for $40. The one was on Sig Simon and another on Brown, Terry & Woodruff.

WANTS THE PROPERTY. Martha Lloyd Price Sues to Quiet Title to Premises of W. J. Lloyd, Deceased.

Martha Lloyd Price filed suit in the district court today against J. H. Lloyd, executor of the will of W. J. Lloyd, deceased, to quiet her title to part of lot 7, block 47, plat C. She alleges in her complaint that she is the niece by blood of W. J. Lloyd in his lifetime, and was also his daughter-in-law, having married his son and that for seven years before his death she looked to plaintiff and she has no paper title to it, hence the executor has the right to collect rent from her for the premises and she asks that her title be quieted and that the executor be enjoined from interfering with or exercising any control whatever over the same.

COPPS ANSWERS. Says Maybelle Burbridge Has No Legal Interest in Central Stock Exchange.

In the case of Fred M. Farrell vs. O. H. Burbridge, Maybelle Burbridge and A. W. Coppa, which was filed some time ago in the district court, defendant Coppa has filed a separate answer in which he denies that he has any interest in the capital stock of the Central stock exchange which was formerly operated by O. H. Burbridge and himself. He alleges that there was no consideration for the $10,000 note which the firm executed in favor of Maybelle Burbridge and she has no legal interest in the 8,000 shares of the stock of the exchange, for the reason that the note was executed merely to head off other creditors of the exchange should it become involved in litigation by reason of its transactions in dealing in margins. He asks to be decreed the owner of one-third of the stock and that the note of defendant Maybelle Burbridge be declared null and void.

PEOPLE WHO ARE PASSING.

Ben Detmar, an old time officer, is in town from Las Vegas station on the San Pedro road where he is working for the railroad company. Mr. Detmar has been well known on the frontier for many years, where he made his reputation as a sheriff and a dead shot. He was one of the promoters, with Arizona Charlie, of the Cripple Creek bull fight of some years ago, where he and McIntyre interfered, after the Denver W. C. T. had protested against anything of the kind being allowed in the state. On the third day of the festa del toro, all hands were arrested and taken to Denver where the imported matador was fined $500, the picadores and banderilleros $200 each, and Detmar and Arizona Charlie were fined $200 each. The matter was finally settled out of court. Detmar remarks that this festa was the first and probably the last ever held in the United States where bulls were actually killed.

REASON GIVEN FOR PROTEST. Michigan, Colorado and California Want the Result of Analyses.

PROF. WIDTSOE GIVES THEM. Tells Just How Each Competitor Stood After the Judges Had Got Through Their Examination.

Further particulars relative to the protest entered against the award of the Havemeyer $300 cup for the best exhibit of sugar beets at the Eleventh National Irrigation Congress are forthcoming. As told in the dispatch from Ogden on Saturday protests had been filed with the committee in Ogden against the award of the cup to A. Rhodes of Garland, Utah. The protests, it now transpires, were filed by E. C. Post of Michigan and Colorado and J. Ross Clark of Los Angeles, Cal. The first named represents a German beet seed house at Detroit and also held a copy as a delegate from Michigan and participated in the convention proceedings. Mr. Clark, also, is interested in the beet sugar industry in California. The protest is based on the grounds that the committee failed to notify the competitors of the result of their analyses of the beets entered for the cup. The protests are put in, it is understood, not for the purpose of setting aside the decision of the judges but for the purpose of having the analyses re-run publicly. This matter will be taken up at the meeting of the board of control in Ogden tonight.

HOW THEY STOOD. Prof. John A. Widtsoe of the Agricultural College at Logan and one of the members of the best testing committee which awarded the cup, in an interview has following to say relative to the incident:

"A committee composed of all the sugar beet men at the congress met under the direction of the local board of control to formulate the rules governing the award of the Havemeyer cup. At the meeting of said committee George E. Herz of California, W. K. Winterhalter of Rocky Ford, Colo., and myself were appointed judges and Mr. William Lawson of the Utah Sugar company, and G. W. Shaw of the California Experiment station, were chosen as chemists to analyze the beets. The rules formulated and agreed upon at all the sugar beet men present and approved by the local board of control were that the first thirty-three points to be a maximum allowed for external form and weight. Each per cent of sugar in the beet was to count two points. 'Third—Seventy-eight per cent purity was to count twenty points and each additional per cent purity was to count one additional point. 'Fourth—No beets to be considered eligible for the cup which contained less than 14 per cent or less than 92 per cent purity. The final allocation of the beets to be the sum of the points assigned for form, sugar and purity. 'After the rules had been formulated the judges and chemists were each given an exhibit of sugar beets and assigned points to each on external form and weight. Each member of the committee then selected one beet from the exhibit and analyzed it. The three beets so selected were sent to the chemists for analysis. The chemists knew those beets only by number. 'After the analyses had been made a report was submitted to the committee of judges who then proceeded to obtain the total number of points to be assigned to each of the 42 exhibits, 42 of which fell below the standard of 14 per cent sugar or 78 per cent purity. 'It is absurd to bring this matter into question. The committee was unanimous in its decision. The work of the chemists and judges was entirely independent of each other—the work of the judges having been done before the beets went to the chemists, except the computation of the total number of points for beets by number, which in common with the judges were entirely ignorant of the locality in which they were raised. If there ever was a contest fairly held, it was this one. The judges did not know the beets and the chemists did not know the beets and the judges were not in contact with the chemists."

PROPOSITION TO GRANT DOUBLE TRACK FRANCHISE ON FOURTH WEST.

MR. FERNSTROM IS AGAINST IT. Predicted That the Minority in the City Council Will Precipitate a Warm Debate Tonight.

The question of the Rio Grande Western franchise on Fourth West street comes up before the city council tonight when the granting of the petition will be debated. The committee on municipal laws and streets on Friday evening recommended that the franchise be granted providing the company interested would make two concessions. The changes in the original petition proposed and which were promptly agreed upon by the representatives of the Gould corporation present were the insertion of a clause in the franchise providing for a viaduct for pedestrians across the tracks on Third South so that that street would not be entirely closed, and a clause in which the company agrees to submit to arbitration the question of damages to abutting property on Fourth West street between North Temple and Fifth North streets by reason of the proposed double tracks practically closing the street. It is predicted that there will be a warm debate on the part of the minority headed by Councilmen Fernstrom and H. H. Davis this evening. The last named clause. Both gentlemen have been putting in their time laboring with their fellow councilmen in arguing that the council has no legal right to grant a franchise to close up a street to the detriment of property holders along the route. While nothing is certain at this hour, nevertheless it is predicted that the Rio Grande Western will be granted the franchise which means so much for the city of Salt Lake in its entirety.

SHORT LINE COMES FIRST. Before the Rio Grande franchise matters are taken up, however, there is the Oregon Short Line franchise that has the right of way and which will receive attention first.

SAN PEDRO SHOPS. May be Located on California End of the Line.

The subject of shops for the San Pedro, Los Angeles & Salt Lake railroad is agitating the residents of the City of the Angels. Inquiry at the general office of the railroad, at Los Angeles, has information that it is yet too early to talk on the subject as to whether the shops at Los Angeles will be the general shops for the line, or whether they will be a decidedly enlarged plant just as soon as the main line through the mountains is completed. In this connection the current issue of the Los Angeles Times has the following to say on the matter: "That the car shops of the San Pedro, Los Angeles & Salt Lake railroad are to be located in this city instead of in Salt Lake is now a practical certainty. 'It has been evident for some time that there were strong reasons for believing that this city would be given the preference because the advantages in its favor were known to have attracted the attention of prominent officers of that company, and to have been carefully canvassed by them. 'It was known, moreover, that the company owned about 50 acres lying between First and Sixth streets, extending from the old Workman Orchard tract on the east to the Los Angeles river on the west. Its depot and shops are on this tract, and the desirability of the tract as a site for still more extensive car shops has been known to more than one. But the immensity of the improvements contemplated in the construction and operation of all the shops needed in both the construction and repair department of this transcontinental railroad was also recognized, and it was pointed out by persons by whom the situation had been somewhat closely considered that a greater acreage would probably be required for the shops and related buildings themselves, and that reasonable provision would have to be made for the small city of homes of workmen and employees who would naturally seek to build in the near neighborhood of those shops. 'These difficulties are doubtless removed by the recent purchase that was made by the Union Trust and Realty company on behalf of J. Ross Clark, the company's chief executive, from William Workman, Marie E. Workman and John S. Cravens, of a tract adjoining the holdings of the railroad company comprising about 40 acres lying between Third and Sixth streets on the north and south, Buff and Peccan streets on the east and Gless and Clarence streets on the west. The association of Warren Gillean and other persons of the lots are to go to the Union Trust and Realty company, and that company is believed to be acting for and on behalf of J. Ross Clark. The latter is so closely identified with the railroad company that lands in his control are undoubtedly in hands friendly to its interests, so that if additional acreage for its car shops is needed it can be readily obtained. 'There are strong grounds for believing that the future will show that the company presented are more than mere surmises. Those positive statements from the parties interested could not be obtained.'"

PETITION INTRODUCED IN BRIDGE WORKERS' CONVENTION REGARDING RATE OF WAGES THEY PAY.

FAR AS KNOWN, NO ACTION TAKEN. The White Dove of Peace that Hovered Around Saturday, Has Been Scared.

Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 28.—The dove of peace that settled over the delegates to the annual convention of the Bridge and Structural Iron Workers' association for a brief period on Saturday, has been rudely disturbed and this morning the tension between the Buchanan and Parks contingents was close to the breaking point. Before the convention met today a split seemed inevitable. Sam Parks refused to discuss the caucus and his followers held last night with the avowed intention of snapping out a campaign to capture the convention and elect H. F. Buchanan of Albany, N. Y., as president, and President Buchanan was equally reticent in talking of the alleged plans of the anti-Buchanan contingent. The delegates of the New York contingent should continue its antagonistic tactics of last week. The report of the committee on the president's address, in which it was believed President Buchanan would be attacked for his attitude in the New York troubles, was one of the matters up for consideration when the convention met this morning still behind closed doors. President Buchanan called the convention to order as if nothing unusual had happened since Saturday's session. Before proceeding to business he addressed the convention, in which he urged harmony, and saying that he had only the best interests of union labor at heart and wanted to do what would accomplish the most for labor in general. He urged the delegates, especially for the effect it would have upon the country at large, of a dignified, business-like convention. There was no action on the part of the Parks crowd to interfere with the routine work in hand and any antagonistic action that they may have had in mind was postponed for the time being. Perhaps the most important happening of the morning session was the granting of the charter to the Architectural Iron Workers' union, of Chicago, with a membership of about 250. Mr. Hill, president of the Chicago local, was given a seat in the convention but without vote. This class of labor has between 5,000 and 6,000 members throughout the country, most of whom are already affiliated with the International Bridge Workers and Structural Iron workers. Grievances presented by Detroit, Kansas City and other locals were referred without action. The following petition was presented to the convention: "We, the delegates representing locals 19 of Minneapolis, 24 of Denver, 27 of Salt Lake City, 10 of Kansas City, 30 of Des Moines and 21 of Omaha, request that some action be taken to secure control of the road work being done by the several roads west of the Mississippi river. There are a number of fair contractors who have agreed to recognize our union and pay the standard wages with regulation hours. We find that such roads as the Union Pacific, Oregon Short Line and others are paying their bridgemen as low as $3 per day for a ten-hour basis. We recommend that some action be taken by this convention to the end either to force these railroads to pay the standard wages or to let their bridge work contractors who are fair to organized labor. 'As far as could be learned no action was taken upon this petition. Daniel Brophy, who held a proxy from Scranton, Pa., and who was unseated by the convention on Saturday, held this morning but without vote. Last week when he was unseated he left the hall in an angry mood and refused any invitation to attend the sessions. 'LATE LOCALS. Drugist F. J. Hill is in New York on his way home from Europe. Ora Haley of Laramie, a well known citizen there, is a guest at the Kenyon. Dean Eddie is endeavoring to organize a Sunday school orchestra at St. Mark's cathedral. The mishap occurred at Shoshone, from which point the man was brought to this city. The rally of the First Congregational Sunday school yesterday morning was well attended, and an interesting program was presented. There were several addresses, and good music from the school orchestra under the conductorship of Miss Esther Allen. F. H. Bull of Sharon, Pa., who is one of the principal moving spirits in the Twin Falls irrigation enterprise, arrived from the east this morning, and is registered at the Knutsford. He is here on business connected with the irrigation company. Minnie T. Carthey today filed suit in the district court against the Deseret Savings bank to recover possession of the same. She claims to have been wrongfully deprived of the property in question. Work has been started on the Home Telephone company's building at Ogden. The construction will be pushed as fast as it is being here. The building is 25x15 feet, two stories with a basement and the front elevation will be of white stone and red pressed brick. The construction is entirely fire proof. Two cases of typhoid fever were reported to the board of health today, one of which is that of a non-resident who was brought here for treatment. The cases are: A. C. Harrington, 330 south Fifth West; Mrs. E. M. Webster, aged 22, Cedar City, Utah. The total number of cases reported so far this month is 112. At the meeting of the county commissioners today the appointment, made by County Clerk James, of D. Beynon Davies as a deputy clerk, was confirmed. Mr. Davies has been emplored as a clerk in the office for the past three years and was promoted to a deputyship to fill a vacancy caused by the resignation of W. A. Folland. Deputy Sheriff Axel Steele went to Ogden today after Lee Roy Burt, a 10-year-old boy, who is wanted here on the charge of incorrigibility. The boy will not attend school and has acquired the habit of running away from home and his mother has lost all control over him. Last week he ran away from home and went to Ogden, where he was arrested on Saturday. Robert T. Kimball today filed a petition in the probate division of the district court for letters of administration of the estate of Melissa C. Kimball, who died in this city on Sept. 21, 1903. The estate consists of real property valued at $5,000. There are 10 heirs to the estate. The petition will be heard by Judge Hall on Friday, Oct. 9, at 10 o'clock. Insurance Agent C. A. Schallenberger has returned from Price where he went to adjust the fire losses of the Emery Mercantile company. The loss as allowed on the building, was $10,000, $5,000 in the Hartford and $5,000 on the Royal companies. The loss on the stock and fixtures amounted to $15,000, insured in the Home Fire of New York. The origin of the fire continues to be a mystery. It was reported to the police this afternoon that a saloon at 329 State street was broken into Saturday night and a $20 overcoat, $1.05 in cash, six bottles of beer and some cigars were stolen. The thieves secured entrance by breaking open the rear door. The door was found open in the hope of finding considerable money, but all they got was the amount mentioned. The case has been placed in the hands of Detective Kelnigh and he is in hot pursuit of the burglars. 'Hardt H. Lambert, aged nine, and son of R. G. Lambert and Martha Lambert, of this city, died last night, from exhaustion following severe sickness. On the 2nd of September, the child was afflicted with gastric ulcers, and six days later diphtheria set in. The latter disease passed off, but he was left so weak that he could not get on his feet. Mr. and Mrs. Lambert have the sympathies of a wide circle of friends in their bereavement. 'The weather is changing, and rain is setting in in light showers, which will continue through tomorrow. A gale from some remarkable weather in Arizona and western Texas, 1.72 inches of rain being registered at Phoenix in 24 hours, and 1.48 inches at El Paso, Texas. The latter city is flooded whenever there is such a precipitation, as the water rushes down from the foothills and Mt. Franklin, and spreads over a wide area. The mercury at Winspore fell last night to 24 degrees above zero. Mr. Chas. J. Lambert, of Granger, who was quite lately hurt by falling from a load of hay on Thursday last, is now so far recovered that it is thought no serious results will follow. While unloading hay on the day named the rope broke, precipitating him to the ground, a distance of about 12 feet. He fell on his back and shoulders, and the shock was so great that he was paralyzed so that he could not speak for about seven hours. He was carried into the house by his son, and it was found that no bones were broken, but he was considerably bruised and badly shaken up. Held rehearsal yesterday, for the first time in preparation for the coming Sunday evening concerts in the Grand Theatre, and expressed himself today as greatly pleased with the prospects, and the work being done by the band. He has introduced a novelty in giving the second bassoon part to P. J. Fanning with his cello, and Mr. Hold says that the experiment works very well. The first bassoon will be played by Herbert Brewer, and his instrument is due in this city from the east tomorrow. Mr. Field has also sent for a EBE hat tuba which David Braunberger will play. John Smith, the flutist, has been given an oboe to play, and he is handling that difficult instrument satisfactorily. The new bass clarinet will be here the last of the week. Brnham Hunszarian, leader and the Zampa overture were rehearsed yesterday, and will appear on one of the early programs.

BUSINESS NOTES. The Brigham Young Trust company has transferred to the Brigham Young Cemetery company, the cemetery property on First street, where President Young and several members of his family are buried. The trustees of the cemetery are H. S. Young, chairman, Spencer Clawson, secretary and treasurer, Don Carlos Young, W. B. Douglas and W. A. Rosstter. Mr. Clawson remarked today, his belief that the property would always remain dedicated to its present purpose, no matter how thickly settled the vicinity might be. The idea of a private burial ground was an idea President Young brought with him from New England, where he originally came. Private burial grounds have always been common in that country. The Clearing house will move on the first of the month, and the members expect to find temporary quarters in the directors' rooms of the Utah Commercial & Savings bank until a permanent abode can be found. Today's local bank clearings amounted to $647,079.82, as against $474,927.95 for the corresponding day of last year.
