

the 11th of June they walked 20 miles to Macclesfield, where they preached to a large assemblage of people on the public square. Elder Allen led off with a discourse on the First Principles of the Gospel, and Asahel, who is quite a youth, spoke on the universal apostasy from the primitive Church, and the restoration in these days. He also bore witness to the divine mission of Joseph Smith. They afterwards delivered tracts, which were eagerly sought for, among the people.

Subsequently they traveled from place to place and held a number of meetings—open air and in-door.

They visited a hamlet for the purpose of preaching to about 60 people who inhabited it, but were denied the privilege by Mr. Wardel, the proprietor of the entire place.

At a place called Tean they asked of an old miserly man who lives there the privilege of sitting upon a lounge in his house overnight, but he refused. They were total strangers in the town, but after meeting they were entertained by a kindhearted woman, who also found them comfortable lodgings in the house of a Mr. Perkins.

At a place called Langton the two Elders held a meeting, at which about 300 people were present, including the mayor of the town, a number of policemen and soldiers. A clergyman who was there asked some questions, and was put to shame by the ready and intelligent answers of Elder Allen. Brother Asahel addressed the assemblage for 45 minutes.

Nine meetings were held between the 11th and 21st of June, some of them in places where the Gospel had not been preached for many years, and the brethren think that much good will be the result, if the efforts of the Elders are maintained.

MORE LAW-BREAKING.

FATAL RESULT OF SELLING LIQUOR TO INDIANS.

The reprehensible practice of selling or giving liquor to Indians, in violation of the law forbidding it, has lately had more than one illustration. Two cases of this character are now pending in the courts. Last evening, Captain Hawley, a detective in the employ of the D. & R. G. Railway Company, arrested in this city one William Moore, of Pleasant Valley Junction, charged with selling a vile decoction to several Indians from the Utah Reservation, from the effects of which drink one Indian, a chief, afterwards died.

The drink is said to have contained glycerine, tobacco juice, turpentine and alcohol. All the Indians became very sick after using it. Moore, who is alleged to have sold it to them, was working for a saloon man named Leiter. The dead chief was buried near P. V. Junction last Wednesday, and Capt. Hawley was directed to follow Moore to this city, whither he came a few days ago, and arrest him. He was placed in the city jail and will probably have a hearing before U. S. Commissioner McKay to-morrow. Captain Hawley has telegraphed for witnesses, including the Indians who survived the effects of the deadly drink, and they are expected in on the evening train.

The other case is one in which F. J. Sadler is accused of selling liquor to Indians on the same reservation. He has been lying in the Penitentiary for several days, having been brought here by Sheriff Colton, of Uintah County, to await the action of the Grand Jury. But last evening, on a writ of habeas corpus, Sadler was taken before Judge S. P. Twiss, sitting in chambers, where the question of his right to be released on account of a flaw in the warrant of commitment, was argued pro and con respectively by Judge Hoge, his attorney, and District Attorney Dickson. Judge Twiss took the matter under advisement till this morning.

At 10 a.m. the following decision was rendered:

In the matter of the application of F. J. Sadler for a writ of habeas corpus, against E. A. Ireland, U. S. Marshal for Utah Territory. Before the Hon S. P. Twiss, Associate Justice Supreme Court of Utah Territory.

The above entitled matter having been argued by E. D. Hoge on behalf of the petitioner and by W. H. Dickson, U. S. Attorney, on behalf of the Government, and submitted upon the petition writ and return thereto, and it appearing to me, the said Justice, that there is probable cause to believe that the offense of selling spirituous liquors to Indians under the charge of an Indian agent was committed in Uintah County in said Territory, on the 24th day of June, 1884, and that the petitioner is guilty thereof, and it further appearing that on or about the 26th day of June, 1884, a complaint or affidavit was laid before U. S. Commissioner Pardin Dodds, charging said petitioner with said offense; and thereafter and on the day last aforesaid, witnesses were sworn and examined before said Commissioner in the matter of said charge, and that at the conclusion thereof said Commissioner made an order thereon, that said petitioner be held to answer said charge, and that he be admitted to bail in the sum of $1,500, and that in default thereof the pretended warrant of commitment annexed to the petition herein was issued by said commissioner, and it further appearing to me that said commitment is defective and void, but that the said E. A. Ireland, if allowed a reasonable time therefor can procure and produce properly certified copies of said complaint and of the depositions taken on said examination, from which it is claimed by the government it will appear that said offense was committed at the time and place aforesaid, and that there is sufficient cause to believe the petitioner guilty thereof.

Now, therefore, it is ordered that said E. A. Ireland be given until and including the 21st instant, to procure and produce said certified copy, and that in the meantime said petitioner be remanded to the custody of said U. S. Marshal, and that he be admitted to bail in the sum of $750.

And it is further ordered that E. A. Ireland, U. S. Marshal, bring the said Sadler before some one of the Justices of the Supreme Court of this Territory, on the 21st day of July, 1884, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day, at the court room of the Third Judicial District Court at Salt Lake City, and that he also produce at said time and place said certified copies of papers, evidence and examination aforesaid, for the examination by the said Justice of Supreme Court, and for such order of commitment or discharge as to the said Justice the evidence adduced by said certified copies shall warrant.

STEPHEN P. TWISS, Judge.

FROM SATURDAY'S DAILY, JULY 12.

Returned.—Presidents John Taylor, George Q. Cannon and the party which accompanied them to Logan several days ago, returned home last evening, as expected. All well.

Painful Accident.—Mrs. H. H. Jackson ("H. H." of the Century and the New York Independent) a literary lady who made many friends here during a visit some time ago, had the misfortune some days since to break her ankle, through slipping on the stairs. The lady is at her home in Colorado Springs, and at last accounts was progressing nicely.

One More Robbery.—A bold attempt at robbery was made yesterday morning between 11 and 12 o'clock in the house of Mr. H. D. Gingell in the 15th Ward. The house seems to be a favorite with the cracks, for it has already undergone three of these unpleasant experiences. This time, however, the thieves took no plunder, though they ransacked the house thoroughly. Their visit was made during the absence of the family, and they escaped capture.

A Worm Results from an Insect Bite.—Last Tuesday, James Widdison, of the 19th Ward, was bitten under the eye by an insect. The part became exceedingly painful, inflamed and swollen. Yesterday Mrs. Widdison pressed the flesh under the eye, where her husband was bitten, when the head of a worm protruded. She succeeded in extracting it. The wriggling creature was examined by our informant, R. Hawkins. It is three-fourths of an inch long and an eighth of an inch in diameter at the thickest part, which is near the head, from whence it tapers to the tail. It is a remarkable circumstance, of which no parallel ever came under our notice.

A Vile Wretch.—Last night about 8.30 p.m. while Mr. and Mrs. L. Pratt of the 17th ward had gone for a short walk, a man came through the front door of their residence and entered the dining room where four little children were. His appearance was so sudden that it startled them, and his first demand was for something to eat. The eldest child, a girl of 11 years, led him out the front door and to the gate, while he endeavored to begin a conversation by narrating how he had run away from home, etc., and then asked questions of her respecting the family and how many there were. The child at this became frightened and told him she would give him something to eat if he would promise to go away. This she did, bringing it to the gate to him. The scoundrel then seized her by the arms and neck, and asked her to go with him, at the same time making indecent advances. The brave little girl struck at him vigorously, which somewhat loosened his hold, when she broke away from him and ran into the house, locking the door behind her. He followed and tried to force an entrance, but a lady observing that something was wrong, roused the neighbors who came to her rescue. The villain, who saw that he was discovered lost no time in decamping. He fled through the lot and disappeared just as the parents reached the door. With the exception of a thorough fright, no harm was done, but if the scamp had delayed his departure a few seconds he would have had some leaden messengers for his trouble. A thorough search was made for him but without success. The little girl says she could recognize him anywhere. It is hoped that the foul wretch may yet be captured and punished. Such characters are not fit to live at all.

IMPORTANT TO NORMALS.

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah,
July 12th, 1884.

Editor Deseret News:

An examination will be held on the 2d day of August, and that number of persons will be selected from the list of applicants.

The examination will commence at 10 a. m., and will be held at the Thirteenth Ward Schoolhouse. All applicants should hand in their names immediately.

On the 4th of August, at same hour and place, the County Board of Examiners will meet and examine all applicants for School Teachers' Certificates.

The attention of all interested is particularly called to the date of examination, as the next date for examination does not occur for three months.

County Supt. Dis. Schools.

HOMESPUN'S BUDGET.

MATTERS CURRENT IN THE SOUTHERN METROPOLIS.

Strawberries have gone and currants and raspberries come. English currants, six quarts for 25 cents. Raspberries 15 cents per quart, and unobtainable. Vegetables in profusion. Trout begins to extend its graceful length on the counters of the various stores, and right welcome it is, too.

There's a good deal of growling among the farmers about the Lake and Jordan Canal trouble, and some are large in their talk.

Irrigation is going on, consequently streets share in the general inundation, and foot passengers are proportionately cross.

I smiled the other day when I saw some men industriously engaged in gathering the cobbles from the wide, dry street going past the mayor's house, and again in passing the northeastern corner of the Court House block saw the perpetual bog, which has spread its muddy face to the sun for the last twenty years, for aught I know. There are about three blocks of good street in the town, immediately near the East Co-op., the Court House, and the meeting house. The rest of the streets and many of the sidewalks are a crying disgrace to the town. I certainly call Provo the untidiest city in Utah.

Ice-cream hangs out its sign for 10 cts. a dish. Ice 1/2 cent a pound, delivered at your door.

Apples are nearly all destroyed. But the farmers' crop will be abundant. The weather is delightful, except perhaps in the middle of the day, when all rational people are at home with shaded windows.

Health good. Building goes on, though not so briskly as at this time last season. Times dull. Money, in small sums lends out at fifteen per cent. Business very lively considering the times.

Provo, July 11th, 1884.

DISGRACEFUL ROW.

FIVE MEN ARRESTED FOR ABUSING AND RESISTING THE POLICE.

The malicious efforts of the local anti-"Mormon" press, in inciting and palliating hostility and resistance to the city police—a line of procedure which has already resulted in the death of one brave officer, and the abuse and mistreatment of many others—has again borne its legitimate fruit. Last night between 9 and 10 o'clock a most disgraceful row took place just opposite the Tribune office, a neighborhood where such things would naturally occur, in which Nightwatchman Andrew Burt was cruelly mistreated, knocked down and kicked, and Officer Thomas also roughly handled by a gang of rowdies at the head of which was one C. S. Cunningham, whom the police were trying to arrest and finally succeeded in taking to jail with another man named Bodfish, who assisted Cunningham in resisting and abusing the officers. The affair, as told by the police and other eye-witnesses, happened as follows:

Cunningham and his friends were talking and singing loudly and boisterously on the street, when they were approached by Mr. Burt and requested to desist. Cunningham and the others told him to mind his business or they would "make it warm" for him, besides giving vent to profanity and obscene language too filthy to repeat. Officer Thomas, who was attracted to the scene, arrived just in time to prevent or defer an assault on Mr. Burt, but on asking what was the matter, he too was insulted and threatened in like manner.

Mr. Thomas now attempted to arrest Cunningham, the ring-leader, when a general scuffle ensued, in which Mr. Burt was knocked down and dragged into an adjoining alley where he lay in an unconscious state while the row further proceeded. Officer Thomas still clung to his man, though shoved, knocked and kicked about by the cowardly brutes who were determined not to let Cunningham be taken. A large crowd gathered but were evidently Tribune sympathizers and converts, for not one of them, though repeatedly solicited, had the manhood to help the brave officer who was being tossed about like a ship-wrecked mariner on a plank in the midst of a stormy sea. But he clung like a mastiff to his man, determined to die rather than let go, and in due time Officer Clayton and afterwards Officer Holdaway and Councilor Geo. Stringfellow arrived on the scene, and the tumult began to subside. Cunningham, who is young and powerful, had Thomas down, but refrained from striking him, which is something to his credit.

Cunningham and Bodfish were taken to jail, followed by the surging crowd, and were successfully deposited behind the iron bars, with one D. C. Loftus, who had refused when called on to help the officers, and another man named Clark, who had incited resistance to them.

Mr. Thomas had been struck on the back of the head with a rock, and was just about exhausted when he reached the hall, but he was not seriously hurt, which was a wonder from the rough way in which he was handled. Mr. Burt did not escape so fortunately. A deep gash was cut over his right ear, his face was badly bruised as if it had been kicked, and he was battered about the body with kicks received from the craven-hearted ruffians who had pounced upon them. He was lifted up and taken into Ordner's saloon, after the row was over where restoratives soon did their work in bringing him back to consciousness, and his wounds were dressed by Dr. Bowers. Mr. Burt is accused by the Tribune of being intoxicated, but this his fellow officers deny, and the same paper calls Cunningham and Bodfish "peaceful gentlemen, highly spoken of by all who know them." The trial of Cunningham, Bodfish and the others mentioned, and another man named John Ryan, arrested this morning for being implicated in the matter, was set for 2 p. m. to-day, before Justice Spiers. But the cases were continued until Monday at 10 a. m., and the defendants gave bonds for their reappearance.

It is said that pistols gleamed in all directions during the melee, and threats to shoot were freely made; for a time bloodshed seemed imminent, as it invariably must on such occasions, as long as there is no law against the cowardly and dangerous practice of carrying concealed weapons, so prevalent throughout the Western country. The officers, though sorely aggravated, maintained their self-possession and acted with great moderation, but they must not expect that this will shield them from the reproaches and spiteful flings of those who have systematically opposed them in every way possible, and striven by every means to blacken their reputations and render them odious in the eyes of an element which, when aroused is morally less responsible for its overt acts against peace and good order, than the contemptible scoundrels who stir it up by tongue and pen to the commission of unlawful deeds. The only recourse left the police is to pay no attention to the malicious libels of these pen-stabbers, but continue to do their duty fearlessly, manfully and with coolness and moderation, and they can rest assured that there is a preponderating sentiment of fairness and decency in this community, that will sustain them in so doing.

FROM MONDAY'S DAILY, JULY 14.

Railroad Talk.—There is some talk of changing the time of departure of the Utah Central train which leaves this city for Ogden at 3.55 p.m. to 4.55 p.m., the Central Pacific changing at that point to correspond. It is also said that the Union Pacific train will be changed to arrive at Ogden later in the evening, which will throw the Utah Central train which now arrives here at 7.15 p.m. to 8 o'clock or thereabouts.

Report Confirmed.—A few days ago we announced the death from sunstroke, of Aaron J. McDonald, son of President A. F. McDonald, of Mesa, Arizona, which sad event took place there on the 5th inst. No further particulars have been received, but a communication from Brother Charles S. Whitney informs us that the Mutual Dramatic Association, of Mesa, passed resolutions of respect and condolence on the occasion. The deceased was manager of the association and Brother Whitney assistant manager of the same. We join with them in condoling with the bereaved family.

Friday Night's Affray.—Cunningham and Bodfish, two of the men arrested in connection with the scrimmage near the Tribune office Friday night, were arraigned this morning before Justice Spiers, charged with resisting the officers and assault and battery. They were represented by S. H. Lewis, Esq., as counsel, the prosecution being conducted by Geo. Fletcher, Esq. Nightwatchman Burt, the officer who was so cruelly maltreated, and police officer Thomas, who was also roughly handled by the defendants, were the witnesses placed on the stand this morning. Recess was then taken till 2 o'clock. The case will in all probability last two or three days.

Clark, one of the parties implicated, was fined $20 on Saturday.

Lady Graduates.—Following are the names of the ladies who have been studying obstetrics under Dr. Ellis R. Shipp, and who graduated in that branch last Saturday:

Ellen Stark, Elizabeth Evans, Caroline Hansen, Annie Nielsen and Alice J. Tibbetts of Brigham City; Caroline Ipsom, of Mantua; Hannah Anderson, of Bear River; Mary Swindle of Monroe; Esther Hunsaker of Honeyville; and Hannah Burnham and Mary C. Shipp of Draper.

The examining board were Drs. S. B. Young, Bowers and M. B. Shipp, who expressed high satisfaction with the capability shown by the ladies, most of whom are quite young. Dr. Shipp's new class will begin shortly.

Sunday School Jubilee.—We have received from Brother Ezra F. Richards the minutes of the reunion of the Sabbath schools of Davis Stake, held yesterday forenoon and afternoon in Farmington. An interesting feature of the affair was the change from the general style on such occasions in the substitution of instructions to teachers and addresses from some of them in the place of exercises in which only the children take part. Good reports and excellent instructions were given, and the interchange of ideas respecting the management of the schools cannot but be beneficial. Elder Jos. H. Parry was present and gave some good counsel upon the duties of teachers generally; and Elder C. W. Penrose, of this city, and Prest. Smith, of Davis Stake added words of encouragement and wise instruction. The exercises were pleasant and interesting throughout, and were listened to by large congregations.

Drowning at Payson.—The following special dispatch to the News was received from Payson this morning: Two boys of Samuel Worsen-croft, named respectively Samuel, 16 years old and Willie, 14 years old, went with several smaller boys yesterday morning to bathe in a shallow pond near town. On the way they met a man named Rufus Barker, who proposed to take them to a place where the water is deeper, and as he was with a wagon, the boys all went with him. Reaching the swimming hole, Samuel and two little boys went into the water while Barker and the others took care of the team. It seems that Samuel and Barker were the only ones that could swim. Suddenly Samuel called for his brother to come to him. Willie ran to the spot, but before he arrived Samuel had sunk twice. Willie caught him by the arm and tried to pull him out but had to let go to keep from being pulled under himself. Before Barker reached the bank the drowning boy had sunk the third time. A Mr. Tietjen who was passing by rescued the body by diving several times for it. It is supposed the boy was taken with cramp. Funeral to-day.

The Old Folks.—Arrangements are now completed that the Old Folks of Salt Lake County may have a grand excursion to American Fork, and July 22nd has been chosen as the day—the hour of departure will be published in a few days. We learn from Brothers Savage and Naylor who visited the enterprising city yesterday, that a visit from the veterans of this Stake will be welcome. The citizens, with Elder Bromley at their head, will take good care of the "Silver Grays" on their arrival and Chipman's Grove for the use of the visitors, has been generously tendered during their stay there. The U. C. and D. & R. G. R. R., will issue half rate tickets to all persons, good for 3 days—who desire to visit American Fork during the grand gathering, from points south of that city.

The invitation to accompany the excursion is free to all persons over seventy years of age without regard to faith, race or color. One hundred tickets at $1.00 each will be sold to persons between the ages of sixty and seventy who wish to accompany their more aged friends. As this is strictly gotten up to give pleasure and an out for the aged, young people unless they are taking care of cripples or blind persons must not be disappointed when tickets are refused them. The excursionists will be entertained on the road, going and coming, by Foster's vocalists. The nic-nac and lemonade departments will be in charge of the committee. These occasions, affording joy and a change from the usual monotony in the lives of persons of advanced age, have our most sincere approval. We sincerely hope that the coming event will be equal, if not superior, to any preceding ones.

At a meeting held by the members of the committee in charge, Brother Nelson Empey was elected to that body. Through the death of Bishop Hunter, Brother George Goddard, succeeds him as chairman, and during his absence Brother C. R. Savage will act in hat capacity.
