OGDEN, UTAH, - AUG. 31, 1901.

TERRIBLE DEATH IN MINE.

Victim Suffocated in the Eldora Mine Tunnel—Narrow Escape of Others.

Chief of Police Brings Prisoner from Tacoma—Board of Education—Another Teacher's Examination.

Chief of Police Conlisk has returned from Tacoma, Washington, where he went with requisition papers for H. Turner, the man who is accused of having swindled John Seaman and other gentlemen of Ogden by selling a state right to sell a certain mine.

The chief brought the prisoner back with him and placed him in the jail. The charge against Turner is that of obtaining money under false pretenses, but declares his innocence and has employed E. M. Allen, Jr., to defend him in the case.

FATAL MINE DISASTER.
Lance Vincent, an Italian miner, met a terrible death by asphyxiation yesterday afternoon in the Eldorado mine tunnel. He entered the tunnel after a round of blasting powder had been set off, and was overcome by a cloud of dense smoke which he encountered.

He made a heroic attempt to save his life by crawling into the tunnel, three of the yellow-laborers near the mine entrance. One of the rescuing party, J. M. McNeill, reached the side of the smothered miner and dragged him toward the mouth of the tunnel before he was forced by the smoke to drop his burden and rush in to the open air in order to save his own life.

He was staggered onto the dump where he dropped helpless as a result of the suffocating fumes. Firemen and John McNeill, who also reached the tunnel in an attempt to rescue the miner, were forced to turn back and they were barely able to escape by the time they reached the tunnel's mouth.

The three men made another attempt to resuscitate the body an hour later, but they were unsuccessful, as the smoke had become too dense to penetrate. The body was found in the tunnel, and they were forced to suspend operations until such a time as the tunnel became clear.

It is thought, however, that the body was not dead when it was found, and as soon as it was removed from the tunnel it will be sent to Salt Lake for burial.

Jarrell came in last evening none the worse for his frightful experience. He said that he did not believe Vincent was dead when he reached him in the attempt to drag him from the mine. He said the miner made his last trip into the mine almost immediately after the report of the blast.

He was not alone, but those who saw him enter did not believe that he would venture more than a few feet beyond the tunnel's mouth.

Vincent came to Utah from Italy eleven years ago and had resided in Salt Lake most of the time since. Two weeks ago he left to work in the Eldora tunnel, eight miles northwest of Ogden. As far as known he had no relatives here, but it is said that he has a wife and daughter living in Italy.

MANEUVERS OF A REPORTER
Scheme by Which He Forced an Interview.

The well known Rev. Charles H. Parkhurst of New York makes a point of being very courteous to newspaper men, and is always willing to be seen and interviewed. He sets aside one hour each day to be at home to callers in general; but to newspaper men he is at home at nearly all times—except on Saturday night. That night he devotes to final preparation and thought for his work of the next morning, and his rule has been never to be at home after 6 o'clock on Saturday evening.

Dr. Parkhurst is a Presbyterian, and so was Dr. Hall—in fact they were the two most distinguished Presbyterian ministers in the city.

About 10 o'clock on a certain Saturday night a report came into a New York newspaper office that some body of Canadiana had taken exception to passages in a book of Rev. John Watson—lan MacLaren—and that they even talked of forcing the matter into regular church proceedings against Dr. Watson on account of alleged heresy.

"Go and see Dr. Hall and Dr. Parkhurst," said a city editor to a reporter, "and get a full talk from them in regard to this."

The reporter knew very well that the city editor did not expect him to get those interviews, but was sending him on a "forlorn hope." But he merely took the assignment without any comments at all.

He went first to the house of Dr. Hall, on Fifth avenue, that being the farther of the two from the office. He knew that if he sent up his card he would merely receive a message that Dr. Hall could not be seen. He decided, therefore, that the doctor must be made to feel an interest in the information that he (the reporter) was to give.

BAD BLOOD, BAD COMPLEXION.

The skin is the seat of an almost endless variety of diseases. They are known by various names, but are all due to the same cause, acid and other poisons in the blood that irritate and interfere with the proper action of the skin.

To have a smooth, soft skin, free from all eruptions, the blood must be kept pure and healthy. The many preparations of arsenic and potash and the large number of face powders and lotions generally used in this class of diseases cover up for a short time, but cannot remove permanently the ugly blotches and the red, disfiguring pimples.

Eternal vigilance is the price of a beautiful complexion when such remedies are relied on.

Mr. H. T. Shole, 274 Lucas Avenue, St. Louis, Mo., says: "My daughter was afflicted for years with a disfiguring eruption on her face, which resisted all treatment. She was taken to two celebrated health springs, but received no benefit. Many medicines were prescribed, but without the first bottle was finished the eruption began to disappear. A dozen bottles cured her completely and left her skin perfectly smooth. She is now seventeen years old, and a sign of the embarrassing disease has never returned."

S. S. S. is a positive, unfailing cure for the worst forms of skin troubles. It is the greatest of all blood purifiers, and the only one guaranteed purely vegetable.

Bad blood makes bad complexions. S. S. S. purifies and invigorates the old and makes new, rich blood that nourishes the body and keeps the skin active and healthy and in proper condition to perform its part towards carrying off the impurities from the body.

If you have Eczema, Tetter, Acne, Salt Rheum, Psoriasis, or your skin is rough and pimply, send for our book on Blood and Skin Diseases and write our physicians about your case. No charge whatever for this service.

recognized him as a newspaper man, and grumbled. "You know, the doctor says you on Saturday night," she said.

"Just tell Dr. Hall," said the reporter, "that I have news of an intended trial for heresy of lan MacLaren."

The servant took the message on and in a few moments the giant form of Dr. Hall came hurrying down the stairs.

"What's that about lan MacLaren?" he cried.

The reporter told him, and then got a second interview from him in regard to it.

Then to Dr. Parkhurst's house. Again the face of a servant who had frequently seen the reporter, and again the words, "You know the doctor won't see you on Saturday night."

But the newspaper man wrote on his card: "To tell you about a report of an intended trial for heresy of lan MacLaren."

In a few moments Dr. Parkhurst's voice was heard. "Come right up here. Come right up to my study."

The news was told and the second interview gained.

The reporter was back at the newspaper office before midnight and walked up to the city editor's desk. That tired face looked up.

"I have been to see Dr. Hall and Dr. Parkhurst," said the reporter.

"Wouldn't be seen, of course?" said the editor.

"Got 'em both," said the reporter—Saturday Evening Post.
