LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

FROM TUESDAY'S DAILY, JULY 12.

Heavy Frost.—On the night of Tuesday, the 7th, a heavy frost visited Randolph, Rich County, killing potatoes, peas, and all the wheat was out in head. The lucern was also damaged, in fact all the corn truck, even the red root and weed were killed. We learn the news from Mr. John Snowball.

Grand Gulch.—The Grand Copper Mine is the title of a tract of 60 or 80 miles south of George, which is said to be developed into a big success, under the indefatigable labors of S. L. James and James Wills of that vicinity. The former is a stockholder and has leased the property for five years. Previous to his taking hold several men of professed skill expended a great deal of money with little advantage upon the mine. He intends adding soon, to his already good stock of machinery and appliances.

Broken Arm.—James Hardman, son of George Hardman, of the 4th ward, a lad aged 14 years, met with an accident above indicated yesterday about noon, while driving a load up Second West Street, in vicinity of his home. The wheels of his wagon struck against a table crossing in that neighborhood, and the force of the jar threw him out upon the ground, where the wheel passed over his arm, with the forementioned result. He was brought half a block from home, when the mishap occurred, and was taken there immediately, while a surgeon went for who, on arriving, set fractured limb. The patient is doing well.

Granger Extension.—The Lake Democrat learns from a gentleman who has recently visited Evanston, that Mr. Stevens, one of the who are to have charge of the granger short line of the U. P. R. was about to visit Bear Lake. Stevens says the line will be to reach the U. and N. R. R. in a year, and perhaps further. It is expected that surveying through Bear Lake Valley would commence right away and the granger to work. Track-laying from granger commenced yesterday, and expected to average a mile and a half per day until the U. and N. R. R. reached, it being the design to reach that road with coal from the smooth mines on Twin Creeks, next winter, thereby obviating the carrying of coal by way of road.

Road Talk.—The Beaver Enquirer of the 6th inst., has the following at this time there are a couple of men in Beaver whose mission, as it appears, is full of promises for the people and interest Southern Utah. They are carrying mules, and the object of purchases is the facilitating of upon the (now) Utah Central road, the design being to connect the road with the Southern at some point in Mexico, and the Utah line. There are some half dozen surveyors in the field, and they are going out at the Utah and Mexico Railway.

S. P. V. Railway. is a narrow road owned by an English company who, seemingly, have no work on the fast age principle. The road is being built from Wales, a distance of about 40 miles. The grading is completed the entire distance. Eight bridges and 22 culverts are built, the rails are nearly all delivered at Nephi, the ties are all laid by the track for two-thirds the distance, and the remainder contracted for. Two engines with a complete assortment of cars, are said to be on the way. E. Hunter, of American Fork, is here with a force of 30 men, and will soon have all the bridge and culverts built. G. Tolley, of Nephi, and R. Llewellyn, of Fountain Green, are filling up behind the bridges and fixing the dilapidated places of the road. G. Tolley has been awarded the contract of laying down the track.

The grade is eight feet wide, the iron a size between that of the wide and narrow gauge roads of Utah, the bridges and culverts are of solid masonry; of the hardest and most durable rock that could be found, and the entire work is under the supervision of G. W. Snow, of Salt Lake City, a young gentleman of ability, promptness and decision, and highly respected by all on the road.

FROM WEDNESDAY'S DAILY JULY 13.

Gored by a Wild Cow.—A serious misfortune befel Dr. Wm. J. Smith, of the 11th Ward, yesterday, a few minutes before noon. He had led out a wild Durham heifer into the yard, and tied her to a tree that she might eat lucern, when the animal suddenly broke loose and pitched at a little child of his, standing near by. The father threw himself between, to protect his little one, when he was gored in the back by the enraged animal, thrown to the ground, and hooked and stamped in a fearful manner. Three young men rushed to the rescue, and with clubs succeeded in driving off the furious beast. The injured man got as far as the barn, where he laid down. Dr. S. B. Young, having been summoned, arrived about noon, and found that Brother Smith had sustained some serious injuries. Besides being fearfully bruised on the back and breast, there was also a scalp wound 6 inches in length, from the temple backwards, as cleanly cut by the cow's horn as could have been done with a knife. A throat wound four inches long, which laid the windpipe bare, was also inflicted. A litter was constructed and the patient removed to the house. It was thought yesterday by the family that he would certainly die, as serious internal injuries were supposed to have been sustained. Dr. Young, however, had better hopes. He dressed the wounds antiseptically, according to Lister, and this morning they were healing very nicely. The internal hurts were not nearly so serious as at first believed. The patient passed a comfortable night, under the influence of a gentle opiate, and this morning we are pleased to learn, was doing very well. Not quite a year ago Brother Smith was severely kicked in the abdomen by a wild colt. He is a man over 60 years of age, but he possesses a powerful frame, or there might be more cause for the anticipation of unfavorable results. We trust that recovery will be speedy and permanent.

A Seducer Punished.—An exciting affray occurred last evening, about 8 o'clock, in an up-stair room of the Deseret Bank building. The participants were a young man named Edward Anderson, of the 20th Ward, and an individual named William Dunford. The statement of Mr. Anderson, given in the Police Court this morning, was to the following effect: Dunford for some time had been criminally intimate with Anderson's sister, and had made an appointment with her in his room in the Bank building, last evening. Anderson was on Godbe's corner, when he saw his sister on the opposite side of the street going toward the back entrance of the building, and following he saw her enter Dunford's room. He knocked, and not being admitted, tried the door but found it locked. He then dashed out one of its glass panes, reached in, unbolted the door and went in. His sister was there alone. Inquiry elicited the response that she had come to keep an appointment with Dunford. Shortly afterwards the latter entered.

ed. Anderson told him he had come to thrash him. Dunford replied that he would be sorry if he attempted it, and was reaching after a pistol, when Anderson knocked him down. He arose and was knocked down again and again. He tried to get a loaded cane in the corner, but did not succeed in using it. He finally ran to the open window and shouted "murder," and called for help. Anderson followed, and thinking Dunford intended to throw himself out upon the pavement, 60 feet below, pulled him back in and continued to beat him. The police finally arrived and Anderson was arrested and taken to the City Hall, where he left security for his appearance in court at 10 a.m. to-day. Dunford was badly whipped, and this morning presented a very unhandsome appearance. The trial took place, Dunford's statement, save in a few particulars, not differing materially from the facts given above. Anderson was fined $30. Much sympathy was expressed for him, and quite a number of persons offered to pay his fine on the spot but it was decided to petition the Mayor for its remittance. A paper was made out, and is being circulated for signatures this afternoon. Everybody takes sides with Anderson, in his punishment of the betrayer of his sister, and all unite in saying that Dunford did not get half his just deserts. He may think himself lucky that he got off so easily.

FROM THURSDAY'S DAILY JULY 14.

Denies the Seduction.—The individual who was so badly thrashed the other night by an irate brother, for criminal intimacy with his sister, denies having seduced the girl, but from all evidence it would be of little use for him to deny the charge of criminal relationship.

Left Her Home.—Miss Josephine Taylor, whose unfortunate aberration of mind is well known, left her home last evening, and has not been heard of since. Any one knowing her whereabouts, or having seen her, will confer a favor on her friends by sending word to this office immediately.

District Court.—Proceedings in the Third District Court, on Thursday, July 14th, Chief Justice Hunter, presiding.

Philip Nader vs. Leonard Cottrell; heard on report of referee and same confirmed. Judgment entered accordingly.

Isaac Brinker vs. Martin Florida et al; default of defendant George Sidwell, and judgment against said defendant as prayed.

Chicago Gladiator T. and M. Company vs. John W. Kerr; by consent judgment entered against defendant for $150, and $15 costs.

Information Wanted.—Charlotte Mateer, from Glasgow, Scotland, wishes to know the whereabouts of Sarah Bowman, who emigrated to Utah in May, 1864, from Glasgow, Scotland. Address—Mrs. Morrison, 49 John's Lane, Hebburn, Newton, near Newcastle-on-Tyne.—Millennial Star.

Apostle Orson Pratt.—The many friends of our venerable and beloved brother, Apostle Orson Pratt, have rejoiced to see him make his appearance occasionally in meeting and upon the streets, and are delighted that he has so far recovered from the serious attack of illness which prostrated him for so long. He wishes it to be known that his convalescence is due to the skillful herbal treatment administered by Dr. Castle, of the 12th Ward, assisted by the blessings of the Almighty and the faith and prayers of the Latter-day Saints. We earnestly hope that his improvement under such efficient agencies, will continue, until, ere long, we shall have the pleasure of recording his complete restoration to permanent health.

Narrow Escape.—A young boy, aged 10 years, named Charles Brown, a son of Charles Brown, of Liberty, Bear Lake, recently met with a thrilling accident, which is related by the Democrat of the 9th inst. He was on horse back driving a cow, when the latter turned and gored the horse he was riding. It staggered and fell, and in falling the boy got under. While in that position the horse died, and the boy, not being able to extricate himself, was held fast by the weight of the horse. Fortunately, however, after considerable time had elapsed, Bro. James Poulsen, who resides close by where the accident occurred, happened that way, and liberated the boy from his perilous position. No bones were broken, but he was considerably bruised.

Idaho Bill Killed.—This notorious desperado met his death on the night of the 12th inst., near Evanston, Wyoming. His skull was crushed in with the pitman rod of a mowing machine, in the hands of Mr. Glasscock, his own father-in-law. The occurrence took place at a ranch, five miles above Evanston, on Bear river. Glasscock was in the meadow mowing, when he heard screams coming from near his residence. Hastening to the house, he found Idaho Bill, with a pistol, running after his wife and her mother (Mrs. Glasscock) around the corral. Mr. Glasscock, seeing how matters stood, seized an old pitman rod, and as the ruffian came to the corner of the corral, struck him down. He never spoke afterwards, but lingered a few hours senseless, and died. Idaho Bill was well known as a dangerous and disreputable character, and remarks were made on the streets of Evanston, when his death was made known, that a subscription of at least five hundred dollars ought to be raised for Glasscock, for cutting short his career of crime. The real name of Idaho Bill, was William Sloan. About a year ago, with two other convicts, he broke jail, and his return to the ranch of his father-in-law, on the night of the killing, was quite unexpected. His body was taken to Evanston, but up to the 13th, the date of our information, sent by Wm. G. Burton, Esq., of that city, no inquest had been held. Hence, full particulars had not been elicited.

COME ON.

A Challenge to Anybody and Every-body.

Having heard quite a blow of late in regard to Harvesting Machinery, we would remark that we have a few Mowers, Droppers, Self-Rakes, Independent Reapers, and the only Wire and Twine Binders; we would like, and do strongly urge a public trial of any of the machines above mentioned. We stand ready and wish to compete with any machine on a field trial. Our machines are manufactured by D. M. Osborne & Co., of Auburn, N. Y.

J. G. COLTRIN & Co.

Here We Come.
Royce Self-Rake Reaper Victorious.
This to certify that we, the undersigned, judges at a contest between the Osborn Self-Rake and the Royce Self-Rake Reapers, in Mr. Brereton's field, do say that the Royce has decidedly done the best work in every respect.

The New York Sun of the 2nd, says: Rats ate the signatures off a will, at North Adams, Mass., and the mutilated document is, therefore, the subject of litigation. If Rough on Rats had been used this would not have happened. Its reputation is world wide, as it clears out rats, mice, cockroaches, bedbugs, flies, vermin, and all kinds of insects.
