Y. M. M. I. A. CONVENTION.

Stake and Ward Officers Meet and Discuss the New Manual and Other Work.

Young Clyde Stafford Thrown From a Wagon and Badly Hurt-Object to Telephone Poles.

The annual convention of the Young Men's Mutual Improvement associations of the Weber Stake was held yesterday in the Ogden tabernacle with sessions at 10 a. m. and 2 p. m., and 7:30 p. m.

The purpose of the convention was to give instructions to the officers of the associations throughout the Stake, on the proper and most instructive way in which to conduct the meetings and to study Manual No. 5, which treats upon the first principles of the Gospel, and is to be studied in the associations this season. Elder B. H. Roberts of the General Board of the Y. M. M. I. associations was present and took part in the discussion on the various topics and gave timely and useful instructions on the work mapped out for the season in the Manual.

The following very interesting program was rendered:

MORNING SESSION, 10 A. M.

"Preparations for Opening the Sea-son"John V. Bluth "Grading of Associations".........John L. Herrick

AFTERNOON SESSION, 2 P. M. "Class Work in the Associations"... James R. Beus

EVENING SESSION, 7:30 P. M.

The attendance at each of the meetings was very large, all of the orrani-zations being represented. The outlook for this season's Improvement work is very encouraging. Most of the as-sociations started their meetings last Tuesday evening.

FOURTH DISTRICT COURT.

P. J. McKenna, who is charged by information with displacing a part of a railroad on August 19, by disconnect-ing an air hose and closing two angle cocks on a Rio Grande Western freight train at Soldier Summit, demurred to the information on the grounds that it does not state a public offense. The demurrer was argued by Attorney Jacob Evans for defendant and District Attorney Hatch for the state, the con tention of defendant being that the the cars were not a part of a railroad. The question was taken under advisement Harper Forsythe, alias Texas Blackie, was arraigned in the Fourth district court Saturday on the charge of grand iarceny, stealing a horse and buggy from George W. Gee, of this city, on the 12th of this month. The defendant stated that he did not care to have an attorney as the case was such that he would be convicted anyway and he did not care to put the state to any ex-pense. He entered a plea of guilty and sentence was set for today. When asked whether Forsythe was his cor-When rect name, he said that it was not, and that he did not desire to give his right name. He told Jailer Williams afterwards that his people are well to do, respected citizens of Texas, and that he would not have them know of his

Logan, Sept. 22.-The Scandinavian eunion held in this city Saturday and Sunday was a most enjoyable event, and was largely attended by Scandinavians from Utah and Idaho. Four meetings were held in all. Among the distinguished visitors were Apostle An-thon H. Lund, Andrew Jenson, Mr. Dahlquist, Presidents Joseph Morrell, Isaac Smith and others. These gentle-men, with Mastra Longon of Blob. men, with Messrs. Jenson, of Rich-mond, and A. Peterson, made addresses appropriate to the occasion. Sunday morning was largely devoted to the

RICHFIELD. PRIMARY FAIR AND FESTIVAL.

Case C. P. Christiansen vs Monroe Irrigation Co. Decided.

Special Correspondence. Richfield, Sevier Co., Sept. 22.-The primary fair which opened on Friday and closed at 12 o'clock last evening was an unqualified success in every particular from every point of view, and far exceeded the fondest anticipation of those who had the matter in charge and the people in general. The exhibits for the fair were so numerous that the opera house proved to be entirely inadequate to show them off to advantage, in fact a room twice the size would have been scarcely large enough to have done justice to the display. The exhibits were divided into departments as follows: Curlos and relics, doll show, crochet work, fruits and flowers, fancy work, plain class, carpentering and mechanics, knitting, mending and darning, paint-ing, drawing and penmanship, rugs, mals. In the department of curios and relics were collected a large number of specimens that would do credit to a iseum of the first rank, the products of the farm and garden would, many of then, be worthy of a place of merit in the state fair, while the mechanical work and peedle work of the children was a most agreeable surprise to all. In connection with the fair a grand ball was given at the pavilion Friday evening, special features of which were Friday evening, special features of which were exercises and dances by highly trained and well costumed children; a child-ren's character isall at the pavilion Saturday afterneon at which over one hundred and fifty children appeared in character dress; and a musical con-test at the Tabernacle Saturday even ing. The musical contest consisted o a boys' solo in which there were elever contestants, the prize in this was wor by Willes Collings, of Monroe; a giris solo in which there were ten entries the prize was won by a little Miss Nielsen, of Redmond; a speaking contest in which there were five entries, the prize was won by Irene Anderson, of Richfield; a chorus contest in which there were three entries, in this prizes were awarded as follows: E Rich field chorus first. Monroe second, and Glenwood chorus third prize.

Judge Johnson held court here on Friday to try the case of C. P. Chris-tiansen vs the Monroe Irrigation com-pany. Plaintiff sued on three causes of party. Plaintin such on three causes of action, first for damages for defendant entering upon the lands of plaintiff and constructing a ditch, second for defend-ant failing to distribute to plaintiff his just share of water, and third for a mandate of court to compell defendants to permit plaintiff to take his water at a point in the canal at which he received it for many years prior to 1900. Upon the first cause the plaintiff was granted a restraining order and $10 damages. The second and third causes of action were dismissed.

have a drink and let it go." Hedges then left the saloon and soon returned with a revolver on him. Witness said to Glendenning: "There comes the old to Grendenning: "There comes the old man with his gun." That then Glen-denning seld to those in the saloon, "Boys, get in the back. There is coing to be trouble; I don't want any of you to get hurt," and when Hedges had ad-vanced to the saloon door, he opened it with his left bend while his side here. Best. with his left hand, while his right hand was on his revolver, saying, "Where is that gun man?" Immediately Glenden-ning went out of the saloon and seized Hedges by the right hand. In the struggle that ensued shots were fired and Hedges fell with his hand on his gun. In the rigid cross-examination Arthur Brown gave Zilling and Artego he got them badly mixed up at times with their story.
