SYMPTOMS OF BRIGHT'S DISEASE

The spread of Bright's Disease is so protoundly stirring the health depart. ments of the large cities that mention of the commonest symptoms is timely. Puffiness of the cyclids or swelling of the ankles or hands in the morning; also dropsy in the abdomen.

The obstructed kidney increases the blood pressure and the heart may be-come involved and painful. This is of-ten attended with an asthmatic condi-tion or shortness of breath.

As Bright's Disease commonly starts as kidney trouble, any kidney disorder that has lingered longer than three or four months is notice of the chronic danger point, and that if can be no longer triffed with.

a loss the census was taken over again so as to insure a correct report. It was expected that the returns would show a greater increase in the school popu-lation, and there is considerable specu-lation in school circles as to the cause of the small increase. It is believed by some that a large number of families were out of the city at the time the census was taken, on account of the hot weather, and that might account for the figures being so low. The percentage of increase this year over last was only .004 per cent, and the increase this year over the year 1960 "Subject-Waterhog.
