EDITORIAL NOTES.

The Lewiston (Me.) Journal represents Congressman Frye as a perfect hero in the strife political. That journal says of him, "He spoke sixty-two times during the campaign, in Maine, Ohio, Indiana, Wisconsin, New Jersey, and Massachusetts, frequently to crowds of three thousand and upward. Often he spoke twice a day, being taken from town to town by special trains that he might be as nearly in two places at the same time as the inventions of electricity and steam in this age will permit. His speeches were everywhere received with great favor; almost always he spoke alone from two to three and a half hours. No speaker on the stump has done better service than Mr. Frye, and he returns home in good health."

One Girard de Gate Bourse, according to the Paris correspondence of the Boston Advertiser, a French counterfeiter, who put 1,600 100-franc bills and 144 200-franc bills, counterfeit, into circulation, was tried in 1861 and sent to Cayenne for life. When there he tried to escape, but got entangled in the river weeds and was eaten alive by crabs.

The Washington Nation thus quotes interesting news from the New York Journals—"The fog lifted—The Graphic. The fog has lifted—N. Y. Commercial. The fog lifted yesterday—Times. The fog which hung over the city has lifted—World. The misty gloom has lifted with the fog—Sun. The fog raised—Herald. The fog has lifted—Mail. And not one of them told us how much it had lifted."

Our Dumb Animals says—"Cats are exceedingly fond of the herb valerian, and a few cents' worth, which can be bought at any drugstore, strewn around a kitchen door, would soon attract even a timid cat." Now if the O. D. A. will tell what to strewn around a kitchen door to drive cats away, a much greater service will be rendered to all communities.

The Chattanooga Commercial says that an anxious inquirer political at Corinth, Miss., telegraphed to the Louisville Courier-Journal the question, "Who is President?" and received promptly the following answer, "Ulysses S. Grant." The precious information cost the Corinth chap only $2.50.

An exchange says, "Never was the importance of one vote so forcibly illustrated as in this contest."

A French physician thinks Plus IX never Peter out for ten years yet.

USING THE MILITARY.

It is getting to be a nice thing that in this model republic governments or legislatures have to be inaugurated by military force, as was done in New Orleans last year, as is being done in South Carolina just now, and as is anticipated will be done in Washington next March. This frequent resort to the military, and this overshadowing by it of the civil dignitaries, may be necessary or advisable, but it argues badly for the success of popular government in America, and that is the main thing which is on trial in these United States before all the world.

EVIL COMMUNICATIONS.

Evil communications corrupt good manners, and that is one powerful reason why, among the youth of the Territory, and with some who are older, occasionally a tendency to adopt the vices and the lawlessness of the more reckless outside visitants is manifest. This is one of the great evils which result from the presence of such an objectionable element in the community—corrupting the young, the inexperienced, and the less stable members thereof, who, if not brought in contact with such vicious company, would be restrained and kept within decent bounds by the law-abiding sentiment of the community.

One cause of the greater prevalence of criminality in this Territory in later times than formerly is the course which some of the judicial and executive officers of the law have taken. Some of them have manifested plainly that their main object was to prosecute, or rather persecute, prominent citizens for imaginary crimes, while the vicious parties engaged in actual crime, moral as well as statutory, have been scarcely looked after, or by no means properly punished, and in some cases they have been actually turned loose again on the community upon the flimsiest and most disgraceful pretences. So that sometimes it has been a question whether the laws were not made, or at least administered, to favor and shield real criminals and punish the law-abiding portion of the community.

This kind of procedure at various times in the history of the Territory has tended to embolden the unscrupulous and more reckless classes, at the expense of the law-abiding citizens, and has had a bad influence upon some of the youth who may have been naturally a little inclined to wild ways, but who, under more favorable circumstances, would have been restrained from vice and crime in a great degree.

FRAUDS POLITICAL.

The Republicans and the Democrats charge each other with gross frauds and other illegality in relation to the current election business. Each party assumes an air of innocence, of injured innocence, while charging the other party with the grossest criminality of the kind. It is difficult to say which party is the most fraudulent. There seems to be no reason to doubt that each has done something in that way. Neither is so good as it should be. But the Democrats can hardly equal the Republicans in solemn professions of self-righteousness, for many of the latter do actually seem to believe that they and their party are immaculate, and that the Democrats are the embodiment of all party villainy, that they are political crime incarnate. But the South Carolina canvassers contempt case, and the shameless wholesale frauds related concerning the Republicans in the elections in the far South, reported in our dispatches yesterday, go far to show that the Republicans are a great deal more tainted than they affect to consider possible, and the more honorable men of the party acknowledge that there are some crooked things concerning republican election manipulation that cannot be satisfactorily explained. The fact seems to become more and more apparent that there is a good deal rotten in the party and in the state.

TO-DAY'S DISPATCHES.

EASTERN.

Newspaper Talk on the Political Situation.

NEW YORK, 28.—The Herald's Columbia special intimates that Chamberlain's game is to get the Democrats to commit some breach of law so as to call on the military. The release of the board of canvassers, to-day, is really a worse and more daring judicial usurpation than the discharge of the board of election after hearing the cause, and deciding them to be illegally deprived of their liberty. They are now discharged from the commitment of the Supreme Court for contempt without argument, examination or adjudication by the United States Court. The Supreme Court committed them for contempt, and Judge Bond releases them until some definite time in the future, when he will decide whether they ought to be sent back to jail or not. The negroes are greatly elated at the release of the canvassers, but the news of troops being placed at the disposal of the Governor has rendered them insolent and intolerant in a marked degree. On the other hand this has had a correspondingly depressing effect on the Democrats. They are determined to maintain peace at all hazards, and under no circumstances will they be provoked into a disturbance for the purpose of furnishing capital to republicans at the north.

Marten Marble telegraphs to the Herald from Tallahassee that certified copies of the official returns, in the custody of the Democratic State Committee, show a clear majority for Tilden electors over and above all frauds. No returns have been shown by the republicans, nor have any official figures thus far been disclosed.

The Herald's Tallahassee special says it is discovered this morning that the official returns from Dade County are not in. It is suspected by the Democrats that Gleason, clerk of Dade county court, who has been absent from his post since the election, is secretly outside, within telegraphic communication of this place, with a blank certificate for that county, which he will fill up with figures sufficient to give Hayes a majority, as soon as the canvass of the returns is made. He knows how much is needed. It is disposed to believe that Gleason has kicked out of the party traces, and will pursue an independent role during the canvass. If this is true, the democratic outlook is vastly improved. Gov. Stearns claims that the face of the returns will show forty-two majority for Hayes. This estimate includes 219 Alachua votes, which, if true, to be agreed, will not be counted, and twelve votes of acknowledged over-count in Jefferson county, which will certainly not be counted. Admitting these 231 votes, the democrats still claim 181 majority for Tilden. There is not a difference of ten votes between any of the electors.

The Herald's New Orleans special says Governor Bigler and G. W. Julian, who have all along been the most confident and hopeful of the democratic cause, are now despondent, and are considering the proper course to pursue in the emergency now deemed almost inevitable. Both parties are collecting evidence and bringing charges to the city as witnesses on intimidation cases. The republicans have stacks of affidavits, and the democrats have already received some 6,000 from negroes who voted the democratic ticket. The preparation of evidence upon both sides is upon so extensive a scale that there is no probability of its ever being retained otherwise than superficially. Everything is quiet and business almost prostrated.

The Democrats Take Possession of Their Seats in the Legislature.

The World's Columbia special says the democratic members of the house have taken possession of their seats, and intend to hold them till elected by the United States troops, if it comes to that. The excitement is hourly increasing, and the halls are filled to overflowing, and more people are arriving. The situation seems, in brief, to be this: If there is no interference by the United States troops the democrats will organize and control the legislature, and seat their rightfully elected members by force, if necessary, but they will not resist the slightest show of federal authority, and a corporal's guard would be quite as effective as a legion. The democratic members of the legislature, under the advice of Hampton and Gordon, abandoned the idea of holding possession of their seats all night, and, after canvassing a plan of action, adjourned.

General Ruger and the Troops.

The Herald's Columbia, S. C., dispatch says General Ruger arrived there at ten o'clock last night, and at midnight three companies of United States infantry were quartered in the State House.

Explanation.

COLUMBIA, S. C., 28.—The house burned on Friday last, three miles from this place, was the property of the sisters of General Wade Hampton, but was occupied by him and known as his house. About 9 o'clock General Gordon, United States Senator from Georgia, and General Johnson, State Senator of Virginia, Messrs. Peck and Jeffreys, members of the legislature, demanded admittance to the State House. The rotunda was filled with troops and arms stacked against the walls, and the members of the legislature exhibited their certificates from the Supreme Court of their election, and a corporal of the guard refused them admittance under orders of Denies, who was standing by. The democratic members then met in caucus about 11.15 a. m., and proceeded in a body to demand admittance. In the meantime Gen. Hampton had an interview with Gen. Ruger, who then changed the orders so as to allow any one to pass the sentinels, who claimed to be elected members of the legislature. Under this change of orders all the members are being admitted slowly as the corporal of the guard examines their credentials. Members are thus admitted to the State House but not to the Hall of Representatives. The democratic members of the House, for gaining admittance to the State House, proceeded to the door of the House of Representatives, with a delegation from Edgemoor and Laurens counties, and demanded admittance on their certificates of election taken from the record of the supreme court. Six soldiers were ranged on either side of the approach to the door, with two officers in the centre. The certificates of the Edgemoor and Laurens delegates being presented, were decided invalid by the doorkeeper, whereupon the entire body of democrats withdrew. They assembled in front of the State House, from the steps of which the following protest was read in the presence of the military and citizens—

"Columbia, Nov. 28. "We, a majority of the members of the House of Representatives of South Carolina elect, protest against the refusal to admit us to the Hall of Representatives. We protest against the military power of the United States barring the passage into the State House of the members elect of the legislature. We protest against the legality of the proceeding, and especially against the army of the U. S. being placed for the purpose of this exclusion, under the command of one John B. Dennis, a partisan of the Chamberlain."

We protest against the said Dennis' instructions to the guard to admit no one to the State House except upon his own oath, or a pass of A. O. Jones, the former clerk of the house, who may thus exclude all except his own partisans, and whereby the republican members are prevented from entering the State House. We have presented ourselves with the judgment of the highest court of South Carolina, certified to by its clerk with the great seal of the court attached, as to our right to participate in the organizing of said House. We are refused, by the orders of said Dennis, admission to the said hall except upon his pass or pass of A. O. Jones, or certificate of H. E. Hayne, Secretary of State, who is now under condemnation of said court for refusal to issue certification in accordance with its judgment and mandate. In protesting against the barefaced usurpation, this trampling on the laws and constitution of the State; this defiance of the highest tribunal of the State, it is our purpose to offer no resistance to this armed intervention, but to make our solemn appeal to the American people.

Hayes Will Wait for a Fair Count.

ST. LOUIS, 28.—J. B. McCulloch, editor of the Globe Democrat, having been informed that the bulletin boards in this city, yesterday, announced that Hayes had said he would not accept the presidency even if counted in, telegraphed the following based on an interview with Hayes:

"The report that Hayes has withdrawn is the most idiotic backbit of the canvass. He will wait for a fair count, and if that honestly elects him, he will not allow the people of the United States to be swindled out of a republican administration."

(Signed) "JAMES M. COWLEY."

Federal Troops Take Possession of the State House.

CHARLESTON, S. C., 28.—At midnight the State House in Columbia was occupied by federal troops, who snatched the rotunda and kept the doors barred. This morning a guard of sentinels was formed around the building and admittance denied to all except those having passes from federal authorities. Private secretary, W. R. Jones. The streets of Columbia are crowded with people from all parts of the State. Quiet reigns, but the excitement is intense.

Another Indian Fight—Loss on Both Sides Heavy.

CHICAGO, 28.—Gen. Crook, under date of Camp on Crazy Woman's Fork, Nov. 28, reports that Colonel Mackenzie, of the 4th Cavalry, attacked a Cheyenne camp of one hundred lodges on the west fork of Powder River, on the 25th inst., capturing the village and greater portion of the Indian herd. The loss on both sides is thought to be considerable, but was not definitely ascertained when the courier left. Lt. McKenney, of the 4th Cavalry, was killed. The weather is represented as being very severe.

Official Vote.

CHICAGO, 28.—The State official vote was as follows: Hayes' highest elector 268,232; Tilden's highest elector 258,601; Cooper's 17,108. General Assembly—House, republicans 74; democrats 24; independent 5; joint ballot, republicans 101, democrats 83, independent 5. There are two counts of the vote. INDIAN POLICE.—Official vote of the State—Tilden 213,526; Cooper 9,535; Hayes 208,111.

WESTERN.
Election News West.
SAN FRANCISCO, 28.—The Secretary of State, last night, canvassed the vote. The State gives Hayes 78,608; Tilden 75,841. Marin county is not included, the returns not having been received, but it will not affect the result.
The Secretary of State says, unofficially, the contest will probably be between Tacheco and Wigginton, candidates for Congress in the fourth district, on the following grounds:—In Monterey county the supervisors canvassed and certified the returns to the county clerk. In that certificate an error in the footing made San Lorenzo precinct show two more votes for Wigginton than were actually cast. The county clerk subsequently changed the footings to correspond with the figures. As Tacheco has but one majority it is expected that Wigginton will contest on the ground that the certificate of the supervisors was a finality and the clerk had no right to change the figures.
