DISTRICT COURT CASES.

Henry Kopp, who was found guilty several months ago of stabbing John Emertsen with a knife, who failed to appear for sentonce last week at the apointed time, when his bond was forfeited, appeared in the district court before Judge Rolapp with his bonds-men, and asked that the order of the court forfeiting his bond, and requiring his bondsmen to put up the amount of the same, be revoked and set aside, and that he be permitted to appear for sentence, stating that it was wholly unin-tentional on his part not to have appeared at the proper time for setnence. The court, after hearing the statement of the defendant, revoked the forfeiture of his bail and sentenced him to pay a fine of $50, which he did. The light sentence was imposed on account of Kopp having been a young man of good habits eyer since the unfortunate affray between him and Emertsen.

Commissioner Stanford reported that a large shipment of fine apples will be made during the week from the orchard. Provo, Utah Co., Oct. 35 .- Founders' day of the Brigham Young university was appropriately celebrated yesterday and gave the city a hollday appearance. Many of the business houses were decorated with the white and blue colors of the university, and the sidewalks were lined with citizens to witness. the parade of students. The procession formed at the university and started promptly at 0:30 o'clock, taking up the march for the site upon which the building first occupied by the school was located (corner of Center and Third West streets) and counter marching to held. The procession was preceded by standard bearers carrying the American flag and the school banner of white and blue, followed by the university band. The kindergarten children, some of the smaller ones on a float, came immedi-ately behind the band, followed by the various classes carrying class banners, and the faculty, members of the board of trustees and other visitors in carriages closed the procession, which extended for three blocks, eight abreast, and contained about 1,200 people.

A large number of citizens had assembled at the tabernacle, and when the students were seated in the body of the house it contained a large audience On the stand were seated Presidents Joseph F. Smith and Anthon H. Lund, Elder Reed Smoot, Mrs. Maria Y. Dou-gall, President David Jona, members of the board of trustees, prominent of the board of trustees, prominent visitors and members of the faculty. President Brimhall presided. Elder Reed Smoot delivered the Founders' day address, in which he briefly touched upon the history of the university from the time the trust deeds were signed by President Brigham Young, Oct. 16, 1875—the day which Founders' day commemorates. President Brigham Young expected to endow this institution with means suffi-cient to pay all its expenses, and the speaker believed that had he not been called away so soon he would have done so. If President Young had done this, it was a question in the mind, of the speaker whether the institution would have had as solid a foundation as it has today, having come up through financial tribulation. The labors and tolls of Dr. Karl G. Maeser in establishing the school and William T. Spackman, 27, and Miss Harriet A. Berrett, 26, both of North students, without any thought of the amount or the time of payment of his saiary were feelingly described, and the unfaitering faith and energy, exhibited by President Abraham O. Smoot in looking after the financial interests of the school, and maintaining it through sacrifice and labor on the part of himself and other early associates or the board, were mentioned. Today the school had many friends, as loyal as were the early trustees and faculty and it was sustained by the faith and means of those who had succeeded the pioneer workers for and in the institu-tion. The school had been founded and grown on faith, and that was sustain-ing it today. The greater part of the address was devoted to a treatment of faith in its various forms and phases, its operations and results, and earnestly urging all the students to obtain and Miss Lida Edmunds rendered a piano selection, "Columbine Minuet."

President A. H. Lund addressed the audience, expressing pleasure in ad-dressing such a large number of young people who were endeavoring to obtain an education that would prepare them for a successful future. He ad-monished the students to be diligent in their studies, that in the future they would have no regrets, but the mem-ory of the school would be one of constant pleasure through life. He spoke of the mission placed upon Dr. Karl G. Maeser by President Young, to take charge of the school and to let faith be the basis of all education imparted there, and counseled the students to cultivate faith, a power given by the Lord, and it would enable them to prosper both her and in ages to come. Without it there can be no progress, with it worlds were created, and with it eternal progress can be made by all. President Lund encouraged the students to work, and not be discouraged on account of difficulties that they might find in their studies, but to work with humility and earnestness, which would

Druggists Bruehl & Franken gives the following advice to those who want to gain flesh, and it should be of value to everybody in Salt Lake City:

"The quickest, surest and safest way for thin people to gain flesh is to take Vinel, our cod liver oil preparation, and the reason that Vinel is so far superior to anything else to create flesh and strength is because it does actually contain all of the medicinal, curative elements actually taken from genuine fresh cods' livers, which no other cod ver oil preparation does, and being without oil or grease to upset the stomach and retard its work it is a great improvement over old-fashioned cod liver oil and emulsions.

"Prominent physicians agree that this new cod liver oil preparation, Vinol, is certainly the greatest tissue builder, flesh creater and strength producer on the market. They prescribe it for their patients who are in need of a tonic re-constructor, and to those who want to

Father and Son lived. There is another class of revelation that is just as certain as the occular demonstrations made to the Prophet Joseph Smith; the revelation of the Spirit, communicating with the spirit of man. The speaker re-ated circumstances in the life of the ate President Woodruff, showing he had received immediately revelations for his own personal guidance through the wispering of the still small voice. President Woodruff, by heeding admonitions that thus came to him on two occasions saved his own life and the lives of members of his family. It was by this principle that the speaker knew that Joseph Smith was a Prophet of God, and that he knew of the truth of the Gospel by the Spirit of God speak-ing to his spirit. He admonished the ing to his spirit. He admonished the young people to cultivate purity and honesty in life, and to keep themselves unspotted from the world, and by so doing there would be opened up within them a source of knowledge of the Father and that they are His children. The importance of character, and of The importance of character, and of maintaining a good name was earnest-ly portrayed, and the good name of the Brigham Young university, which stood high upon the banner of progress and intellectual development, and its conthuation depended upont he character of the faculty and the students. STREET CAR PROJECT.

David Eccles is figuring on a proposition to build an electric street car line in this city. It is understood that he will make an offer to the citizens to build a line from the Agricultural college to the depot and along Male provided the city will furnish power temporarily at a fair price, and that the business men subscribe about $30,000 in stock. The plans also contemplate the building of a line from the sugar factory south through Providence, Millville and Hyrum to Wellswille with a branch to Purndiss. The ville, with a branch to Paradise. 'I facilitate the handling of beets at the factory and would make available a large acreage where beet growing is now practically prohibited by the long haul necessary to reach the factory.

There is no doubt that this proposi-tion will be favorably received by the people in the south and of the valley, and that the necessary franchises will be readily granted and the stock sub-scribed when wanted. This project will in no way interfere with the suburban line now being exploited by B. Mahler and his associates, but is intended as a purely local affair.
