

SOCIAL CHAT

The week has been rather quiet for the early fall, only a comparatively few functions having enlivened the days. Monday, always an unpopular one for social affairs, had the usual dearth and the rest have been far behind.

Miss Anna McCormick was one of Monday's hostesses, giving a pretty luncheon at the Country club in honor of Miss Lela Trent. The table was artistically decorated in berries and autumn leaves, and covers were laid for 20 guests.

Mrs. H. C. Brownlee entertained informally at her home on Monday with Mrs. C. R. Williamson of Denver at her home, a number of their friends calling during the afternoon. The rooms were adorned with autumn flowers, and refreshments were served.

Mrs. Perry Sadler was hostess at an exceedingly pretty luncheon on Tuesday about ten being entertained. The decorations were in pink and green, carnations, asters and sweet peas being used with pretty effect. Present were Miss Cora Corne, Mrs. Henry Sadler, Mrs. Wells of Butte, Mont., Mrs. A. E. Walker, Mrs. Martin Sprague, Mrs. Arthur B. Wither, Mrs. Donnell.

A delightful affair of Tuesday was the euchre party given by Mrs. Walter Cooke, about 30 guests being present. The rooms were prettily decorated in yellow, asters and dahlias being used, while the tables and covers were decorated with drawings in black and white.

Mrs. David S. Murray gave a bridge tea on Wednesday in honor of Miss Sara Alexander, about a dozen guests being invited. The decorations were in autumn flowers, and the affair, though informal, was a most enjoyable one.

Mrs. W. H. Childs entertained the members of her Sewing club this week.

One of the prettiest luncheons given on Wednesday at the Country club, was that at which Mrs. E. A. Hale was hostess, the affair being given in honor of her daughter, Edith. The decorations were white asters and autumn leaves, and covers were laid for Mrs. James C. Leary, Miss Florence Grant, Miss Louise Johnson, Miss Helen Hamner, Miss Maudie Sappington, Misses Dora and Evelyn Daly, Miss Loren Leary, Mrs. Frederick Leonard.

Judge and Mrs. Thomas Marleneaux entertained the members of their card club at their home on Thursday, the rooms being effectively decorated for the occasion, and a delightful evening spent.

Mrs. G. E. Moore entertained informally at dinner on Wednesday night at the Emery-Holmes cafe, covers being laid for eight.

Mrs. J. C. Dick was hostess at a delightful bridge party on Thursday afternoon given in honor of her sister, Mrs. W. P. Cunningham, who is visiting here from San Francisco. The rooms were decorated in autumn flowers and vines, and five tables were played.

Miss Rebecca Morris entertained at a luncheon this afternoon in honor of Mrs. Leo Campbell of Logan, about 14 guests being present. The decorations were most unique, the centerpiece being a large squash hollowed out and filled with marigolds and nasturtiums, while the place cards were decorated with an autumn field scene with squash in the foreground. Streamers of yellow ribbon were drawn from the centerpiece to the corners. The guests were Mrs. Campbell, Mrs. A. R. Horne, Mrs. H. F. Jennings, Mrs. Dorcas Ash, Mrs. G. Q. Morris, Mrs. Frank Roberts, Mrs. C. B. Diehl, Miss De Wolfe, Mrs. A. H. Ensign, Misses Lulu Gates, Afton and Justine Young, Beatrice and Jean Hyde.

Mrs. William Sanders entertained yesterday at an afternoon affair in honor of her daughter, Mrs. Campbell of Logan, the event being in every way delightful. The rooms were prettily decorated and a number of Mrs. Campbell's friends were present to enjoy the affair.

Miss Florence Grant entertained at a pleasant affair this afternoon in honor of Miss Edith Hale.

Mrs. Ernest Hamberger entertained informally at luncheon on Wednesday at the Country club. The table was simply but effectively decorated, and covers were laid for 14.

Tonight a reception will be given at the Commercial club in honor of the delegates to the convention of Daughters of the Confederacy who are here for the day.

Miss Edith Shearman and Harry Shearman entertained a few friends informally at their home on Thursday night, the feature of the evening being bridge.

The Pan-Hellenic was entertained at the home of Mrs. H. H. Lawson on Thursday.

Mrs. Edward Moore entertains at a luncheon next Wednesday for Miss Crete Pinkerton and the girls of her bridal party.

Mrs. Hubbard Reed entertained at a delightful tea yesterday at her home, the rooms being tastefully decorated, and a number of her friends enjoying the event.

This afternoon Mrs. George Y. Wallace entertains at a tea in honor of her daughter, Mrs. George Tuttle of St. Louis.

Miss Abbie Herman was hostess at a violet luncheon on Thursday in honor of Mrs. George Snell. The decorations were purple asters and the place cards hand painted in violets. Eight covers were laid.

A delightful social affair of the week was the annual luncheon of the Cleofan society, which opens its season in the pleasant way. The club was entertained at the home of Mrs. W. H. Booth, which was prettily decorated in autumn leaves and white asters, the table being especially attractive with its scarlet tinged leaves and candelabra shaded in the same color. A program of toasts was given, Mrs. Stanley H. Clawson acting as toastmistress and the following members responding: Mrs. C. H. Wells, Mrs. E. I. Clawson, Mrs. H. L. A. Culmer, Mrs. W. D. Riser, Mrs. Emma J. McVicker, Mrs. R. T. Bidder, Mrs. W. H. Booth, Miss Rebecca Morris, Miss Emmeline Wells. The outside guests were Mrs. John W. Taylor, Mrs. R. W. Daynes, Miss Jennie Calder and Miss Vera Rich. The affair was a delightful one and enjoyed by all.

WEDDING BELLS

A number of interesting marriages have taken place this week. Wednesday as usual being the popular day, with Thursday following.

On Wednesday Miss Annie Dick and C. L. Schettler were married, the event taking place at the bride's home with Bishop O. F. Whitney officiating, and a reception following for the family and friends. The rooms were prettily decorated with a profusion of vines and flowers, the costume of bride and bridesmaids were of the latest, and the affair altogether delightful. Mr. and Mrs. Schettler will be at home to their friends after Oct. 15, at 829 Washington street.

Two other of Wednesday's weddings were those of Miss Josephine Larson of this city, and Ripley Johnson of Ogden, and Miss Mabel H. Geary and Henry Johnson respectively, the first being solemnized at the New Westminster church, and the second at the bride's home, where an elaborate supper followed the ceremony. Both couples will reside here.

Among the most interesting events of the early fall weddings was that of Miss Tessie Williams, daughter of State Senator and Mrs. Williams, and Earl G. Van Law, the ceremony taking place at the home of the bride on Thursday afternoon with Apostle John Henry Smith officiating. The rooms were bright with a profusion of autumn leaves and asters, and a wedding supper was served, the relatives and near friends being present. The bride wore a becoming costume of wine red broadcloth with hat to match, and carried a shower bouquet of bride roses. Assisting in receiving the guests were Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Wilson, and Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Carlwright. Assisting in the dining room were Mrs. Edward Kimball, Mrs. Hyrum Bergetson, Mrs. Joseph Cannon, Miss Edith Wilson, Miss Katherine Douglas, Miss Dorothy Dunfer, Misses Jean and Beatrice Hyde, Miss Bessie Midgley. Mr. and Mrs. Van Law left in the evening for an eastern trip, after which they will go to Chicago to spend two years.

On Wednesday Mrs. Mabel Horn Lacy, sister of Mrs. C. E. Richards of this city, and who has made many friends during her former visits here, was married in Los Angeles to Mr. John Hooper, a wealthy mining man of that place. They will probably make their home in Mexico, where the groom's chief business interests lie.

A pretty wedding of Wednesday was that of Miss Annie Owen and William Roberts, the ceremony being performed

Mr. and Mrs. Walter F. Druehl at the Emery-Holmes.

Miss Nellie Pearsall has returned from the east after spending the summer, and is at present with Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Pearsall on Brigham street.

YOUNG DUCHESS WILL MAKE A BRIEF VISIT.

This is the latest picture of the Duchess of Marlborough, who is making a short visit to this country. The Duchess of Marlborough, who was Miss Consuelo Vanderbilt, has paid a visit to President Roosevelt and Mrs. Roosevelt at Sagamore Hill, in an automobile. This is said to be the first time an auto has been permitted to enter the grounds of the president's summer home, Mr. Roosevelt fearing he would be constantly annoyed by the noise of the motor cars, which are very numerous in the neighborhood. It is now said that the duchess will remain in this country only three weeks. She will not stay for the horse show in Madison Square garden.

at the bride's home by Bishop Woolley, and a large reception following. The rooms were bright with a profusion of flowers and vines, and delicious refreshments were served, members of the family and a number of intimate friends assisting. The bride was charming in her dainty wedding gown, and was the recipient of many beautiful gifts. Mr. and Mrs. Roberts will make their home here.

On Wednesday evening, Nov. 1, at the Central Christian church, will take place the marriage of Miss Clara Pinkerton and Joseph Grant. Mrs. Edward Moore will be the matron of honor, and Miss Daisy Savage the maid of honor. The bridesmaids will be Miss Helen Buckingham and Miss Olive Jennings. The witness here will be the Misses Margaret Harris and Edith Casady, while little Miss Irene Savage will bear the ring. Dr. A. C. Wherry will act as best man.

MISS CHARLOTTE WARREN

The report comes from Newport that Miss Charlotte Warren, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Whitney Warren, and James Hazen Hyde, formerly vice president of the Equitable Life Assurance society, are engaged to wed, and the gossip of the summer seat of fashion add that Miss Warren has gone abroad to purchase her trousseau. The wedding of Miss Warren and Mr. Hyde, it is rumored, will take place in Paris. This will be done to avoid the notoriety that would naturally attend the nuptials of a man so prominently in the public eye.
