★ "There are a few things that I believe in with all my heart, and it affords me pleasure to tell of one of them." The speaker was Ex-Senator Albert Merritt, head of the large fruit firm, 82 Park Place, N. Y., and the scene his office. "I was sick, and feared that I had become fated to endure the tortures of dyspepsia and a dangerous affection of the kidneys. A relative said to me: 'Why don't you try Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy?' I did so. I grew steadily better, could eat, digest, sleep, work with a clearer head, and the yellow color of my skin had given place to the tones ★

I thought it was due to impure blood and disordered state of the system. I was advised to try Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy. I did so, and have been completely cured. It's the best thing I ever heard of for any disorder of that nature, and I've recommended it to many with like success." Mr. Daniel Fitts, Taunton, Mass., says: "I recommend Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy

Sept. 1st.

Dr. Prentice,

Recently from London, Eng.,

Whose unequaled success in the treatment of

EYE, EAR AND CATARRH

Astonishes Everyone,

Has been induced to again postpone his departure until

Sept. 1st.

The following are a few of the many cases of cross eyes Dr. Prentice has straightened in this city in less than one minute:

Geo. A. Smith, Salt Lake City.
Susie M. Shettler, Salt Lake City.
Frank J. Hocking, Salt Lake City.
Florence Peppers, Salt Lake City.
Lester Riggs, Salt Lake City.
Sarah Wilder, Salt Lake City.
Joseph McRae, Salt Lake City.
David M. Cambell, Providence, Cache County.

Catherine Bivens, eye turned outward.

P. Pugsley's grandson, totally deaf in one ear, restored to hearing, and many others.

PILES.

Piles are almost instantly and painlessly cured by Dr. Prentice, and the cause forever removed.

I have been afflicted with Hemorrhoids (or Bleeding Piles) for the past twenty-five years. For several weeks past the pain has been so intense that I was forced to quit work. I found no relief either day or night, and was frequently compelled to walk the floor all night long, as it was impossible for me to sleep. In this condition I called on Dr. Prentice at the Continental Hotel, who, after a painless operation of less than one minute, relieved me from all pain, and I have been able to sleep and rest well ever since.

I consider myself perfectly cured, and unsolicited offer this testimonial for the benefit of those who may be similarly afflicted. HENRY GREGORY, 149 N. West Temple Street.

Dr. Prentice can be found at the Continental Hotel, Salt Lake City, until SEPT. 1st.

MADE HANDSOME.

Mr. B. H. Shettler, of Zion's Savings Bank, has a bright and intelligent little daughter nearly nine years old, but she has suffered the unfortunate disfigurement all her life of being badly cross-eyed. Susie M. Shettler's parents were very loath to trust any one to operate on her eyes. But they had faith enough to trust Dr. Prentice, and he has made the eyes perfectly straight, which was done in less than a minute, and Susie Shettler is now a handsome little girl, while her parents are well pleased.

JUDGE CARLTON'S LETTER.

SALT LAKE CITY, August 7, 1888.

Dear Doctor:—Before leaving for the east I wish to express my appreciation of your treatment of a complicated case of the eyes. I have tried for several years to get far-seeing glasses, and I had concluded that I could get none that would be of any benefit to me. But after I saw the wonderful benefit of your system, I take pleasure in saying that the glasses furnished by you have restored my vision both for reading and far-seeing to the same condition as in my boyhood. I resolved to have you furnish me glasses after I witnessed your system to a beautiful young lady of sixteen years, from Summit County, afflicted with a complicated condition of the eyesight. She told me she had never been able to distinguish one's face at a distance of six feet. With Dr. Prentice's glasses she could see as well as any one. As she looked up and down the street, and for the first time in her life saw the distant mountain tops, she was greatly delighted, and inquired with childish simplicity, "Do other people see this way?" It seemed that a new world was opened to her view, so novel and beautiful as "Eden's rosy bowers," appeared to our first parents.

Yours truly,
A. B. CARLTON,
Chairman Utah Commission.

TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

Evarts Again Lengthens His Speech Over Two Hours Against the Fisheries Bill.

Blair Calls the President an Obstinate, Pig-headed Executive. Morgan Defends Cleveland's Policy.

Resolutions Pass Both Houses for Adjournment Friday, out of Respect for Sheridan.

By Telegraph to the NEWS.]

FIFTIETH CONGRESS.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—Evarts in his speech today, devoted a good deal of his argument to the question of bays and headlands, and after he had spoken for two hours yielded the floor temporarily to allow Hawley to introduce a concurrent resolution that the members of both houses shall attend the funeral of General Sheridan on Saturday next at 10 a m., and that as a further mark of respect to the memory of the deceased, the two houses, when they adjourn Friday, should adjourn to meet on Monday next.

The resolution was agreed to and Evarts resumed his argument against the fisheries treaty. When Evarts ceased speaking a discussion arose on President Grant's message to the Senate on the proposed treaty on the same subject. Morgan declared President Grant had on that occasion given counsel in favor of the true and wise policy and now spoke from his grave better than any Senator had done in the discussion.

Morgan said the object of destroying the treaty at once was nothing more nor less than political and was connected with the presidential election. Under such circumstances it behooved the senators to look carefully around them. One of the senators from Massachusetts had pronounced him (Morgan) silly because he had alluded to the fact that war might grow out of the question. He might be silly, but he had seen enough of war to be afraid of it; perhaps the senator from Massachusetts had not.

Hoar disclaimed having spoken of the senator from Missouri as silly. What he said was if he had not so much respect for that senator he would pronounce the suggestion that might grow out of insisting on the rights of American fishermen, as supremely silly.

Morgan said the democratic party had in it the backbone of a new Jackson; that it was not going to make a foolish quarrel, but if the quarrel came it would stand by the country, right or wrong. When this negotiation would fail them, the democratic party (through the President) meant that the retaliation act which then and not before then would become mandatory, would be obeyed; and when it was expected that that law was to be obeyed there came a howl from the fishery association because the President would not pledge himself in advance to limit the retaliations to the fishery business.

Blair, whose Union negotiation resolution had been alluded to by Morgan, declared sarcastically that if there was to be no war with England or Canada, until the discussion on the treaty ended, war would be postponed until the destruction of the world by fire or until a deluge came again. He defended his resolution and declared that without such a union as it proposed it was impossible for the two nations to go along in peace. He did not know of any republican who talked about war in connection with the rejection of the treaty. The resources of diplomacy were all open and had not been exhausted. A recalcitrant, obstinate and pig-headed executive was not going to incur the responsibility of inflicting on the American people needless injury, mercantile distress and destruction of business unnecessarily and simply because he had the power. If Congress confided to him discretion in the direction of retaliation so far as was necessary to regulate and vindicate an injury that might be done to American rights, simply in the matter of fisheries, when it was intimated to the Senate that the President was going further and would destroy the industrial fabric of the United States simply because he and his party were in power, it appeared to him (Blair) that the whole party might as well be banished from the country as being too ignorant, too foolish, or too unpatriotic to exist properly under the protection of American laws. The Senate would undoubtedly reject the treaty, and ought to be permitted to reject it without so much talk. The senator from Alabama would prevent war by his everlasting speeches. As to his own resolution, it meant a basis for action might be found under which the northern boundary of the United States would be coterminous with the North Pole.

CONNIVING BRITISH INTERESTS.

Hale criticised Morgan's position and that of the democratic party on the treaty as being in the interest of free trade. The treaty was a proposition to remove the duties on fish caught by British fishermen to be brought into American ports in competition with American interests and industries.

Morgan denied he had made any statement as to his desire or expectation to repeal the duty on salt fish, nor had he intimated that in the consideration of the tariff bill soon to be entered on, he or any Senator on his side proposed to make such a motion. Proceeding to pay his compliments to Blair, Morgan said: "The Senator from New Hampshire did not know what he was talking about, and his party was not responsible for what he said. Mr. Cleveland was not pig-headed and was not a fool. He had been wise enough to beat the republican party every time he came in contact with it, and he was going to do it again so easily that the republicans would not know how it happened. Mr. Cleveland was the most trusted representative of American character that stood on the continent, and the people knew it and would retain him.

Blair retorted he had no wish to qualify his expression. He did not interfere with the senator's adoration. That senator was at liberty to worship any fetish he chose and would naturally select such a god.

After some further interchange of like compliments by the two senators the day's discussion came to a close and the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—Morrow, of California, asked unanimous consent for the present consideration of the Senate bill to carry into effect the provisions of the treaty between the United States and China. The bill, he said, passed the Senate unanimously and a similar measure received the unanimous approval of the House committee on foreign affairs. It was exceedingly important this bill should be considered at once and become a law as soon as possible. The United States had entered into negotiations with China and the treaty had been ratified by the Senate. It was now awaiting ratification by China and would go into effect immediately upon its ratification. It was incumbent upon Congress to provide the machinery to carry out the treaty in order that there should be no hiatus between the present treaty and the law. It was a most important measure to the people of the Pacific Coast and so he asked Congress to relieve them from the difficulties they were now encountering.

Breckinridge of Arkansas thought Morrow would act more wisely not to spring the bill upon the House suddenly but allow some date to be fixed for its consideration.

Morrow insisted upon his request for immediate consideration, and Springer of Illinois declared some future day should be fixed for its discussion.

The measure was referred to the committee on foreign affairs.

On motion of McMillan of Tennessee the committee was granted leave to report the bill back at any time.

A message from the Senate announced the passing by that body of the concurrent resolution declaring that the members of both Houses will attend the funeral of Gen. Sheridan Saturday next and that as a mark of respect to the memory of the deceased the two Houses adjourn Friday to meet Monday next.

The resolution was concurred in.

The House then went into committee of the whole on the deficiency appropriation bill.

The discussion of the French spoliation claims was resumed and continued some time without action. The committee rose and the House soon adjourned.

Ask For Ayer's

Sarsaparilla, and be sure you get it, when you want the best blood-purifier.

With its forty years of unexampled success in the cure of Blood Diseases, you can make no mistake in preferring Ayer's to any other. The fore-runner of modern blood medicines, Ayer's Sarsaparilla is still the most popular, being in greater demand than all others combined.

Sarsaparilla

"Ayer's Sarsaparilla is selling faster than ever before. I never hesitate to recommend it."—George W. Whitman, Druggist, Albany, Ind.

"I am safe in saying that my sales of Ayer's Sarsaparilla far excel those of any other, and it gives thorough satisfaction."—L. H. Bush, Des Moines, Iowa.

"Ayer's Sarsaparilla and Ayer's Pills are the best selling medicines in my store. I can recommend them conscientiously."—C. Bickhaus, Pharmacist, Roseland, Ill.

"We have sold Ayer's Sarsaparilla here for over thirty years and always recommend it when asked to name the best blood-purifier."—W. T. McLean, Druggist, Augusta, Ohio.

"I have sold your medicines for the last seventeen years, and always keep them in stock, as they are staples. 'There is nothing so good for the youthful blood' as Ayer's Sarsaparilla."—R. L. Parker, Fox Lake, Wis.

"Ayer's Sarsaparilla gives the best satisfaction of any medicine I have in stock. I recommend it, or, as the Doctors say, 'I prescribe it over the counter.' It never fails to meet the cases for which I recommend it, even where the doctors' prescriptions have been of no avail."—C. F. Calhoun, Monmouth, Kansas.
