The School Ouestion in Idaho.

The School Question in Idaho.—An Idaho "Mormon," writing from Bingham Co., says:
"During the past week there has been a general discharge of all 'Mormon' school teachers by the superintendent of schools of the varions counties, on the ground that they teach crime to be right. Now the allegation is as false as it is possible for anything to be; but redress, I expect, is a thing of the past, as justice for 'Mormons' is out of the question here as in other places. Some of the districts have asked for a renewal of their teachers' certificates, to continue their schools, but the result is not known yet."

certificates, to continue their schools, but the result is not known yet.

"I expect that private schools will take the place of public schools in most of the districts in Blugham, Oncida and Bear Lake counties, as certified teachers such as the 'Mormon' people will employ will be scarce.

"Well, I believe the most of us are prepared for almost anything, that our

"Well, I belleve the most of us are prepared for almost anything, that our enemies can impose. It will cause some districts to close school for a while, but they will start up again in a private way. This place (District No. 3, Bingham Co.) I expect will commence a private school next week. Our teacher, Miss Della Merrill, an estimable young lady of Springfield, Utah, has had our school in charge the past year, and will continue to teach."

Springfield, Utah, has had our school in charge the past year, and will continue to teach."

Home Again.—We were pleased this morning to greet Mr. Fred Clawson, son of Bishop Clawson, who returns a last evening from New York. On the 17th of September last, Fred left this city to enter the New York College of Dentistry, there to study and practice for his chosen profession. After having gone through the winter course, he successfully passed all examinations, and just before leaving was complimented by one of the professors upon the satisfactory result of his labors. He is now a member of the senior class, which meets again in October next, the summer being spent in practical work, for Mr. Clawson will remain in this city, where he has already had considerable experience.

It affords us considerable gratification to note the success which attends the efforts of Utah boys in their studies, and the eminently satisfactory manner in which they pass their examinations in college. The success which has attended them is a high compliment to their intelligence and studious and careful habits, and we confratulate. Mr. Clawson upon having his name added to the roll of honor. The course of study through which students have to pass in the New York college is one which requires earness, intelligent application, and is most therough and practical. We will mention one sample of the work done by Mr. Clawson: A lady had had her palate destroyed by an abscess to such an extent that she could not articulate a single word distinctly, nor could she cat or drink without great difficulty, all liquid forcing itself into her nostriis when an attempt was made to swallow. This lady was given into the care of Mr. Clawson, who succeeded in making a compound cleft palate, and in so treating the affected parts that the patient was made quite comfortable and could speak plainly. The course of instruction at the college is not confined to plain dentistry, but embraces a thorough medical and surgical training, and the student who aims at success ing, and the student who aims at success has no time to spend in idleness or play. Mr. Clawson will return next fall to finish his studied but will doubtless graduate with additional honors at the close of the term.
