PRICE OF GOLD. Corrected daily by Direct National Bank, Salt Lake City, July 7, 1876. Buying at $1.10; selling at $1.12.

Local and Other Matters. THERMOMETER 67 degrees F. In the shade at 1 p. m. today. Breezy, cloudy, showery.

Under Difficulties.—The Bozeman (Montana) Avant Courier papers can sympathize.

Storm.—A rather heavy but very limited shower of rain, also a few claps of thunder and brilliant flashes of lightning, last night.

An Agreeable Change.—The thermometer is thirty degrees lower (64) in the shade to-day than yesterday. What do you think of that?

Gone East.—Mr. C. R. Savage left yesterday morning for a trip along the Union Pacific railroad, to Omaha. He will probably be gone about three weeks, during which time he will greatly increase his already extensive stock of fine photographic views of Western scenery.

Information Wanted.—Lydia Coggie, of Fairland street, Wyndham, Norfolk, England, wishes to know of the whereabouts of her son, John Watson Coggie, who formerly travelled in the Southampton and Derbyshire Conferences in the year 1853 or 1854. It is supposed that he migrated to Utah.—Millennial Star.

Trying Weather.—Yesterday was a miserable sort of a day, very hot, blustering, dusty, with a parching, withering south wind, that made everybody feel uncomfortable and even distressed. The thunder, lightning, clouds, and few droppings of rain in the night were a relief, and the showers of to-day were much more so.

Information Wanted.—The parents of Samuel Spencer, who emigrated from Mansfield, Nottinghamshire, England, on the steamship Wyoming, September, 1874, anxious for him to communicate with them, or to hear something concerning him from parties knowing his whereabouts. Address, Henry Spencer, Brantford, Lang, Mansfield, Nottinghamshire, England.

Missionary Labors.—We have perused a letter from Elder James A. Little to Elder Joseph E. Taylor, dated at Council Bluffs, June 21st. The day previous to that he had seen fourteen persons leave for Utah, to make it their home, and the Sunday before he baptized five persons into the Church. He had heard of a family at Sioux City, who were waiting for an Elder to go to that place and baptize them. Five persons had also been recently added to the Church at Boomer. Elder Joseph G. Young was with Elder Little at date of writing, and was a great help to him in the ministry.

A Glance at the Fair.—We do not know where an hour or two can be more profitably or pleasantly spent now-a-days than in taking a glance through the Ladies' Centennial Fair. Unless a person pays more than one visit, it is merely a glimpse that can be obtained, the articles displayed being far too numerous to be examined in detail without the spending of considerable time. About the best way to take a look through is to begin at the show cases, in the north-east corner, and go around. You will first stop a while to admire the beautiful needlework, which must, as the generality of writers have it, be seen to be appreciated, which is a good way of getting out of a more extended description, the giving of which would be being masculine, precludes the possibility.

The straw goods, including trimmings, are a feature that cannot be overlooked. These goods are not only generally ornamental and positively handsome, but are also positively useful, and our preference would be to see a handsome lady decked off in one of those rather than in the expensive and taste headliner imported from the East and too generally in vogue.

As you pass along to the west do not neglect to take a look at that antiquated picture, which, if it could speak, could tell tales that happened before the first Centennial, being a hundred and thirty years old; and don't miss that fine cabinet of curiosities from the Desert Museum.

The weather being hot, it is not the season for knitted woolen goods, yet you cannot afford to pass that excellent collection of articles in that line, in various styles and colors, mostly the handiwork of Mrs. C. J. Thomas.

The admiring glance is next attracted by some artificial flowers, worked with great taste, in color and arrangement, in wool, standing among which is also a specimen of flowers composed of tarlatan, of most delicate color and workmanship, by Mrs. M. A. Rockwood.

Here is a very good suit of gentleman's clothing, of Utah cloth, made up at the Ladies' Tailoring Establishment of the 14th Ward, of which any person so desiring can become the happy possessor for the consideration of $20.

Brother Morris B. Young has accumulated a most excellent collection of valuable curiosities, and one of his cabinets here displayed is well worthy of examination.

The samples of home manufactured cloth on exhibition, from President Young's Woolen Mills, speak for themselves. They are not only good in point of appearance, but super-excellent in the matter of durability, which is almost self-evident to the judge of that class of goods, and easy of demonstration by anybody who will purchase and undertake to wear out a suit.

But, talk of wear and tear, a piece of carpet there looks as if it would wear almost any length of time without giving out.

Further on is a display that appeals to the sense of taste as well as sight; specimens of various kinds of home-made wine of different shades of color, beautiful and clear, from a variety of kinds of fruit.

A specimen from the Green Gage plum is of most delicious flavor. These, as well as some of the best looking specimens of canned fruits, in glass jars, were produced by Mrs. Priscilla Staines; and some fine specimens of fruits from Miss E. R. Snow and Mrs. Herne.

Next come the creditable products of R. Mathews & Co., the members of the firm being Matthews, Barfoot and Barrell. The articles consist of essence of ginger, writing fluid, hair wash, bath sand tablets, Desert toilet soap, and scouring soap, all of excellent manufacture.

Our native modesty, which is considerable, prevents our dwelling long and elaborately on specimens of home manufactured goods, such as, from the DESERT NEWS office. The practice of manipulating and blowing one's own horn having become far too common to be even moderately indulged in by us, we pass on.

Here is a humble specimen, but don't despise it; it is a veritable bunch of clothes-peg. We always looked upon the importation of the simple article of clothes-peg, to Utah as being absurd on its face, and saving much of our laziness or absolute indifference.

Here are some rugs, wonderful rugs, and quite beautiful; the great wonder being how anybody could work such artistic designs in such fine colors from rags, positively from rags. One, with a bee live in the center, the figures of the opening and closing years of the Centennial and ornamental work, is specially worthy of note. It was manipulated by the skillful fingers of Mrs. Julia Ivins.

Specimens of dressed sheepskin by R. Morris, are very creditable. This represents a useful branch of industry.

A woven woolen bedspread is of considerable interest, because of its having been manufactured by Anna Williams, with an exceedingly limited amount of machinery. The maker of this article produced it from the raw material, doing even the dyeing herself, and withal it is a pretty good-looking spread. There are some very pretty sofa cushions, by Mrs. Ursenbach, and a handsomely embroidered table spread from the Young Ladies' Association of the Third Ward.

Here is a novelty, especially interesting to parties who are forced, by stern necessity, to rely upon their guns for the important purposes of mastication, on account of having had to part company with rifles, graters, &c.—a fine set of artificial teeth. Not a novelty "in and of itself," but simply because it was made by a lady dentist, Miss Barkley.

Native pure copper can be seen, in the form of a wheel, produced from ore taken from the Grand Gulch mine, near St. George.

We have scarcely been around the counters and show cases, but lack of time causes us to say adieu.

Erratum.—In our notice yesterday of the death of Elder D. W. Evans, we should have said that he spoke last about two p. m. on Wednesday, and was inseparably connected with the fair.

GLASSES AND APPOINTMENTS.—Elder Edward Shelgrove is released from the presidency of the Manchester Conference, to return home.

"Elder Wm. W. Galbraith is appointed to the presidency of the Manchester Conference.

"Elder Wm. H. Maughan is released from the presidency of the Birmingham Conference, to return home.

"Elder William J. Lewis is released from the presidency of the Welsh Conference, to return home.

"Elder Boes R. Llewellyn is released from his labors in the Welsh Conference, to return home.

"Elder Thomas C. Martell is released from his labors in the Welsh Conference, to return home.

"Elder Louis Howells is appointed to labor in the Welsh Conference, under the direction of Elder Boes R. Llewellyn.

"Elder Joseph H. Parry, now laboring in the Liverpool conference, is released to return home.

"Elder Arts D. Young is released from his labors in the Nottingham conference, to succeed Elder Ernest I. Young as chief clerk in the Liverpool office.

The Elders released to return home are expected to sail with the June 28th company.

The Australasian Mission.—Letters from the brethren now on this Mission, received by this month's mail, report them to be diligently applying themselves in disseminating the Gospel principles to the people in that land, but money-making is apparently the only thought of the latter, religion being a subject which gives them no concern whatever. They are, therefore, generally speaking, not much disposed to give ear to the message delivered by the servants of the Lord.

Views of Utah would be very acceptable to the brethren now there, should any of their relatives be disposed to forward them. Brother C. R. Savage has very kindly given quite a number for this purpose. Many of the people in that part of the globe know nothing of Utah, and those who have heard anything about it have strange and erroneous ideas in regard to it. A varied selection of views of this country would tend to give them a good idea as to its general appearance, etc.

New Paper.—The Utah County Enquirer (semi-weekly) is a new four page newspaper, published at Provo City, by Sleater and McEwan, the first number dated July 1. It is printed on good paper in a clear type, is conducted with ability, and one would think the Utah County people will milk to its support.

Eager for the Pray.—General F. E. Connor and Col. G. R. Maxwell are anxious to take the field against the Sioux, with a volunteer regiment, raised in Utah, having significant willingness to the military powers that be, to that effect.

Pocket Book.—Mrs. Adkins should call and get the pocket book she lost.

Theatre.—The Royal Illusionists concluded their series of brilliant entertainments in this city last evening.

THE CENTENNIAL FOURTH IN THE COUNTY. PROVIDENCE, July 5, 1876.

I pen you a synopsis of the manner in which our hundredth anniversary of our national independence was celebrated at this place. Nothing of the nature of a picnic or a party was given, save the occasional firing of a fire-cracker, or the still less frequent "bang" of a gun.

So soon as the celebration was given in the Hall and a gratuitous invitation kindly extended to all. The dancing commenced at a reasonable hour, until the usual number of string band. The dance part of the ball, upon this occasion, was converted into a saloon, where could be seen ice cream, strawberries, sugar and cream, etc. The ice cream compartment was under the supervision of our well known townsmen, Mr. J. W. Bissell, and our "village master," J. Henry Brown, as cashier.

The dancing and feasting were kept up until the usual number of closing our dancing recreations, after which the different games incident to such occasions were introduced, such as, checkers, and interesting both for observers and participants. Everything moved along pleasantly, and no drinkable stronger than strawberry juice were present.

Thus we spent our Centennial in Providence, which will certainly leave an impression upon the minds of those who were present, and to be remembered in the place. MARK POOL.

SPRINGVILLE, July 5, 1876. The great Centennial celebration was held in honorable, joyous remembrance and celebrated by the friends of this city, on the 4th inst., with a zeal and devotion truly characteristic of the spirit of '76.

The people's committee prepared an elaborate programme of proceedings, the reception of which can only be fully realized by those who were present. After the reading and admiring the lengthy and well arranged procession, as formed by the different organizations, the ubiquitous Marshal of the day—Bro. J. W. Bissell, presenting, as it were, the various local organizations, and also numerous local organizations.

After its formation the procession marched in line around a portion of the public square, thence to the meeting-house, where the "Centennial" was read, and an opening hymn by the choir. After the Declaration of Independence, a most grand and stirring oration by the orator of the day, Prof. C. D. Evans, and the reading of the history of this our peaceful and progressive Republic, as narrated by Col. Wm. M. Bromley, toasts, original poems, etc., centennial and national airs, concluding the proceedings for the day.

A free party was given to all the South end of the city in the afternoon, and in the evening a fine display of fireworks, under the supervision of Bro. J. S. Wood, illumined the scene, and the evening, much to the amusement of the vast crowds who had assembled outside to witness the same.

Much credit is due the committee and Marshal for the able manner in which the proceedings were conducted. Very truly yours, F. C. BOYER.

SANTAQUIN. SANTAQUIN, July 5th, 1876. At daybreak we manifested our loyalty by hoisting the national flag, and in the afternoon, a band of artillery and musketry, by the "boys that are true."

At sunrise all animation seemed to be at hand, and the band, by the discharge of musketry, and the shouts and merry peals of our faithful though martial boys.

Elder Thomas C. Martell and the young men were called together by the deafening roar of artillery and musketry, and the musical peals of our faithful though martial boys.

At 10 o'clock, the officers being seated under that magnificent and soul-inspiring bowery of nature, were called to order by the marshal.

After a song by the choir, under the able direction of Bro. Thomas Broadbent and T. B. Heelis, the officers were called to order by the marshal.

Bro. J. C. Stokney was heard in praise and thanksgiving to our God for his manifold mercies, his protection, his promises and deliverance. After singing by the choir, the Declaration of Independence was read by Bro. Saml. Openhaw, an excellent success by Bro. D. S. Andrew, speech by Bro. W. Chatwin, songs, glees, music by the string band under the direction of Bro. J. C. Stokney, etc., were interspersed with the exercises of the celebration. These were followed by a speech by the venerable Bishop, Geo. H. Hilditch, whose remarks were cheering, appropriate and well timed. Next an appropriate piece sung by the choir, and prayer by the chaplain.

Then commenced the most joyful and interesting part of the day, in which everybody was heartily invited to partake of each other's zeal and hospitality.

The next thing was outdoor sports under the shade, and all voluntarily became boys and girls together. I cannot describe the joyfulness of the occasion, only by saying that each laughing mouth extended to the council, and one officer, or member of the Fire Department, or other person having charge of one or more of said wrenches, who shall permit the same to be taken from their place of deposit, or to be used for any other purpose, shall be liable to a fine of not exceeding fifty dollars for each offense.
