EVENING NEWS.

Tuesday. April 3, 1888.

FRAGMENTS.

SHOWERY weather is predicted at the Signal Service Bureau.

"SHE" will be played at the Theatre tonight and tomorrow night.

THE Tabernacle choir are requested to meet tomorrow evening at 7:30 for practice.

JAMES HARPER was assessed $5 in the Police Court this morning for getting drunk.

LOUIS CADWELL was yesterday sentenced to 30 days' imprisonment for vagrancy.

HENRY SANBORN, for being drunk and profane, was fined $7.50 today by Justice Pyper.

THE "Willow Copse" is the attraction at the Opera House on Friday and Saturday evenings.

PROF. YOUNGER will give an exhibition at his dancing school in the Opera House this evening.

G. F. CULMER was arrested last evening, charged with having assaulted A. Young. The case was set for trial on the 16th inst.

LUTHER CORBIN was tried in the Police Court today for having assaulted a man named Woods. He was proven guilty, but as the offense was not an aggravated one, he was let off with a fine of $7.50.

THE finder of a large pocketbook, answering the description of the one described in an advertisement elsewhere in this issue, should return it to Commissioner A. L. Thomas and be rewarded.

THE funeral of Joseph W. Pierce, whose death from old age was announced in the NEWS yesterday, will take place tomorrow at 2 p. m. in the Tenth Ward meeting-house. Friends invited.

ISABELLA ADAMSON, of Pleasant Grove, who was held in the penitentiary for refusing to testify against her husband, was released yesterday, upon deciding to answer the questions asked her by the prosecuting attorney.

THE Yuba Mining and Reduction Company, The Salt Lake City Improvement Company and The Little-Roundy Company filed their articles of incorporation yesterday, the first two with Clerk McMillan, of the Third District Court, and the last with the clerk of the Probate Court.

THE infant child of Anna E. Brown of Utah County, who is imprisoned in the penitentiary because she will not tell the name of the child's father, is dangerously ill with the measles. Efforts to have them liberated so that the babe will have a better opportunity to recover have failed.

THE Utah Agriculturist for April has a fine engraving of "Lord Barton," the Cleveland Bay stallion imported last year by Col. J. R. Winder. It also contains a large and varied quantity of matter of interest and value to farmers. Published by the Utah Agriculturist Company, Salt Lake City, at $1 per year.

THE Home Dramatic Club commence their conference season at the Theatre Thursday night, with their first performance of Boucicault's famous "Shaughraun." The advent of the popular club into the Kenian order of drama will be watched with interest. "After Dark" will be given Friday evening; the "Shaughraun" will be repeated Saturday, and the season will conclude Monday next with the immensely popular Fifth Avenue comedy, "Confusion." The sale of tickets for the season commences tomorrow morning.

Two young men, John Ransome and Isaac Ferguson, were arrested last evening on a serious charge. They have been working at grading near Lindsey's Gardens, and sleep in a bowery on the premises. They were accused of being associated in the commission of a vile offense on a nine-year old girl named Jones. Today, however, a different story was told by the girl's friends, to the effect that several children, from 7 to 12 years of age, are in the habit of playing about the bowery referred to. Yesterday afternoon four little girls were there, and one of them was enraged in putting a block of wood in the boys' bed, to "April fool" them. The boys came in at that time, and one of them caught the little girl and kissed her. From this it is said the whole story arose. The accused had a hearing before Justice Pyper this afternoon, on the charges preferred against them, and were discharged.

Immigrant Fares.

The fares for this season's immigration will be as follows:

From Liverpool to Ogden, Salt Lake City, Provo and Spanish Fork and intermediate points, $55.00.

Children under 12 years and over 5 years of age, half fare.

The first company will leave Liverpool about the middle of May.

Representatives from Utah.

The Washington Post of the 25th ult. contains a list of the members of the Woman's Council which has just been holding a session at Washington. Among the names appear those of the following Utah ladies: Mrs. N. S. Richards, representing the Relief Society; Mrs. L. D. S. Young, the Primaries; and Mrs. Nettie Y. Snell, the Y. L. M. I. A.

Peoa.

"A Subscriber" writing from Peoa, Summit County, says that farmers there are about to begin work. There has been considerable sickness among the children of late, and J. W. Neel and G. J. Marchant have each lost one recently. A large amount of timber has been cut along the Weber for mining purposes, which is to be floated down the river, and it is feared that damage to farms will be done thereby. The Peoa co-operative store has gone into the hands of "ex-Mormons." The district school is in good running order, as also is the Sunday school. The people of Summit County have leased large tracts of land from the Union Pacific Railroad Co. for range purposes.

Testimonial to Prof. Careless.

Last evening Zion's Choral Union held a regular practice in the Assembly Hall Just before the time for adjournment, Thomas C. Hull arose and made a neat address expressive of the desire which members of the Union entertained, to extend to Prof. Careless tangible evidence of their appreciation of his labors in the interest of the organization, as its vice-president and chief conductor. He finished by presenting to Prof. Careless a purse of $100. The latter made a brief reply, expressive of his gratitude for the gift, and the kindly sentiments which prompted it. President Angus M. Cannon, who was present, made a few appropriate remarks, when the meeting was dismissed.

AN APPEAL TAKEN.

The Sheets Case Will Go Before the U. S. Supreme Court.

Last evening at about 5 o'clock, another step was taken in the case of M. M. Sheets, who refused to testify in the suit against the Church. After waiting till Mr. Sheets was taken to prison, Messrs. Sheeks & Rawlins, his attorneys, prepared an application for a writ of habeas corpus, which Mr. Sheeks presented to the Territorial Supreme Court. It reads as follows:

To the Honorable Supreme Court of the Territory:

The petition of Moroni M. Sheets respectfully shows:

That he is unlawfully imprisoned, detained, confined and restrained of his liberty by Frank H. Dyer, at the Utah Penitentiary, at the County of Salt Lake, in the Territory of Utah.

That the said imprisonment, detention, confinement and restraint

ARE ILLEGAL

and that the illegality thereof consists in this, to wit: That the said Supreme Court of the Territory of Utah, in a case pending therein, wherein the United States of America is plaintiff and the late corporation of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day and others defendants, did on the second day of April, 1888, make an order requiring your petitioner to answer as a witness certain questions then and there propounded to him, upon the application of the receiver in said case for a writ of assistance, which order your petitioner refused to obey; whereupon said court adjudged your petitioner guilty of contempt of court for refusing to answer said questions and made an order that your petitioner stand committed as for contempt of said court until he should answer said questions—and your petitioner shows that he is informed, advised and believes; that the said order of said court was and is without authority of law in this, that the act of Congress pretending to give the said court jurisdiction, to hear and determine the matters involved and being litigated in the said action, is

UNCONSTITUTIONAL AND VOID,

and that the said court has no authority in law to compel your petitioner to give testimony in said cause. Copies of the complaint, demurrer and answer, of the order appointing a receiver in said cause, and of the interrogatories propounded to your petitioner, and of the petit on for a writ of assistance and the answer thereto, and also of the warrant of commitment, by virtue of which your petitioner is now imprisoned are hereto attached, marked exhibits 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6 and 7, and made part hereof.

Wherefore, your petitioner prays that a writ of habeas corpus may be granted to the said Frank H. Dyer, commanding him to have your petitioner before this honorable court, at a time and place therein specified, to do and receive what shall then and there be considered by this honorable court concerning him together with the time and cause of his detention and said writ, that he may be restored to liberty. M. M. SHEETS.

As was anticipated, the court promptly refused the application, and the bond on appeal to the United States Supreme Court was fixed and given. The matter will be brought up as early as possible and will bring squarely before the highest tribunal in the land the question of the constitutionality of the act which authorizes the prosecution against the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, by the government, and the seizure of Church property.

Death of H. W. Egan.

Hiram W. Egan, well favorably known in the vicinity of Oakley and Little Basin, died in Albion at 5 o'clock last Saturday evening of what has been termed perforation of the bowels. He had been ailing for a short time past from the effects of injuries received several years ago by lifting, and came to Albion last Friday evening to try the Chinese doctor. China Charley prescribed for him Friday evening but he grew worse on the following day and sent for Dr. Richardson. Dr. Richardson arrived at his bedside at the Montgomery lodging house, just as he was gasping his last breath. The coroner's attention was called to the case, and, after examination and inquiry, decided that an inquest was unnecessary. Mrs. Egan, wife of the deceased, who resides at Little Basin, was notified of his death and hastened over. She arrived here Sunday morning and conveyed the remains to Little Basin for burial. The deceased leaves a wife and four children. He came to this county from Utah, where he has a number of relatives, and located near Oakley in 1880. He has many friends throughout the county and Utah who will be pained to learn of his untimely death. Although there was no inquest held the doctors agree that death was caused by the bursting of ulcers on the bowels, caused by riding on horseback. Deceased was in his 37th year.—Cassia County (Idaho) Times.

New Timber Suit.

The government has brought suit against the Union Pacific Railroad and the Big Hole Lumber Company for cutting ties on government land. The lumber company is composed of W. A. Clarke, S. Ross Clarke, S. A. Estes and F. R. Miles, and the amount which is sued for is $42,500. The timber is charged to have been cut between July 1st, 1886, and January 1st, 1887, on lands adjacent to the Big Hole River, and amounted to 90,000 railroad ties, as charged in the complaint. It is understood that the railroad company had a permit from the government to cut ties for its road off government land, and it was under this permit that the lumber company was working, which would seem to be an effective defense to the action. It is also reported that the Hume Company at Divide has also been sued for cutting and furnishing ties to the Union Pacific, which road, as in the other case, is made a party to the suit.—Butte Miner, March 28.

Suing for Damages.

Today, in the Third District Court, a suit for damages was tried before a jury. The plaintiff is F. Ephraim, of San Francisco, and the defendant is the Union Pacific Railway Company. In June, 1886, Mr. Ephraim was a commercial traveler, and disposed of wines for his own account and cigars for a San Francisco firm. On the 2d of June, in the year named, he purchased a ticket at the Union Pacific office in Omaha, paying $60 therefore. It was from Omaha to Portland, Oregon, and limited to 30 days. He had explained to the ticket agent that he wanted stopover privileges en route, and permission to ride on all trains, in order to meet his business appointments and canvass at the various towns along the line. This was given, and he started out. At Carbon, Wyoming, on the 7th of June, he left the passenger train and after spending some hours in business in the place, boarded the next train, riding in the caboose. He had asked the ticket agent whether it was necessary to get a special permit, and was answered in the negative. On the train, however, the conductor told him he could not honor the ticket. Mr Ephraim insisted that he must. The conductor telegraphed to the U. P. officials for instructions in the premises and the result was that Mr. Ephraim was put off at Edson station, about noon on the 7th. Here he was compelled to remain until 2 a. m. next day, and as there was no hotel or accommodation of any kind at the station, the wait was rather monotonous. He subsequently laid the matter before the railway officials who promised to settle it, but did no more. For thus being ejected from the train, and the consequent inconvenience and delay, he commenced a suit for $2,000 damages. The defense claim that the train from which he was ejected was not carrying passengers, and that therefore the railway was authorized to put and keep him off.

SUNDAY SCHOOL UNION.

Discussing Sabbath School Work and Methods.

The monthly meeting of the Sunday School officers and teachers of this Stake was held in the Social Hall, Monday evening, April 2nd, Superintendent J. C. Cutler presiding. Nearly all the city and a few of the country schools were represented.

The opening and closing singing exercises were given by the Eleventh Ward School choir. The opening prayer was offered by Superintendent Wm. Naylor.

Minutes of previous meeting read and approved.

Superintendent Willard Done, of the Eleventh Ward School, delivered an address of much interest upon the duties of Sunday School superintendents and teachers. Among the first essentials to success in Sabbath School work are punctuality in the officers and teachers and thorough preparation and interest in the work. To maintain order and to keep the attention of the children, interesting lessons should be taught; lessons from sacred history, stories of the lives and character of noted men and women of the Scriptures, could be related with very good effect. In the conducting of their schools superintendents are sometimes too distant, and not familiar enough with the classes over which they preside.

A MUCH BETTER FEELING

would exist in the school, and much more good would be accomplished, if the superintendent visited among the classes and encouraged the teachers in their labors.

Sister Drucie Hedger, of the Eleventh Ward School, conducted a very interesting class exercise with a few little girls, who related the story of our first parents in a very pleasing manner, and also sang a couple of children's songs.

The Secretary read a letter from Assistant Superintendent R. S. Horne containing many valuable suggestions, and words of encouragement to all Sunday school workers.

The congregation, led by Brother Thomas McIntyre, sang "Let Love Abound," from the Union Tune Book.

Superintendent T. C. Griggs, of the Fifteenth Ward school, made a few remarks relating to the many principles of life and salvation that were lost to the world but which had been revealed in our day. With the given us the speaker thought that the Latter-day Saint teacher had a much better opportunity to inculcate the principles of the Gospel in the minds of the young, as they had greater facilities for corroborating the great truths of Scripture.

The choir sang an anthem.

Benediction was offered by Assistant General Superintendent George Goddard.

The Twelfth Ward Sunday School will furnish the opening and closing exercises and part of the programme at the May meeting. The congregational pieces to be sung are, "Utah, the Queen of the West" and "The Lord's Prayer," from the Union Tune Book.

Fatal Accident.

A very sad accident occurred at about 1 o'clock this afternoon at the residence of Chas. S. Warren on the corner of Montana and Quartz streets. Willie Jack, son of Hon. William M. Jack, and Wesley Warren, son of Chas. S. Warren, were playing by themselves in an up stairs room. Both are about 12 years of age. Mr. and Mrs. Warren were both away from home at the time, the only person in the house besides the children being Mr. Birdseye, who was sitting down stairs. He heard a shot and somebody fall upon the floor. On investigation it was found that Willie Jack had been shot through the head, the bullet entering at the back of the head, passing through it, and coming out at the forehead, but lodging under the skin. Wesley was at first so terrified by the accident that nothing coherent could be gained from him as to the true circumstances of the sad affair, but when his father and mother came home they quieted him sufficiently to learn the facts. It appears the boys each had a pistol and were talking of trading. Willie took Wesley's pistol and tried to remove the chamber which contains the cartridges, but being unable to do so handed it back to Wesley, who proceeded to show him how it was done. While attempting to do so, however, the pistol was discharged and the bullet struck Willie in the manner above related. What makes the accident more sad is the fact that neither he nor Mrs. Jack are in Butte, having been in California for several weeks. They are on their way home, however, and are supposed to have left Portland this morning. They will be home tomorrow. A special train will await their arrival at Garrison so that there will be no delay. The wounded boy lived but a few hours.—Butte Inter-Mountain, March 29.

The Art Reception.

The sewing machine headquarters of the Young Brothers Company, at No. 38 Main Street, are being thronged with visitors, attracted there by the fine display of artistic needlework done on the "Domestic" sewing machine. The various samples, as having been done with needle and thread, seem to be marvelous in the skill displayed in their execution. The specimens consist of different classes of work in ornamentation, landscapes, animals, etc. One specimen, on silk, showing a stalk of corn to which the half-stripped ears are suspended, is very beautiful. Other pieces (display flowers, vines, etc., the desired effect being produced through a variety of different colored threads. A winter scene, a forest picture, etchings of dogs, horses, birds, etc., go to make up the display, which the ladies should not fail to examine. Mrs. Nichols, the lady who did the work, is in attendance, to give any desired explanations. As an additional attraction, a $75 white oak "Domestic" is to be given away to the lady who makes the nearest guess as to the number of beans in a two-gallon jar, which stands near the door almost filled with Lima beans. The exhibition will remain open daily until Saturday evening.

IN FRIGHTFUL PERIL.

Fearful Adventure of a Montana Miner.

The Butte Inter-Mountain of the 28th ult., has the following communicated article:

"I notice that your paper spoke yesterday of a narrow escape by one of our young miners in getting away from a blast of giant that was about to explode," said a mining man to a reporter this morning. "That was a pretty close call, but it was nothing to the experience of one of our young men on the hill recently. I won't tell you his name, because he doesn't like to see it in the papers, but these are the circumstances: He is a fine miner, and his company had just bought a mine that had been closed down for several years. The hoisting works were burned about four years ago and part of the timbers in the main shaft suffered a like fate. The shaft was 400 or 500 feet deep and the company wanted him to go down and find out what shape things were in below. The ladders near the top of the shaft were all burned out and there were no hoisting appliances, so the only thing left for him was to go down a rope until he came to a place where the ladders were not burned. So he fastened a rope above, dropped it into the shaft and started down to explore a mine which had not been visited by anybody since the fire. About fifty fifty feet down he came to the topmost ladder and swung himself over against it. It seemed firm and sound, so he transferred his weight from the rope to it. Understand there was about 450 feet of open shaft beneath him, and that he was in a place as dark as the inside of an elephant. Well, as I said, he transferred his weight from the rope to the ladder. He still grasped the rope with his left hand, however, and it was lucky for him that he did, for the ladder proved to be partially burned and it broke loose from the timbers and went rattling down that dark four or five hundred feet of shaft. He did not have a very tight grip on the rope, and before he could recover himself he slid clear to the end of the rope and would have followed the ladder down the shaft had it not been that the rope had a knot on the end of it, which kept his grip from sliding off it entirely. Then he had sixty feet of rope to climb, hand over hand, to the surface. This, in itself, was difficult enough, but in addition he was almost paralyzed by his peril, and was taken with a frightful chill, which almost shook him off the rope as he climbed. However, to make a long story short, he reached the surface in safety after a superhuman effort, but it took him several days to recover. That's what I call a narrow escape.

Raid at American Fork.

Deputy Marshals raided American Fork at 2 o'clock this morning and arrested John Durrant, who some months since served a term in the Penitentiary for a similar offense to that with which he is now charged—living with his wives. He was taken to Provo to appear before a commissioner, and some members of his family were subpœnaed to appear before the same functionary today. Several other houses in American Fork were visited by the deputies but no one who was wanted was found.

Indians Lynched.

Advices from Ashley, Montana, of March 31st, say: At a camp some distance north of here, on the 13th inst., two Indians were arrested and placed in charge of a deputy sheriff. During the deputy's absence they were taken from his guard by a party of fifty citizens and lynched. They were charged with helping to murder three prospectors on Wolf Creek last June. Trouble is now feared with others of the same band, and the residents of the country are much excited.

Sufferers from Coughs, Sore Throat, etc., should try "Brown's Bronchial Troches," a simple but sure remedy. Sold only in boxes. Price 25 cts.

OPEN EVERY DAY.

YOU ARE CORDIALLY INVITED to attend an ART RECEPTION, given to afford an opportunity to examine an EXHIBITION OF "DOMESTIC" DECORATIVE ART NEEDLEWORK, unsurpassed for beauty and variety; rich in color and design; novel in style and in arrangement of details, and unequaled in skilful and elaborate execution.
