Game Today Between Salt Lake
And Ogden High School.

SOLDIERS BEAT THE AGGIES

Result of Game Played at Logan Yesterday Was a Surprise to Knowing Ones in Football.

In a game full of wrangling between players and officials, and which was still in progress when darkness covered the scene of strife, the soldiers from Fort Douglas again beat the Logan Aggies yesterday by a score of 19 to 5. The contest was anything but satisfactory and had to be called before the second half was completed. A great deal of time was taken out and Referee Hill and Umpires Carr and Hill, after one ordering the game to proceed and the other calling time. At times the Aggies seemed to have the better of the bargain and tore up the soldiers' line with apparent ease, but they lost the ball at critical times on fumbles. The scoring was all done in the first half, the second being taken up with wrangling. There was some good individual work on both sides, but as to team work, there was none displayed by either side. The teams lined up as follows:

Logan A. C., 5.

TODAY'S FOOTBALL GAME.

Salt Lake and Ogden High School
Teams to Meet at Walker's.

The Salt Lake and Ogden High school football teams meet at Walker's field this afternoon in the first game of a series of three for the school championship and the one offered by Dr. H. S. Mayo. The Ogdenites arrived here this morning accompanied by a crowd of enthusiastic rooters. Their team is much stronger than heretofore and they hope to win in today's struggle.

The local boys are in good shape as they have been carefully trained by Coach Boyle. The teams will line up as follows:

Salt Lake.....Ogden.

BUTTE MAY COME DOWN.

Teams' Manager Writes Margretts
For Game With Guards.

Manager Ditto of the Butte High school football team has written to Manager Margretts of the Guards asking for a game. He says the team is willing to come down to Salt Lake and play the Guards on Thanksgiving or any date that is suitable. The Butte manager says that knock-out has been getting in their work on his team, but that the organization is a strong one and capable of putting up a rattling good game with the best of them. Manager Margretts says he has taken the matter under consideration and will send an answer to Ditto in the near future.

WILL MEET AGAIN.

Varsity Team Anxious to Try Conclusions With Guards.

It is quite likely that soon after Thanksgiving day the Varsity and Guards eleven will meet for the second time on the gridiron. The matter was talked over last evening and it has been practically decided to have another game between the two aggregations. Manager Usher has been very willing and anxious that his team have a chance to play the Guards again, and Manager Margretts of the latter says his boys are ready any time to accommodate the boys on the east bench.

FOOTBALL SO GENTLE.

Pig Skin Chasers Never Try to Hurt
Each Other, Oh No!

Football is such a nice, childish game when you stop to analyze it. Everybody is so gentle. They never hurt each other as they do in that brutal sport known as boxing. The other day at Mount Vernon, in New York, a boy named David Smith, stabbed one of the opposing team named Matthew Taylor for making a touchdown. Smith got the ball and made a dash for the enemy's goal. He managed to get past all his opponents except Jenkins. The latter drew a clasped fist and threatened to stab him if he tried to reach the goal. Smith kept on and Jenkins raced after him. Jenkins caught up just as Smith was about to cross the line and stabbed

FOOD CHANGES PEOPLE.

Both Adults and Babies.

Babies can eat and thrive on the same kind of food that their elders do, when that food happens to be good. "Our little baby girl had spasms," writes Mrs. Geo. B. Noble of West Union, Ia., "caused, the physician said, by improper food. He advised a diet of milk, but she did not gain in either health, weight or brightness, and we had to continually use physic. She was simply wild, hopeless and miserable over our little one. For long time I had been reading of Grape Nuts, and perhaps by inspiration I bought a package and began feeding them to her. After the first night, she used no more physic, and have never used any since. It was wonderful to see her improve. Her weight was 17½ pounds at two years, now it is 27 pounds at two years and four months. The doctor had fear for her brain, the spasms having come from her spine, but the continued use of Grape-Nuts has made her perfectly well, and there is not a brighter child in the state today than our little girl."

Everybody remarks about her beautiful complexion and her bright, sparkling eyes. We are never now without Grape-Nuts and often think of the awful period when we were in such desperate straits. If I can in any way interest others, I am more than willing to tell them all about Grape-Nuts, the latter in the chin and abdomen.

29 Out of 40 Who Accept My Offer Get Well. No Money is Wanted.

I ask only a postal card naming someone who is sick. Tell me the book to send. I ask it as an act of humanity. Write it today, and I will do all the rest.

I will even do this—I will mail the sick one an order-good at any drug store—for six bottles Dr. Shoop's Restorative. He may take it a month at his risk. If it succeeds, the cost is $5.50. If it fails, I will pay the druggist myself. And the sick one's mere word shall decide it.

Don't think that too fair to be possible, for I do just as I say. I do it to convince those who don't know me, and so that everyone who needs help will accept it.

I have learned that the cured ones are fair. I have furnished my Restorative to hundreds of thousands on just those terms, and 29 out of each 40 have paid gladly, because they were cured. I have willingly paid for the rest.

I have spent a lifetime in perfecting the remedy before I ever offered it to anyone. At thousands of bedside, in hospitals and homes, I have watched it cure the most difficult cases that physicians ever met. I learned that it does not fail, save where some cause—like cancer—makes a cure impossible.

My success comes from strengthening the inside nerves. My Restorative brings back that nerve power which alone operates every vital organ of the body. Common treatments merely doctor the organs, and the results are but temporary. My remedy restores the nerve power that makes these organs act. No other treatment does that, and there is positively no other way to make weak vital organs well.

My book will explain this. It tells about the only remedy so sure that any man dare offer it on such a plan as mine. Won't you tell me a friend who needs it?

Simply state which book is wanted and address Dr. Shoop, Box 714, Racine, Wis.

Mild cases, not chronic, are often cured by one or two bottles. Dr. Shoop's Restorative is sold by all druggists.

THE WOUNDS ARE SERIOUS, BUT NOT BELIEVED TO BE FATAL.

It's a wonder these reformers would not stop and compare the two sports, football and boxing, and then honestly give their opinion as to which is the more brutal.

Champion's Reception.

Young Corbett received a great reception at the Third Avenue theater in New York last Sunday night. Among those present was Tom Sharkey, who occupied a lower box, wearing a smile and a "dressed suit," consisting of a swallowtail coat, striped trousers and a four-in-hand tie.

At 9:10 William Crowley, manager of the Waterbury Athletic club, came on the stage and announced "Young Corbett." The gallery was instantly in an uproar and when the little champion appeared the yells of approval lasted five minutes.

"I've got to be back at 8 o'clock in the morning. I am always ready to defend my title at all times. I want to meet McGovern again. I have done all I could do, still about another match." Some one yelled: "You're all right, Corbett," and the champion smiled.

"I can't make much of a talk tonight. I'm not prepared to talk. I'm always ready to serve you. Thanking you for your reception, I wish to say I will always do my best to win."

After the entrance, during which Corbett was cheered to the echo, he bowed several times, had subsided, the performance went on.

BIG PRICE FOR LAJOIE.

Offered $35,000 to Sign with a Baseball Team.

John T. Brush did not arrive in town Tuesday, as scheduled, consequently the name of the great American league player recently signed by the New York Yankees, is still in doubt. It is known, however, that Mr. Brush was in Cleveland recently and was negotiating with LaJoie.

Mr. Watkins, manager of the Indianapolis club, who is very close to Mr. Brush, told me yesterday that he knows LaJoie was offered $10,000 in cash as a bonus to sign a two-year contract, which would make his salary $35,000 for two years.

How is that for a two or three hours' pleasurable excitement every afternoon during the summer?

Who wouldn't be a ball player instead of a bank president?

And those are the salaries being offered by the New York club. No mixed feeling about the down-trodden, diamond-backed ball player this soft cold winter. He can play pinocle all through the winter, and never finish. Thirty-five thousand dollars makes a pinocle or a 45 game look like 35 cents.

And there are other players who have a game and are in proportion, been offered salaries in proportion. Delahanty, who is at the race track every day, and who has been flirting with Manager McGraw, has been offered $5,000 in cash as a bonus to sign a two-year contract to fill out him and given his contract to fill out him and given his contract to fill out him.

Del is still flirting and playing the races on a "system."

And still, with those fabulous sums staring them, the players are holding off—which makes it apparent that the American league has some good money in its own coffers.

NICK YOUNG EXPLAINS.

Pitcher Asks Many Questions and Gets Answers.

Nick E. Young of the National Baseball league has given out the following answers to questions submitted to him by Jimmy Gardner, the Toronto pitcher:

1—When a man commences to pitch a game and is taken out when the game is a tie and the game is lost by the man taking his place, who is credited with loss of said game?

Answer—The last pitcher. A game and is taken out when the score is against his side, and so continues after the new man takes his place, who is credited with the loss.

Answer—The first pitcher.

3—When one man commences to pitch a game and is taken out while his side

He could not realize what had happened. All kinds of thoughts were going through his whirling brain. What could it all mean? Wherefore this reception for a fellow he had never seen in his life before?

"Ah, Moralah, glad to see ma fren. Me to got a big a muss, shaka again. Gresta de wrest!"

"What's this all about?" finally the big man managed to say. "I know you. No fool me, Moralah, wida de biga muss," replied the intruder.

Then it dawned upon the big gentleman that he was either in the hands of a full-fledged member of the "Mafia" or else a crazy man had designed him as his prey. Or, maybe, the fellow had mistaken him for someone else.

"My good man, I am at a loss to understand why you should be so profuse in your compliments toward me. I never saw you in my life, and if you will kindly explain yourself I will try to set you right," said the big man.

"No fool me, I know you, Moralah, ma fren," came the answer. "Well, have it your own way," said the stranger. "I simply cannot understand what this is all about. In my youth my mother forbid me to eat bananas, and under no circumstances would she ever allow me to listen to the street story of a hand organ playing those beautiful operatic selections such as 'Goo Goo Bye,' or 'I Don't Like No Cheap Man,' therefore you realize that my lessons in the Italian language were sadly neglected. So, if you'll step with me to where this fellow is roasting chestnuts (and I've told many of them in my time), in the language of the fellow, I'll try and induce him to act as interpreter."

With this both stepped to the chestnut roaster and matters were explained. The Italian had taken his new-found friend for Moralah, the wrestler, and required the efforts of the Italian consul and several members of the Spaggiari club to convince the fellow that his new-found friend was not Moralah, the "Terrible Turk." When things had been settled the big gentleman went his way and the dago the other. Then a newsboy stepped up to the crowd that had gathered in the meantime and said:

"Say, don't you blokes know who is nubs? Well, youse ought to go and chase yourselves. Dat guy is Ople Reid, he mouthpiece what springs all dem gags about de coons in de South." Then the kid turned away and was heard to say: "An' so many free schools in de country!"

Mr. Reid simply laughed and thought it one of the richest jokes that had ever happened to him. He will tell about his experience at Trinity church tomorrow night. Mr. Danke, who accompanies Ople says that in the future he must be billed as Ople "Moralah" Reid.—Denver Post.

Taken For A Turk.

Amusing Mistake Made by an Italian
In Denver.

About 6 o'clock last night, while a handsome looking man over six feet tall was slowly walking down Sixteenth street, he was suddenly grabbed by the hand and his arm shook as if it would snap off.

"Ah, Moralah, shina ma gresta wrest, biga de muss, filina de man, shake!" The big gentleman looked astonished.

Mr. W. A. Noiden left yesterday for Washington where he will attend the meeting of the National Needlework guild, of which club he is a director, and which is about to be re-organized.

CASTELLANE EXPELLED.

French Chambers Invalidate His Election.

Paris, Nov. 7.—After an exciting debate the chamber of deputies today, by 275 to 238 votes, invalidated the election of Count Boni de Castellane as a member of the house. The question came up when the committee on contested elections presented its report without recommendation, leaving the chamber to pass on the election. M. Chauvin made a bitter attack on Count de Castellane, declaring he had been guilty of irregularities, and asking that he be expelled from the chamber.

In the course of his speech, M. Chauvin declared that Count de Castellane, in order to warm the enthusiasm of his partisans, abandoned all his resources and through his agents gave unlimited credit to his agents, inns and drinking places until the district was gay with fetes and merriment during the campaign.

The count delivered his reply in vehement tones and indignantly repudiated the accusations of M. Chauvin. He declared that he had bought no votes and the integrity and honesty of his constituents. He explained further that he had helped some poor workmen's organizations, but that he had asked nothing in return.

Just before he left the chamber he turned and shouted defiantly, "Gentlemen, I will be with you again."

Littledale After Speakership.

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 7.—Congressman Charles E. Littledale of Maine stated today that he was going home to begin his fight for the speakership of the house.

CURED OF CONSTIPATION.

A Crushed Fruit Tonic-Laxative Gives Health and Strength.

It is Important That Every Sufferer From Constipation Should Immediately Take This Remedy—His Health Demands It.

"After using two bottles of Mull's Grape Tonic for constipation, I can truthfully say it is all over. My bowels now act regularly. No one should be without it. As a relief for constipation, stomach and bowel ailments it has no equal. The strength giving properties are wonderful. I would advise anyone with a run-down system to use it. May it continue to benefit others as it has me."

SUFFERED WITH RHEUMATISM FOR MANY YEARS.

ONE BOTTLE OF SWANSON'S "5-DROPS" CURED HIM

T. C. BURNETT, Nobility, Texas, writes—"I had Rheumatism for over twelve years. I could hardly walk because the pain would go to my left side near my heart and would come very near killing me. The doctor said it was Rheumatic pain and that he could never cure me but what the pain would return whenever I took cold. I sent for a bottle of your '5-DROPS' and used it according to your directions, and have never felt any of the pain since. I think it is the best remedy in the world."

CURED HIM OF R
