

PEACE and FREEDOM FROM STRIKES in the COAL CAMPS THIS CHRISTMAS.

THE season of peace and good will comes this year to the coal camps of Utah with much better grace than when it settled down a year ago over the militia forces of the state, encamped among sullen strikers who threatened the safety of the mines and their operators, as well as the future of the industry in Utah.

The output this year, while not strikingly greater than that of last year, has been immense. The total tonnage of all the state will reach approximately 1,750,000 tons. To mine this coal and ship it, close to 2,500 men have been at work. The standard coal mine law as it is rigidly enforced by both the operators and state inspector, has prevented any serious catastrophe like that at Scofield, which caused the new law into existence. Relations between the labor and capital employed in developing the coal mines have been entirely harmonious. Organized labor in Utah has had no plant on which to hang trouble, and had it not been for the arrival in Utah of a band of agitators from the striking Colorado camps, there never would have been a Christmas time of trouble to mar the record of Utah's mining growth.

The Carbon county mines, belonging to the Utah Fuel company, are the most extensive in the state. Its output this year totals 1,568,329 tons, which is close to a record run for a single year.

Next in importance come the mines in Summit county, where the Grass Creek Coal company have mined about 30,000 tons, furnishing employment to 50 persons. At the same camp the Weber Coal company has been operating to the extent of 28,000 tons for the year, with a list of wage earners of about 50 men.

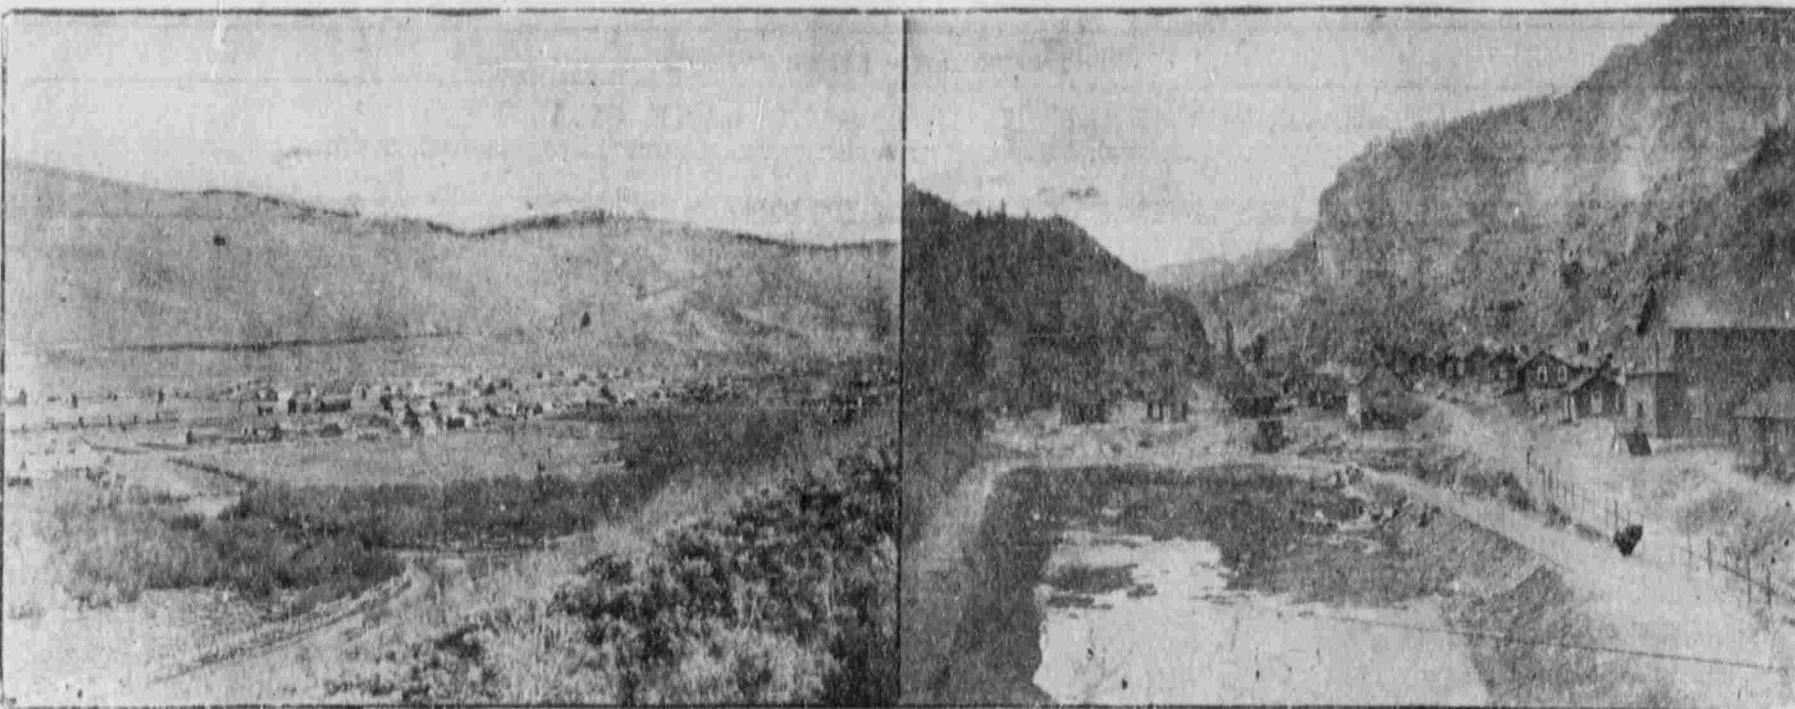

In Sanpete county the Sterling Coal & Coke company has developed extensive coal beds, and mined perhaps 10,000 tons as the year's output.

The Kemmerer Coal company is developing coal lands in Emery county, but as yet has not secured definite results from its efforts, owing to the difficult transportation facilities.

UTAH FUEL CO.'S OPERATIONS.

At its Carbon county mines the Utah Fuel company will close the year, with a prosperous and satisfactory run.

The employees of the company will number more than 2,176 men on the

What More Can Salt Lake City People Ask For?

When old-time residents and highly-respected people of Salt Lake City make such statements as the following, it must carry conviction to every reader:

Oswald Knight, retired, of 624 West Fourth South, says: "I am 77 years of age and hardly expect any medicine to have the same effect upon me as if the tissues of my body responded to it as they would have responded when I was a younger man, so that I do not want my old friends and acquaintances in Salt Lake City to think that Dean's Kidney Pills, procured at the F. Hill Drug Co., are really composed of gravel and bladder trouble attacks of which I had had for years and from which I have suffered excruciatingly, but I want to thoroughly impress upon the reader that they have brought me undoubted relief, and relief to anyone afflicted with the above mentioned ailments is decidedly welcome. I need not go into the particulars of the symptoms of gravel and kidney complaint. They are only too evident to the sufferer. What is of even more importance is, if not to stop them absolutely, how to at least lessen their attacks until suffering is scarcely noticeable. Let me say that Dean's Kidney Pills can be taken with every confidence that they will act exactly as represented."
