He says if the Tammany Hall general committee wants reform in the city now they shall have it if the police department can give it to them. It was expected that Tammany would, to-day, formally prefer charges against Charlick, and demand his removal by Mayor Havemeyer. The charges are that gross frauds were committed in certain districts, that inspectors of election were changed when thought necessary to defeat certain candidates, that policemen were used before and on the day of election to intimidate voters, and that even street sweepers were dismissed from the employ of the city where they were thought to be friendly to the candidates. It is also said that serious charges will be made against police superintendent Matsell, with regard to his management and alleged manipulations of the election returns, using the police force to effect his purpose. A curious phase of this fight is—it is alleged that commissioner Charlick owes his place on the police board to John Morrissey, and that he could not have been confirmed without his consent, and was only put in nomination by the Mayor after Morrissey had been consulted.

OUR COUNTRY COTEMPORARIES.

The Corinne Reporter of Nov. 7th thus recapitulates and summarizes its views of the anti-"Mormon" ring—

1st. The ring is unprincipled, and has in many cases betrayed the trusts reposed in it by Uncle Sam.

2d. Some of the Judges think a deuced sight more of a $10 subsidy than of equity.

3d. Many members are incompetent and wholly unable to manage their own offices.

4th. In order to root up the statutes of Utah, some are cried down which Illinois and other States have adopted.

5th. The ring is a set of adventurers, depending wholly on government pap, many members of which have made brilliant failures in other places. It has nothing, therefore, to lose by pursuing a course which would be ruinous to property holders.

6th. The ring is not trying to enhance Utah, but by a black-mailing process to better its own impecuniosity.

7th. The ring has fought Corinne and northern Utah for many years, and has kept from us offices that were necessary for the development of this part of the Territory.

The Reporter then asks the following questions—

Why did most of the ring seek for the removal of the Governor when he refused to call on Camp Douglas to defend Commercial street harlots?

Why was not a petition gotten up to remove McKean for incompetency, when about every attorney in the city expressed his desire to sign it if another would but head the list?

Why is it that harlots, gambling, and retailing of "pizen" is universally defended by the ring there, simply because the Mormons want a better state of morals?

Why is it, if the Mormons are as bad as represented, that the ring object to investigation? Do they fear that their own palpable faults will be detected?

Why is it that they want unbridled power given to the Judges who they privately acknowledge to be utterly incompetent, and so unprincipled as to do anything for "the cause?"

The following items are from the same paper—

At Logan eggs are selling at thirty-six cents a dozen.

Potatoes were selling from the wagon this morning at thirty-five cents a bushel.

The Utah Northern brought down four car-loads of grain this morning.

The Indians are strutting about with new blankets at the expense of the Government. New wearing apparel has the same effect on the female mind the world over, and a squaw throws on as many airs with a few yards of cheap calico, as a full-rigged girl of the period of the white race.

It is the earnest desire of the Indian commission that our merchants refrain from trafficking for the government goods just distributed. They have enough now to last them till spring, but the poor thoughtless devils would barter the last one in a week if our merchants would offer them any encouragement. Don't cheat the untutored sons of the forest, gentlemen.
