Falling Off in Tourists-J. K. Gil-Falling Off in Tourists—J. K. Gillespie has returned from a California trip. He reports Los Angeles as rushing ahead at great speed, the husiness section of the city being pushed ahead faster than the residence part. Immense great buildings are being crected, five of them having 3,000 offices, which will take care of a great deal of business. Mr. Gillespie noted the lessened number of winter residents from the east, only half of the number of the preceding season being there at present. He found the interurban roads doing an immense traffic bringing in people from 20 traffic, bringing in people from 20 and 30 miles into Los Angeles. Mr Gillespie returns deeply impressed with the growing importance of southern California.

CHILD'S LIFE SAVED BY CHAM-BERLAIN'S COUGH REMEDY.

Mrs. John Englehardt, of Gera, Mich., tells of the anxious moments spent over her little two-year-old daughter who had taken a hard cold resulting in croup. She says: "I am satisfied that if it had not been for Chamberlain's Cough Remedy she would have choked to death. I gave this medicine every ten minutes and she soon began to throw up the phlegm. I can recommend it in the highest terms as I have another child that was cured in the-same way." Sold by all druggists.

PIONEER REMINISCENCES.

Bishop H. B. Clawson Entertains Daughters of Utah Pioneers.

The Daughters of Utah Pioneers het yesterady in the Lion House, the meeting being opened with prayer and the singing of a hymn. The event of the after son, on "Pioneer Reminiscences," his subect commencing with the exodus of the Mormon people from Nauvoo, the begin son, on "Pioneer Reminiscences," his subject commencing with the exodus of the Mormon people from Nauvoo, the beginning of that memorable pilgrimage, and incidents from the start acress the plains to the entrance to the valley which was to be a Mecca for followers of their faith for generations to come.

Hishop Clawson related the hardships endured by the people; told how many were without wagons for the journey and had to manufacture them in the best way that offered using leather for thes, poles for cross trees, and anything to be gotten hold of for wagon boxes. He said that when the people started from Nauvoo the Missouri was covered with ice, as if for their especial aid in crossing, as they had no boats, nor means of transporting the inhabitants to the other side. He said this reezsing was an unusual thing at the time of the year, and the people looked upon it as almost a miracle. Many incidents of the journey recalled the same conviction, for though the trials were many in that long, weartsome journey across the desert, yet at times of most frying need some avenue of help opened to tide them over.

He gave a vivid recital of the call of the Morman Battallon to aid in the Mexican war at a time when their presence and help was most needed by the little band of refugees, and the parting of fathers, husbands and brothers from families not knowing if they would meet again. He related incidents of the camp after they had departed when the labor devolved upon the few men left of defending the camp, caring for women and children, etc.; among them how when rivers had to be forded the men had to go back and forth many times carrying the women as well as the sick and helpless, who could not wade. The first danger of the long march he sick and helpless, who could not wade. The first danger of the long march he said was from the Indians, and the next from the buffalo, which raced the prairies in great heards, destroying all in their path. He said at one time on the march the people were out of provisions, especially i ishing food for the camp for two or three days.

The speaker related other interesting incidents of the march, the most touching being that of the feeling of the tired band when they first came in view of the promised lond. Tears were in his eyes as he told of the joy and thanks; iving of all as they gazed out over the valley, and knew the long pligrimage was done.

During his remarks the speaker stepped while a quartet of children and grand-children of the pleneers sang one of the old songs which gave cheer to the people in the days of hardship and toil.

Following him, two picheer women, Mrs. Decker and Mrs. Druce, related personal memories of the old days, adding to the interest of the talk that had gone before. At the close of the session Elder Seymour B. Young entered with the news that Senator Reed Smoot, who is a son of one of Utah's pioneers, had been retained by vote of the United States senate. He also gave the closing prayer.

Several new members were admitted and the meeting adjourned to convenath two weeks at the study system when the topic will be "The Conquest of Mexico."

The interest in the society and the sub-ject of vesterday's meeting was manifest-ed in the large guthering which over-flowed th escelety's rooms, a number of strangers to the city being present.

"THE RENEGADE JEW."

Bert Levy Scores the Hebrew Who Denies His Faith.

The Salt Lake Hebrew colony is deeply isappointed because Bert Levy, the New York Telegraph cartoonist and magazine illustrator, will not follow his usual cus-tem and lecture here. From the stage,

York Telegraph cartoonist and magazine filustrator, will not follow his usual custem and lecture here. From the stage, during his vaudeville work, the artist never utters a word, and much popularity has been excited by his pencil. His Orpneum engagement compels him to jump to Denver on Saturday night and accordingly his lectures on ghettq life will not be delivered. In an interview this typical Bohemian artist, who laughingly calls himself "the wandering Jew." said:

"I have no rabbinical degrees and I lay no claim to the power of oratory. I do not claim the privilege of lecturing my fellow Jews. The only thing I do claim is that I have endeavored in many cities to have the people I come in contact with think a little better of the Jew. I would not presume to lecture upon the religious aspect of our faith. The rabbi does that far more capably than I can ever hope to do, but I do claim an overpowering love or my fellow Jew, and the traditions, history, remance and the art of the Jew.

"There is nothing so despicable as a man who, with a face like Moses, denies that he is a Jew, and one of the grandest traits of the people in this vast republic is that they atterly detest the man who denies his faith. America is the place for the struggier. In this country the people care not whether a man is a Jew, Gentile, Chinaman or anything clae so long as he can "deliver the goods." The ostrich-like behavior of the Jew who changes his name, so that he can can do business with the Gentile is riddeulous, for he deceives no one but himself.

"Feople like that get all the hard knocks. Let me drag in the quotation: They may deny their Moses, but they can't deny their noses."

Mr. Levy spoke very feelingly upon the fact that Judaism bridges the gulfs of country and custom. He described with the Gentile is riddeulous, for he deceives no one but himself.

HILTON-PARK GASE IS AGAIN IN COURT

Another Chapter Added to the Real Estate Transactions That Are Involved.

FINE HOTEL FOR LOWER MAIN RECOVER THIRD INTEREST.

Mrs. Hilton Brings Action Against May C. Beamer et al Who Purchased the Property.

Another chapter of the famous Hilton-Park case was added yesterday when Mrs. Annie F. A. Hilton filed suit in the district court against May C. Bearner, Sophie N. McCready, J. M. Smith, Virginia Ernest, A. M. Anderson and wife, and Fred L. Stauffer and wife, to recover a one-third interest in the real estate sold to them by Dr. John R. Park. Mrs. Hilton was adjudged by the supreme court to be the legal widow of Dr. Park by reason of a "celestial marriage" to him at the time she was supposed to be on her death bed. As such willow the supreme court holds that she is entitled to her dower interest in all of his real property. Several other actions have been brought by Mrs. Hilton to recover her dower interest and she has thus far been successful in her efforts.

COURT NOTES

Suit has been filed in the district court by H. B. Clark against Lorenzo Price et al., to quiet title to the waters of a spring located on lot 11, block 11, five-acre plat A, big field survey.

T. H. Stephens & Co. has filed an attachment suit in the district court against Henry W. Weller and D. C. Williams to recover $598 alleged to be due on a promissory note executed by defendants on July 31, 1895.

An action has been file, in the district cour by C. O. Dunshee against B. W. Mayo to compel the cancellation of a deed to certain lots in Westminster Heights sold by plaintiff to defendant. It is alleged that the defendant has broken his contract in regard to the purchase of the property in that he has falled to creet a $1,000 house on the lots as agreed in the deed. In addition to the cancellation of the deed plaintiff asks judgment for $1,000 as damages for breach of contract of sale.

Suit for divorce has been filed in the district court by Elizabeth M. Budgett against Henry H. Budgett on the grounds of desertion and nonon the grounds of described and hon-support. They were married in Kanssa on July 20, 1835, and have four chil-dren. When last heard from Budgett was in Chicago and for several years past he has failed to support his fam-ily. bureau at Washington has published a pamphlet contradicting the now growing belief that the Salton sea is proving a good thing for the southwest country. The professor says:

"There is a growing belief in the extreme southwest, and possibly in other parts of the country, that the creation of the Salton sea is, in a large part, responsible for the heavy rains of the last two years, not only in Arizona, but also in the Rocky mountain states, and thence eastward over the plains. So strong is this belief that some persons have gone so far as to publicly advocate the maintenance of the Salton sea.

"The amount of vapor taken into the air over the Salton sea must be considerable during the course of a year, but to adduce definite and satisfactory proof that it has increased the rainfall is a very difficult problem. That it has increased the right is a slight measure, is undoubtedly true, Aqueous vapor, in the absence of a strong wind circulation, is diffused very slowly throughout the atmosphere. It is, therefore, improbable that any considerable portion of the local supply of vapor ever passes beyond the immediate confines of the desert. The writer knows of but one case where this is a reasonable presumption that the local evaporation has increased the rainfall, and the increase in this case amounts to but two or three inches ahuually over the immediate area whence the evaporation proceeds."
