THERMOMETER 56 degrees F.
The shade at 1 p.m. to-day. Fine, few clouds, breezy.

On the Way.—President Young and party left St. George yesterday in the home trip to this city.

Obituary.—We publish to-day a bituary of Elder Levi E. Ritten-berger recently deceased. It is exceedingly interesting; showing that the life of the deceased was considerably more than ordinarily eventful.

Indian Degredation.—The following came in to-day—

“Fairview, Utah,
April 19, 1907.”

“It is reported by an Indian in down to-day, that two herdsmen have been killed by Indians and a herd of about twenty-five hundred cattle driven off. Measures are being taken to ascertain the truth of the statement.”

Hunting His Horse.—On Saturday night a youth, named Godfrey Berger, of South Cottonwood, attended a party in Mill Creek Ward.
After getting through with the festivities he discovered that someone had bad, while he was in the building, stolen his horse and saddle, which he has been unsuccessfully trying hunting ever since. The horse is black, six years old, with two white feet.

Godfrey is in tribulation about his horse, and if anybody should see an animal answering the description of his, he would like to be informed about it.

St. George.—Elder N. H. Felt, who returned on Sunday morning from St. George, informs us that the Temple exceeds in external ad-ornamental beauty even the highest externals he had indulged in concerning it. The first glimpse of the building obtained by the traveler as he approaches the city from the north is strikingly pleasant. It looks as if it had suddenly dropped down in its beauty and purity, upon the desert, from above.

At the Conference a great many old-time Latter-day Saints were gathered, numbers of whom, of long acquaintance, Elder Felt had not seen for a period of from ten to fifty years. The feeling during the Conference was excellent. He relates that the health of President Young has been very good of late, and he is in most cheerful spirits.

District Court.—Monday, April 16th, afternoon.

A defaulting juror was fined $25; he was subsequently reprimanded and the order countermanded.

Joseph B. Morgan was excused for not being a citizen of the United States.

Eleven additional names were ordered to be drawn to serve as trial jurors.

The People vs. John B. Crowley vs. James F. McCormick assigned a attorney for defendant; jury being summoned.

Tuesday, April 17th, morning.

The People vs. John A. Nelson indicted for murder.

By order of the Court, ten additional names were drawn from their jury box, the parties to serve as jurors on the above entitled cause.

Further consideration of the case was deferred until to-morrow morning at 9 o'clock.

A Murderous Attack.—At one o'clock yesterday afternoon Mr.
John Longmald, superintendent of the Old Telegraph Mine, West Johnson, was on his way to dinner, and when approaching the bridge that crosses the river near that point, he saw a man named C. Crowley sitting on his feet, leveled the weapon on his feet, leveled the weapon close to Mr. Longmald's head, saying with a profane imprecation, “What will you discharge me?” Mr. Long-mald seized the pistol, and at the same instant the hammer fell upon his finger, thus probably saving his life. The ruffian then seized his around the neck and a desperate struggle commenced, Crowley escorting with all his strength to throw Mr. Longmald into the river and had no assistance or opportunity arrived at the proper moment, it probable that both would have been precipitated into the stream and be-drowned. Some men, however, rushed up and took Crowley off his intended victim, the latter by the time having wrested the pistol from the ruffian. Mr. Longmald then said to Crowley, “Your life is now in my hands, but I will not take it,” and proceeded to a neighboring boarding house, where he was subsequently followed by Crowley in search of another victim, but, to avoid further trouble, Mr. Longmald left.

Complaint having been filed against Crowley, and a warrant issued, Constable Samuel Bateman was soon on track of him, but he proved by no means a tame constable to take. Armed with a bullet proof knife, and with one hand behind him, as if to draw a pistol, he told the officer if he advanced another step he would drop him. The constable, seeing that he could not take the fellow alone without hurting or killing him, procured assistance, and, after a hot and lively chase, captured him, and even when the officer had a gun levelled on him he invited him to fire.

After arrest Crowley was taken before Justice R. L. Oakes, who after examination, fixed his bond to await the action of the grand jury, at $1,000, in default of which he was committed to prison. The Constable brought him to town today.

for brush-making were presented to the Museum to-day, by Mr. Thomas C. Jones, of the 10th Ward. Mr. Jones is of the opinion that valuable fibre may be obtained from Southern Utah, which would do away with the importation of brush-making material of the same kind. He states that Mr. A. L. Siler had collected excellent fibre somewhere near Toquerville, and that Mr. Robert Marshall, now residing at Orderville, is giving considerable attention to fibres of "Ogts," and has a view to its introduction as a substitute for Mexican brush-making fibre. It is to be hoped that the persons named will be successful in obtaining these aids to home manufacture.

Returned Missionary.—We received a call to-day from Elder John Robinson, of Coalville, who returned from a mission to England on the 3rd inst. He left here for Britain on the 8th of May, 1876, and while in that country he labored for three years. He returned to the Conference, then in the Birmingham Conference, subsequently returned to Newcastle, where he remained until his release to return home. He returned in company with Elder Jabez W. Taylor, who was in ill health. Elder Robinson states that he enjoyed his mission greatly.

Stormy.—Last evening, just before dark, the long-needed and long-threatened storm broke over this city. One blaze of lightning lit some hall and considerable rain. The ground has received a refreshing soaking, vegetation looks revived and the atmosphere has been decidedly delightful to-day.

Woman's Exponent for April 1st.—Contains "Welcome to Spring," "A True Tale of the Past and Present," "R. S. Reports," "Good Works," "Women Physicians," "In Season and Out of Season," "The Conference," "Bitter Sweetness," "Lullaby," "Mistake," "Prejudice," "Woman's Wisdom and Virtue," "Why Editors Do Not Commit Suicide," etc.

From Conference.—This morning we were pleased to receive a visit from Apostle F. D. Richards and Bishop Wm. Budge. Their arrival from St. George yesterday evening accompanied by Elders Franklin S. Richards, Charles Nibley, and Joseph A. West.

Prompt Reports.—It would gratify our readers and oblige us if reports of local conferences, meetings, etc., were sent to us as promptly as possible, so that they might be published or noticed in the News without unnecessary delay.

Theatre.—Box office open to-morrow for sale of seats for the Nelson performances.

OBITUARY OF ELDER LEVI E. RITER.

Elder Levi Evans Riter, son of Michael Riter and Elizabeth (Nield); was born January 1st, 1805, in Chester Co., Pa., was of German descent, on his father's side. His grandfather, Michael Riter, came from Saxony, settled in Pennsylvania, and laid down his life for the cause of American independence, he having been taken prisoner by British troops, near Philadelphia, placed on board a prison ship, and died of starvation. His father, Michael Riter, was killed in Philadelphia, accidentally, in 1820, leaving a large family, all boys. Levi Riter learned the millwright trade, at which he worked in his native land, until 1840, when he married Rebecca W. Dilworth. He first heard the gospel preached by Bishop E. D. Woolley and others in 1839. In 1843 he went to Nauvoo to visit the Prophet Joseph Smith, and on his return to Pennsylvania, where he remained engaged, part of the time, in store-keeping, he was called to come to this time he was baptized by Elder Julian Moses. With his family he moved, the same spring, to Nauvoo, to join the main body of the church, there he continued to preach, and was persecuted. After fitting up his store there, he continued his course, with a company of the Saints, across the State of Iowa and Illinois, with the church at Winona, where he was called to the first of the quarters now called Florence, Nebraska. Here he was ordained a bishop, and set to preside over a ward, containing a large number of Saints, and was called to the 1st Mormon Battalion, who were in the State of utter destitution. These were the first scenes of misery and destitution he had ever seen, and he frequently wept over the sad condition of these people. Coming into the church with considerable means he spent a large amount of his substance in feeding the poor families slaved to. In the spring of 1847 he moved, with the church, to the State of Iowa, where he was situated near where the Hon. Wm. H. Hooper's residence now stands. In the fall of 1848 he went to the ship Brooklyn, in charge of Samuel Brannan. He braved the dangers of this journey to California alone, the crew of the ship being lost in the wilderness. Late in 1849 he returned from California. On his way home, he was attacked in the night by a band of Indians, who killed his oxen only. He and his companion separated in the night, and each thought the other killed. He was distressed about the country there saw a light, and was about to quit, when he was overtaken by a band of Indians, and subsisting on rawbuck, he finally fell on a small squad of emigrants, having eight guns. They were attacked again by a large number of Indians, and stood until their ammunition was exhausted and some of their party killed. The remainder made their escape. A few days later a company of Saints from California came to him, and he was informed of his means, and he, with the emigrants, came with them to Salt Lake.

In 1855 he went on a mission to Europe and returned in 1853. In the spring of 1854 he was sent, with others, to found a colony in Carson Valley, and again revisited California. He returned the following year, and was again sent to Europe next spring and returned again with the others, who were recalled on account of the troubles in California. In the foregoing travels he crossed Description of the Melo-Dramatic Surrender of the Hostile Indians.

CAMP ROBINSON, Neb., 18.—On the 14th inst. the village of Sioux, previously mentioned as coming in with Spotted Tail, surrendered to Gen. Crook at the Spotted Tail Agency. The village now numbered about 1,000 persons, made up of men and Minneconjous, under "Roman Nose" and other chiefs. The Indians asked permission to approach the agency in a style commonly used by them upon entering a friendly village, which was granted them.

About ten o'clock the warriors, to the number perhaps of 300, made a regular charge against the soldiers from several directions, yelling and firing their pieces in the air.

At 11 o'clock the main village laid past the Post and went into camp on a point designated by the agent. About thirty of the principal chiefs and head men rode in line into the fort, advancing slow up the parade ground to the commanding officer's quarters, where they received orders to the left to face General Crook, to whom they were presented by Spotted Tail.

The son of "Long Horn" first fired, and laying his gun down on the ground, said, "I lay down this gun in token of submission to General Crook, to whom I wish to surrender." The chiefs all shook hands with General Crook and rode away to put their people in camp.

On the 15th instant a council was held in which the Indians were told what would be required of them, if they wished to remain. They said that their professions of peace were sincere, and this is fully credited by all who saw them.

They turned over to the agent up to 1,490 ponies and horses, and also their arms, the exact number could not ascertain, but the collection embraced many carabines taken in the Custer massacre. In many instances the horse brought in are well bred animals. And General Crook has given orders to spare no pains in the recovery of such things.

In the afternoon the peaceable Indians gave the new comers a feast, and we had an opportunity of witnessing the famous "Omaha Dance."

Five hundred Cheyennes are to leave Hat Creek to-night, and are expected here the day after to-morrow. They notified General Crook some days ago of their intention to surrender.

Tweed's Contention Will Sicken the Public Conscience.

NEW YORK, 17.—

Wheeler H. Peckham, counsel for the people against Tweed, says it is true that Tweed made a statement to Albany last night by which he was shown to have committed perjury. He says it contains things he knows are correct.

The Express confirms the commission, and says it is but a partial revelation of the facts. The full commission will even more sicken the public conscience.

Arrest of Counterfeiters.

WASHINGTON, 17.—The officers of the secret service have made important arrests of counterfeiters at Pottsville, Penn., St. Louis and Wheeling, West Virginia, to-day.

Among the arrested is Hon. Thos. V. Marlon, of Green County, Pa., who formerly represented that county in the legislature. He sold counterfeit money to an agent of the service, and represented that he had frequently addressed the United States House of Representatives with his pockets full of counterfeit money. The other parties arrested are Rufus Mitchell, W. T. Stroeder, J. J. Edwards, Peter Rogers and Giovanni Gerogetto.

Supreme Court Decision on the Eight Hour System.

CHICAGO, 17.—

The Journal's Washington special says the Supreme Court have decided that the law for governing eight hours for day laborers and factory employees is merely a direction by the government to its agents and not a contract with the laborers, the Secretary of the Interior has announced this decision, and directing the officers not to pay, hereafter, ten hours wages for eight hours work, and the order given by President Grant that eight hours for the same day's work, be enforced, and no additional pay be allowed those who work longer than eight hours.

FOREIGN.

TURKEY.

The Montenegro Delegates.

An official communication contradicts the rumor that the government contemplate proclaiming a state of siege in Constantinople or any other place in the Empire.

GERMANY.

Specie Increase.

BERLIN, 17.—The statement of the Imperial Bank shows an increase of nearly seven millions of marks during the week.

Austria the Annual Summon—The Russian Embassy.

The Soviet Office states that the Emperor to the German recruits reading abroad to rejoin their regiments only the usual annual summons issued every year, and is not connected with political affairs. A Constantinople dispatch says the Russian embassy will leave there next Thursday. The Czar comes to Kischineff on the same day.

FRANCE.

Friendly Relations between France and Germany.

PARIS, 17.—Several journals say the rumors about the alleged unfriendly relations between France and Germany, since the recent Convention calling the Italian Government, is wholly groundless. The relations between the two governments remain, so before the eastern crisis, entirely peaceful.

GREAT BRITAIN.

Prussian Concepts.

LONDON, 17.—

The concepts of the Prussian army, located in England, have received orders to join their respective regiments.

Ogden Junction, April 18.— A smart shower this morning refreshes the growing plants and beds, and laid the dust which fell before the wind yesterday in dense clouds. The recent blasts have laid up the ground and evoked a general wish for rain.

Nine car loads of emigrants for the West arrived here last evening.
At night time look out for lots of ice counters scattered back on the track they rode over, yesterday.
Emigrants are over-doing California.

Senator Sargent arrived here from Washington, and proceeded on his journey to the coast. We hope the Californians will send him back to the Senate, of which he has been one of the ablest members.

To-day the editor resumes his labors on the Junction, and though absent at present to occupy his post at the office, is so far recovered as to be able to write if not to walk.
In assuming the active duties of his position, he takes pleasure in acknowledging the services of Mr.
Joseph Hall, who, as editor ad in- terim, has given the public evidence of his abilities, and placed this writer under grateful obligations. In a short time we hope to renew our local column moni-torship, and make it more interesting than is possible during your absence from the business part of town, and ask the further indulgence of our Ogden readers for a little season.

DOG TAX.

The attention of owners and keepers of dogs within the corporation limits of Salt Lake City is directed to the following extracts from Chapter XXI of the Revised Endorsements of said city—

RELATING TO DOGS.

SECTION 1.—Be it ordained by the City Council of Salt Lake City, that it shall not be lawful for any person to own or keep a dog within the limits of the city without making application to the City Recorder for that purpose, and shall pay to said Recorder, for the benefit of the city, an annual tax of three dollars.
The Recorder shall register the ap-plicant's name and a description of the dog, and give to said applicant certificate of registry. Any person found violating this section shall be liable to a fine in any sum not less than three nor more than ten dollars for each offence.

SEC. 2.—All dogs so registered, shall wear a suitable collar, with the owner's name and initials of the number inscribed thereon, together with the number corresponding with the certificate of registry, and if dogs found at large not registrated, shall be liable to be killed by any person.
SEC. 5. * * * * *

Whereas (City) Marshal is hereby authorized to cause the destruction of all dogs not registered according to the provisions of this ordinance.

As it is made my duty to see that the foregoing is enforced, all persons owning or keeping unregistered dogs, or dogs whose terms of registration have expired, will take due notice and govern themselves accordingly.
